MILITARY REVIEW SPECTACLE FOR EXHIBITION OFFICIALS

Soldiers of 35th Give Grand Display of Excellent Efficiency and Are Seen for Last Time in Toronto Before Leaving for War.

Glamor and glory such as never before were possible at any Exhibition in Toronto were added to by the presence of the troops who have been such a magnificent addition to the events of the two weeks during which the Fair was in progress.

A special review and inspection took place at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, at which the inspecting officers were Col. McNaught, Col. Noel Marshall, Col. Orr and Prospective Col. Oliver. As on the occasion of the review by His Royal Highness, the crowds were drawn to the camp, forming an interesting and admiring wall of living humanity who watched every movement of the troops with the intensity of those vitally involved in their welfare.

The drill of the 35th was so excellent as to appear perfect, the march past and the drill of the signallers being specially thrilling features. As the men with glittering bayonets passed the saluting point and the officers exchanged courtesies, the sight was picturesque in the extreme, the trained feet of the men moving in steady time to the inspiring notes of martial music and the flags borne in different parts of the field giving just the needed tone of color to the more sombre khaki uniforms.

Kitchener's Support.
A decided sentiment that permeated the atmosphere and made itself felt arose from the knowledge that the men now so splendid in their manly fitness were on view for the last time.

been taken away, except perhaps some of the live stock, and there was something of interest for every one who became a visitor.

Perhaps more people have seen and been enthused by the splendid exhibition of flying which Pilot Macaulay has given than any other single daily event. Every evening at 8 o'clock there have been thousands along the water front to see him. He has made his work very interesting and was never at any time afraid to do his utmost to make his portion of the program a success. Unfortunate circumstances made it impossible for him to appear on two occasions, but with that exception he has taken his part every day since the fair started.

Aviator Honored.
Saturday special recognition was accorded not only the pilot but his wife as well. When at the regular hour Pilot Macaulay appeared in his machine, he had among his spectators directors of the Exhibition in company with his wife. He alighted upon the surface of the lake and was met by the police boat. By it he was conveyed to shore and officially welcomed to the grounds by President Oliver. He and his wife were escorted to the administration building where lunch was served, after which the presentation of a handsome gift in recognition of his services was made.

HOW TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

This Home Made Mixture Removes Dandruff and Stops the Hair From Falling Out.

The following simple recipe, which can be mixed at home, or put up by any druggist, will quickly remove dandruff and stop the hair from falling out.

To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of rum, 1 small box of orris compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the hair of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and cures itching and scalp diseases. Altho it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

$40,000 IN PRIZES PAID

Forty thousand dollars in cash was paid out at the Canadian National Exhibition in prizes to winners who have exhibited live stock. But this is only a beginning, and does not include all branches by any means. It gives an idea, however, of the magnitude of the exhibition, and it is no wonder that breeders bring their stock.

Saturday another large amount was distributed, and whatever is left over will be mailed in the course of a day or two. The branches remaining are poultry, dogs, women's and agricultural, and the total will reach a very large figure. In all $150,000 is given in prizes and special attractions.

In Toronto before setting out for their mission overseas, but the sentiment of farewell was almost obliterated and overcome by the certainty that Canada's soldiers will do their part with the bravery and competency of the days of Wellington himself. All knew that Kitchener will have a noble support from any quarter than that given him by the men now in camp at Toronto.

A striking feature commented on by those in a position to know and judge is the highly exemplary conduct of the men who have been so attractive an asset to the Exhibition.

Nothing less than excellent expresses the manner in which they have conducted themselves. Not a single complaint has been registered during their period in camp, every man being fully alive to the fact that a soldier of any rank is always a brave man and a gentleman.

That was one feature, aside from the big program of sports. There were many others. Creator and his band rendered an exceptional program and more than delighted the thousands who took this last opportunity of hearing the famous organization. Among the numbers was the overture from William Tell, a favorite with the big audience. This was an exceptional treat and one that will be remembered long.

If it was possible for the directors to make of Saturday a day more prominent in the success of the Exhibition than any other they looked for that chance. It seemed as the everybody day entirely the best. They were supported by the citizens of Toronto. Aquatic sports enlivened the occasion. The midway accommodated its usual quota of fun seekers. Military activity was seen in many phases from early until late. Boys and girls were everywhere. The grand stand performances were well patronized, and at night a most enthusiastic assembly met to witness the "Review of the Fleet" and "March of the Allies."

The day closed in a great avalanche of glory. Patriotism simply bubbled over. Toronto turned out in record numbers to see the 35th in their massed by its numbers, applauding and cheering made of Saturday night as it were a marvelous send-off to the men who are soon to leave Canadian shores in defence of empire and human liberty.

Patriotic Year Over.
Patriotic year is over. After 14 months of war Canadians are more securely bound to the mother country than ever. No greater evidence of the fact that Canada knows her part and is only too eager to execute it could have been seen than during the celebrations of the past two weeks.

No greater impetus to recruiting could have been arranged. Men from all parts of the province and in fact all America have come and have seen. Now they know what Toronto is doing. They have an idea now of how it was possible to send 25,000 men from her boundaries. Toronto, thru the Canadian National Exhibition, has planted itself so firmly upon the face of the globe that its name is the equivalent of loyalty and its love for Britain and her allies unbounded.

Good-bye, Patriotic Year, and long before your successor is due may its name have been chosen, chosen because German ideals as well as German autocracy have been smashed and victory has been attained. Come, VICTORIOUS YEAR.

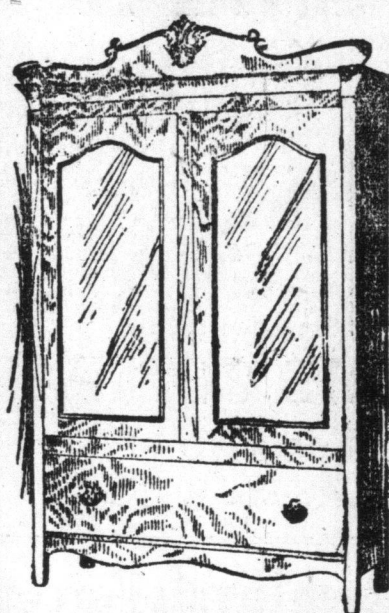

DECORATIVE PAPER EFFECTS.
Evidence of the delightful decoration that may be achieved thru the medium of paper was given at the Exhibition of P. E. Best of 34 Penderith avenue, Toronto, in his exhibit of artistic paper products.

The entire booth was lined with paper, representing a latticed wall on which the rose and wisteria grew as if placed by nature itself. The tables upon which huge clusters of roses, carnations, and various beautiful shaded bloom were arranged were covered with paper drapes. A feature of the display were sets of toy furniture that would delight the heart of a child—these, too, made of paper.

RE CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Editor World: I shall be glad if you will kindly allow me space in your valuable paper. I wrote the following letter to the mayor, but regret I did not receive an acknowledgment of same. However, my name appeared in your paper as an applicant for the position, and under these circumstances I trust you will insert same: (Copy.)

August 30, 1915.

The Mayor, City of Toronto.

Re Chief of Fire Department.

Dear Mr. Mayor: I should like to know if the following contentions are correct as to your requirements for the above position: You require a person who is able to systematize, methodically the working into an organization that can be directed from the office, so that the chief can just put his finger on the button (as it were) and touch any particular department, or workings of that department, and keep intelligent tab on the whole system, including receipts, payments and loose and fixed plant at the station. If these contentions are correct, then I would like to make application for the position, knowing that I could give entire satisfaction.

Thanking you in anticipation of either interview or answer.

Yours very respectfully,

Fred Coward.

The above could be taken as an application, but I did really expect a reply. I know the mayor must be hard worked at this Exhibition time and he might have overlooked same. If the city want a fire fighter, then I am not the man. I understand from the investigation the requirements were: to systematize the department, hence my letter. As regards the firemen, they are a good steady lot of men, as far as I am more to be got out of men and happen their lot, and they would advance according to merit, and slacks would be found out where a good working system prevails.

Re orders. All orders sent out of the station confirmed in writing from head office would have the good effect of keeping good feelings between the men and captain. As regards purchases, no purchases could be made excepting by signed order for the purpose issued at head office.

Inventories of fixtures, plant, etc., to be strictly kept at each station to be taken periodically and signed by the captain. Damaged or not—required materials or plant to be returned to store (kept for that purpose) and be duly credited to the station returning same. This would help to stop any leaks, if there are any.

Re reports. All reports to be confirmed in writing and signed by the captain or lieutenant, who ever is in charge at the time; these of course, to be filed away systematically. Reports, sheets, question and answer sheets would be provided by head office and only to be used for the purpose so named.

Everything of importance would have to be recorded and signed and all forms for all purposes to be systematically kept would have many good effects.

With district chiefs, captains and lieutenants, I don't think it necessary to have a fire-fighting chief, unless he can also systemize the department, but it is absolutely necessary to have a good management at head office, also bookkeeping of all receipts and payments, checking of all purchases and disbursements, time sheets, etc. may say that the person appointed would want initiative abilities to adopt rules, methods, and have some ability for purchasing, and apply himself to the general good working of the whole machinery.

Re salary. This is a question of importance at this time of hard depression, when trades people, and in fact, everybody (figuratively), are feeling effects of same. No man should get the $4500 to start with. He should have a minimum salary and advance only as abilities proved and trade conditions warrant same.

Fred Coward.
