NOTE AND COMMENT

While there seems to be no wild scramble among the Toronto curlers for places on the provincial team that is to represent Canada in Scotland next month, no difficulty is anticipated about signing the necessary quota. Perhaps it is because Lord Strathcona is paying $500 towards their expenses, and they do not want to be classed with the ordinary amateur tourists that they are holding forth, that then again, likely it is the natural modesty of the jolly brother of the beam. The selection by men to make a meeting to of the executive committee of the Ontario Curling Association.

Jim Sullivan and his friends may get away with some of the prize money of the time, but London Field and London Turley surely prove that their little exploitation at the Ontario games were shrewd to say the least of it. Henry Labouchere says in conclusion: "Next time there is a lying championship, I will back Kirby McCabe for first place, with Sullivan close up."

Sullivan is, first and last, a boss in amateur athletics, for personal and business reasons. Truth says: "It is pitiable that amateur athletics of a great nation should be bossed by men without truth or sportsmanship."

Danny Maher proved on Saturday that he is a versatile jockey. Not content with carrying away the prize of premier rider of England on the flat, he entered the ranks of the timber-toppers at Kempton Park and won the Stuyvesant Handicap on Daffia, the favorite. Seven horses ran. It was Maher's initial effort as a rider of jumpers. He is the only jockey of great prominence in England who has ever attempted the feat. But a New York writer remembers that Snapper Garrison, when only 16 years old, and weighing less than 90 pounds, rode a jumper named Monk at Brighton Beach. Garrison had won five races on the flat that afternoon. In order to round out his record, he was being returned to the league from which the player was drafted or purchased.

While France patriotically adheres to the part-mutual system of betting, right beside that republic the poorer classes to also like horse-racing, speaks out in favor of the public bookmaker. In Brussels the minister of justice has recently concluded after the betting question has been considerably discussed that it is immoral to permit the poorer classes to also like horse-racing, speaks out in favor of the public bookmaker. Under a cloak of a mutual operation. Consequently, he has denounced the system embodied in the "Totalizer" and claims to favor in wages is accepted. As a result, books are followed and signed by a delegate of the Belgian Jockey Club. Certain moral and financial considerations are required from those to whom they are issued, with the condition that books provided for them must contain the names of all betting transactions, and can also be recalled for examination at any moment by officials of the club.

To-Night's Wrestling Program
To-night at the Labor Temple in Church-street, near Shuter, a wrestling contest takes place between a champion of the New England States for the light-weight championship of Canada. The match is a catch-as-catch-can style, in which both men will be given at their best. Both men are in the best of condition, and a rousing bout is assured. Prior to the event three preliminaries will be held off, in which local wrestlers will contest, and which will assure quick action for the men only to work fifteen minutes in each affair for a decision.

Hockey Jones v. Billy Samuels—Decision to be given after fifteen minutes' wrestling, at lightweight limit.
Charles Deas v. Charles Mathison—Decision to be given after fifteen minutes' wrestling, at the welterweight limit.

Star bout: Artie Edmunds v. Young Roemer—Best three falls in five; for the lightweight championship of Canada.

British United Athletic Club.

The British United Club are holding a complimentary benefit concert for him on Wednesday at their club-rooms, 36 Parliament-street. There will be a good assortment of boxing and singing. All those who wish to see Billy Turley box for the first time in his career should come along. Any one of the local boxers wishing to give an exhibition bout will be made welcome.

Toronto Whist Club.
The weekly open game at the Toronto Whist Club, to which all whist players are welcome, will be held on Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Last week was the best attended of the season. Different clubs were represented, and the players accepted the invitation of Cannon winners, with plus 10 tricks, Be-harrell and Connolly plus 10, Kidd and Costello plus 9, and Galloway plus 7. Hand and Goodwin plus 5.

The fourth game in the members' series was won on Friday evening by Verrell and Leonard with a score of plus 5. No better whist evening can be obtained than by playing in the open game every Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

Bolting Baseball Leagues

Ask for Eight Concessions

National Commission Will Give the Eastern League and American Association Audience Wednesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The National Baseball Commission, to-day met with representatives of the Eastern League and of the American Association and took under advisement several requests formally made by the two latter named organizations.

These requests, or concessions, if granted, would be to the national body by H. J. Killilea of Milwaukee, and are as follows:

1. Authority to conduct the affairs of the Eastern League and American Association as a separate organization, under organized baseball, and under such regulations, rules and resolutions as the Commission shall from time to time adopt.

2. That the present national agreement between the Eastern League and American Association be modified so as to authorize and permit the American Association and Eastern League to draft players from all other leagues except the National and American Leagues; provided, however, that said leagues can draft but one man from Class A clubs of the National Association.

3. That the draft and purchase rule of the national agreement be so amended that the players purchased and drafted from leagues below the American Association and Eastern League be first offered to the American Association and Eastern League at the original draft price before being returned to the league from which the player was drafted or purchased.

4. That the national agreement of rules of the commission be so amended as to limit the number of players any club of either major league shall have under contract for reservation at any time to 25, and to limit the number of players under reservation to 20 after May 15 of each year.

5. That the Eastern League and American Association be permitted to draft from either minor league for a period of fifteen days, beginning at the expiration of the time fixed for drafting of players by major leagues, for the following consideration: Class A, $700; B, $600; C, $500; D, $400.

6. That the period during which the major leagues be permitted to draft from the American Association and Eastern League be limited to a period of 15 days, from Oct. 1 of each year.

7. That the national agreement be so amended as to permit the Eastern League and the American Association to draft from territory from which the Eastern League Clubs in the same manner as said rule now applies to major league clubs, with the further condition that no individual player can be sold more than once under an optional agreement.

8. After the paper had been read, Secretary of the National Association, asked that he be given until Wednesday morning to reply, and this was granted.

The Fighting Factions.
From beyond the mountains to take part in the deliberations of the American Association came George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City and Louisville clubs. E. H. Schenborn and Robert Quinn of Columbus; George B. Wild, Toledo; W. J. Watkins, Indianapolis; C. S. Haynes, Milwaukee; M. E. Santillon, Minneapolis; and J. J. O'Brien, president of the American Association.

The Eastern League was represented by P. T. Powers, president of the organization; Hugh Duffy, Providence; C. T. Chapin, Rochester; George Stallings, Newark; Robert Davis, New York; Eugene Kincaid, Jersey City; Edward Hanlon, Baltimore; A. B. Potter, Judge Hart, J. J. Stein, Greenboro, Buffalo; J. J. McCaffrey, Toronto; J. C. Hickson, C. Boyer and Lichtenstein, Montreal.

The members of the American Association and the Eastern League held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Victoria Hotel. A prominent figure in their deliberations was Henry Killilea, of Milwaukee, who was so conspicuous in the organization of the American League. Killilea has been engaged by the American Association and the Eastern League to assist in the presentation of the petition of the minor leagues to the national commission.

Sincere Presidents.
At a meeting the requests of the minor leagues were acting in perfect good faith, without entertaining the slightest notion of a power play by a desire to acquire freedom from restraints which are to be initiated by the American Association.

As a matter of fact, it would appear that the American Association and the Eastern League are more eager to be released from the pressure of the association of the minor leagues than they are to quarrel with the major leagues. The owners of the American and the Eastern League are the two largest and most important leagues in the minor group, make no effort to disguise the idea that they are in the position of the dog being wagged by the tail.

MADISON SQUARE BIKE GRIND

One Rider Has Collar Bone Broken—Leading Teams Stay Together.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Smashing all hour records, except the fifth, 16 teams kept up a terrific grail all night in the six-day international bicycle race, which began four minutes after midnight at Madison Square Garden this morning.

The racers eased up a little at the fifth hour and were five laps behind the record, but by continuous sprinting during the last hour they established the new figures of 163 miles 5 laps, which is 9 laps ahead of Elkes and MacFarland's record, made in 1900. In a wild sprint, started before Moran, just before the end of the eighth hour and which continued for 27 minutes, the standing of the leaders was given a severe shake-up. Faber and Galvin and Wiley lost one lap each during the race. Every man in the sixteen teams was on and off the track a dozen times during the night.

The leading teams are 2 o'clock had covered 163 miles 5 laps. The relative positions of the other teams was unchanged, with the exception of the Brock-La-brousse combination, which fell from 34 miles 7 laps. The best previous record was 30 miles 5 laps, made by Elkes and MacFarland in 1900.

At the end of the race, the Brock-La-brousse team was seriously injured, a split late this afternoon. His collar bone was broken, and he was forced to retire from the race. It is believed that his partner, Rupp, will continue and form a partnership with one of the members of the French-Italian team.

Walter Roy of the Logan-Downey team was thrown during a spin, which Walthour started up early in the race, and he was forced to retire from the race. He is believed to be suffering from a fracture of the leg, and is being nursed in a hospital.

The score at 11 o'clock to-night was as follows: Brock-La-brousse, 163 miles 5 laps; Rupp-Lawson, 163 miles 4 laps; Palmer-Walker, 163 miles 4 laps; Dupre-Georget, 163 miles 4 laps; Mitten-Collins, 163 miles 4 laps; Hill-Millars, 163 miles 4 laps; Walthour-Roy, 163 miles 3 laps; Devont-Holler, 163 miles 3 laps; Faber-LaPoudre, 161 miles 1 lap; Brock-La-brousse, 161 miles.

U. under the title, "Lars and the 60-meter race, the writer says: 'Taylor, the black man, ran the only white race, and I haven't a doubt that the gang who ran the American team would have liked to have lynched him for so doing.' And in closing the article states: 'Next time there is a lying championship, I will back Kirby McCabe for first place with Sullivan close up. It is pitiable that amateur athletics of a great nation should be bossed by men without truth or sportsmanship.'"
