When Buying a Piano

THE most important thing to consider when buying a piano is who made it. Is the maker an experienced piano maker?

You can't tell much about a piano by just looking at it. You can't tell about its lasting qualities by playing on it a few times, BUT you can tell everything about a piano if you know the record of the maker.

Bird's eye view showing the enormous plant of Gerhard Heintzman, Limited, grown to these proportions through the merits of their planes. The small building shows where the first eight Gerhard Heintzman planes were made entirely by Mr. Gerhard Heintzman himself.

For nearly half a century the "Gerhard Heintzman" pianos have held the place of honor as "Canada's best piano," a record gained entirely through merit; the makers, whose lives have been spent in manufacturing pianos, can salely say that no piano of even medium grade has ever left their factory; the "best possible" has been and is their motto, so that the wonderful growth of the "Gerhard Heintzman" factory, as evidenced by the above picture, is only a fitting tribute of Canadians to their favorite high-grade piano.

Our exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition this year will again have special features in art pianos.

Ecnd for our new catalogue, so you can post yourself before visiting the Exhibition.
