

EXPOSITION AND DISCUSSION

The first of the two main questions which arise in connection with the study of the history of the human mind is the question of the origin of the mind. The second question is the question of the development of the mind. The third question is the question of the nature of the mind. The fourth question is the question of the functions of the mind. The fifth question is the question of the laws of the mind. The sixth question is the question of the education of the mind. The seventh question is the question of the improvement of the mind. The eighth question is the question of the preservation of the mind. The ninth question is the question of the transmission of the mind. The tenth question is the question of the inheritance of the mind. The eleventh question is the question of the cultivation of the mind. The twelfth question is the question of the refinement of the mind. The thirteenth question is the question of the elevation of the mind. The fourteenth question is the question of the exaltation of the mind. The fifteenth question is the question of the glorification of the mind. The sixteenth question is the question of the glorification of the mind. The seventeenth question is the question of the glorification of the mind. The eighteenth question is the question of the glorification of the mind. The nineteenth question is the question of the glorification of the mind. The twentieth question is the question of the glorification of the mind.

Th
no
wh
cas
cei
of
for
hav
the
like
wor
rec
new
our give
cons
anna
on t
dark
habi
freel
tribu
ness
semi
mind
ry or
"Be
Most
shall