TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

Venerable Anglin or Passes Away Veteran Orangeman Meets Violent Death

Rev. Canon Sanson Dead, Aged
85—William Durrell Killed
by Cutter on Jarvis St.

William Durrell, a well-known character in the city, and one of the oldest Orangemen in Canada, was killed yesterday afternoon at Jarvis-street and Wilton-avenue. He attempted to cross the street, and in avoiding one rig, was knocked down by another. He received an ugly wound on the forehead, which caused his death. Whether he was struck by the shaft of the cutter or the horse's hoof is not known; either would have caused the injury. Deceased has lived for a number of years with Madame Mendon, a phenologist, at 500 Ontario street. After the accident the body was taken into the residence of George Saunders, 387 Ontario-street, who lives opposite Madame Mendon. After the old man was knocked down, the driver of the rig whipped his horse and drove away at a rapid rate, without waiting to see the harm he had done. He is supposed to be Thomas McMullen of Toronto.

Durrell was a picturesque figure. He was known by sight to thousands, although he did not know his name. His long gray beard and hair, and red, classic features made many a person turn around and look at him the second time as they passed him on the street. He resembled very much the late Walt Whitman, the American poet.

An Enthusiastic Orangeman.
He was an enthusiastic Orangeman and a member of Brunswick Lodge. He has not missed an Orange parade in years. A back has always been provided for him in later years. As he rode along he would carry proudly in his hand a bunch of orange lilies. Of all the days in the year, the 12th of July was the day for him.

Mr. Durrell was born at St. Helier, Jersey, Channel Islands, where his two sisters are still living. He was educated at the University of London. He had no relatives in this country, as far as known. He was an expert in teaching French. He had to give up his pupils some years ago because of a catarrh in one eye. A short time ago he was treated for this eye, and the body was lying in the house of a stranger, who took it in out of kindness, rather than to take it to the morgue. The accident happened at 6 o'clock.

Edicated in Paris.
The deceased was familiarly called "Daddy" Durrell. Born in Jersey Island, eighty-four years ago, he lived until about 20 years of age, when he went to Paris University, where he learned French. He was a native of the island, and his native tongue, became an exceedingly good Englishman. He was a professor at the university, where he was the father of the late Lord Dunsany. He finally returned to Jersey and renewed old acquaintances. Among them was the father of the late Lord Dunsany. He finally returned to Jersey and renewed old acquaintances. Among them was the father of the late Lord Dunsany.

When Mr. Durrell was about 55 years of age, his wife having died and his sons having left him, he came to England, he came to America. On his arrival in Toronto, one of the first men he met was an Orangeman, who was attached to Lodge 781. Soon after his arrival he was made president of the Conservative Order, and the Grand Secretary of the Orange Order. For a number of years he had been chaplain of 781. For the last couple of years he has been very infirm and had been very sick to support himself. He was continually walking around on one end of the year to the morning.

He posed for a great many pictures, and one is to be seen in the Normal School, where it is hung on the wall just as an example of the grand old painting and very fine work.

OLDEST CLERGYMAN DEAD.
Canon Alexander Sanson, the veteran and venerable rector of Little Trinity church, who has been steadily failing during the past three weeks, died at his home last evening at 8 o'clock. His end was quiet, and after a brief period of consciousness, he peacefully passed away. The members of the family who survive him are three sons and one daughter—Norman of Banff, John of Toronto, Dr. Robert Sanson of Calgary and Mrs. Canon Greese of Orillia. The funeral will be held on Monday, and interment will take place in St. James' Cemetery. It is expected that the body will lie in state in Trinity Church for a few hours before the funeral. Memorial services will be held in the church tomorrow.

Convent for Country Churches.
St. John's Church, Weston, after three years' satisfactory experience with the Royal High School, and at other institutions in his native city. He moved to Canada in 1883, and lived at Orillia, where he studied preparatory to entering the ministry. When, in 1887, the Mackenzie rebellion broke out, he became lieutenant of a company of volunteers to aid in the suppression of the rebels. The rebellion for the more peaceful surplus and engaged in lay missionary work in New Ontario. Even at that early date there were settlers around South St. Marie and in Manitoulin Island. After four years' work in the northern settlements, Mr. Sanson returned to Toronto, and on May 8, 1892, he was ordained.

Plan to Entangle Japan In Russian Inigue Web

Russia's Reply Proposes to Transfer Seat of Negotiations to St. Petersburg.

London, Jan. 8.—According to The Daily Mail's Tokyo correspondent the Russian reply proposes among other things to transfer the seat of negotiations to St. Petersburg, and the Japanese newspapers denounce this as a manoeuvre to entangle Japan in the web of Russian intrigue. The correspondent adds that the officers of the Japanese steamship Shimo Maru, which left Port Arthur Jan. 4, report that there were then 80 warships and five battleships outside the harbor. Dr. Sproule is proceeding night and day in the western portion of the harbor. Owing to the breakwater the port is almost landlocked.

Emperor of Korea Vacillating.
The correspondent says that the Emperor of Korea is vacillating and unable to adopt a definite policy. The Emperor is greatly reassured by the receipt of a memorial from the Korean officials, declaring that there is no danger of war, and that the Japanese are preparing to attack the United States and Japan, and that the Japanese are preparing to attack the United States and Japan.

Japanese Emperor Attended.
Other telegrams to The Daily Mail state that the Japanese Emperor attended a cabinet council on Friday, which sat for several hours. It is supposed that Japan's reply to Russia may have been drafted for submission to the council of the elder statesmen, and the minister of foreign affairs, who is expected to assemble today at the Imperial Palace. The Emperor attended by his staff and accompanied by the Japanese minister of foreign affairs, who is expected to assemble today at the Imperial Palace.

HEARS OF A BATTLE.
London, Jan. 8.—The correspondent of The Daily Express at Kobe sends a telegram to the effect that a battle is in progress between the Japanese and the Russians.

LIBERAL WON FROM UNIVIST.
London, Jan. 8.—The by-election in the Ashburton or Middle division of Devonshire yesterday to fill the Liberal vacancy in the House of Commons resulted in the return of the Liberal candidate, H. T. Fox, by a majority of 1476, over the Unionist candidate, General Sir Richard Haldane, who was otherwise attributed to opposition to Chamberlain's tariff proposals.
