They decided to remain in the capital. The Liberal Unionists, however, insisted on a gross blunder on Saturday which cost him his chances for the presidency of the chamber by informing the House that the report is published as coming from military sources that 220 Young Turk officers including all the officers of the cavalry regiments were murdered.

London, April 20.—Should fighting occur on the streets of Constantinople the loss of life among the civilians would be enormous, is the opinion of an American army officer who witnessed the revolutionary outbreak at the Turkish capital of last Tuesday. "As an instance," the officer continues, "there was a clash Tuesday night between two small sections of military. Three soldiers were killed and seven were wounded, whereas the casual-

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

BOUND TO GET A JOB. The Times new reporter heard an interesting rumor on the water front this morning. It was with some difficulty that he traced it down, but there seems little doubt that it is based on fact. It is stated that the Ludlow has been chartered and will set out this evening, immediately after the result of the civic election is announced, for Constantinople, with all the defeated candidates on board. It appears that the Sultan is about to abdicate, and there is likely to be a fine field for aspiring gentlemen who were born to the sword.

WILL SPEND $50,000 TO CLEAR NAME OF FLORENCE KINRADE

Richmond, Va., April 20.—(Special)—Detective Pender, of the Pinkerton force, has been in Richmond several days searching into the record of Florence Kinrade, the amateur actress and singer. It now develops that Miss Kinrade has become identified throughout the south as "The Girl Behind the Mask," because she at one time appeared in public with a red cloth over her face.

Detective Pender acknowledges he will be able to throw considerable light on the mystery of the murder through facts ascertained in this city, where Miss Kinrade lived for six weeks under the name of Margaret Dale, and where, he says, she was on several occasions introduced to people as the wife of a man whose name the officials refuse to reveal until after the inquest, which will be resumed at Hamilton on Thursday.

Pictures of Miss Kinrade were submitted by the detective to people who met the alleged wife of the Virginian, and by them identified. A man, who is believed to be Clair Montrose Wright, finance of Miss Kinrade, appeared in Richmond on Sunday night, and was in conference with the detective, who was working on the case, one of whom is the authority for the statement that fifty thousand dollars will be spent in locating the man who did the shooting and clearing the skirts of Miss Kinrade of any complicity in the death of her sister.

SPAIN MAY CHOOSE BRIDE FOR YOUNG KING MANUEL

New York, April 20.—A special cable from Madrid to the Herald says:—It is persistently rumored that Senor Moret recently made a visit to Lisbon. The one time premier on his return had an interview with King Alfonso, which took place last Friday and lasted two hours.

Senor Moret kept his own counsel yesterday when asked about his visit to Portugal, although he replied freely to questions on other topics. From inquiries I have made I gather the impression that when Senor Moret visited King Manuel and Queen Amelia, his royal mother, matrimonial projects concerning the young King of Portugal may have been touched on.

It is rumored abroad that Princess Maria del Pilar of Bavaria, a cousin of King Alfonso, may be the Portuguese monarch's bride. This choice would please Alfonso, who is anxious to strengthen the Spanish ties with Portugal. When the news of the projected match reaches Lisbon it is expected to cause a sensation.
