Efforts were made here to secure authority to raise another section in Military District No. 1, but replies came back that the same conditions existed elsewhere, namely, that the sections were over strength everywhere with one or two exceptions. It may be possible later, if the recoming at Toronto or McGill Universi-cies to fill up their quotas, to secure permission to raise another section here. But just now there seems little likelihood of any more men from here gaining admittance to the 1st Tank Battalion, Canadian Machine Gun

Ottawa's barrage of regulations-food, coal, tax and military service-effectually cuts off many from future enjoyments and pleasures and the anticipations thereof, but possibly none will be affected so greatly by the sugar order, in effect today, as those who enjoyed the church bazaar and the old-fashioned tea meeting. According to the manufacturing baker, one big saving in the sugar regulations will come through the sugar regulations will come through the women's organizations and church affairs, for 80 per cent of the cakes made for these functions are iced, and the manufacturers point out the fact that the average housewife uses up far more sugar in this icing than would a baker or confectioner. or confectioner.

Ice cream flends will have to double the quantity this year if they are to secure the same amount of butter-fat as before. Some local manufacturers claim to have used as high a percentage as 35 of butter-fat in their ice cream. Under the new regulations 10 per cent will be the limit.

Lemon pies will have to be camouflaged under another top in restaurants from now on, for the meringue coverings are largely sugar, and as such are now taboo. cer of the board, gave evidence regarding the manner in which a man's disability is determined.

"Suppose a man, without suppressing the truth as to his condition, is passed as fit, although suffering from trouble of some kind at the time of enlistment, chould the state assume that the man should the state assume that the ma was fit?" asked W. F. Nickle of King

Col. Belton admitted that such a point was a good one, but the procedure was not followed by the pensions commissioners. He stated that it had been the custom for men to be taken in the army on a period of probation. During that time, if trouble is found, the man is discharged without a pension.
