Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways will be in St. John next week on a tour of inspection.

Walter Sears, an employee of Stetson, Cutler's sawmill was injured yesterday by being caught in a belt and whirled around. His legs were badly injured. He was attended by Dr. J. A. McIntyre and afterwards taken to the hospital where he is reported to be resting easily.

Jeremiah Keleher, of Market Place, Carleton, fell forty feet from a ladder on Rodney wharf yesterday afternoon. Keleher is employed by the C. P. R. and was climbing the side of the wharf when he lost his balance and fell, striking his head. He was taken to Dr. F. L. Kenney's office and afterwards to the hospital.

Under the auspices of the Men's League of the German street Baptist church, on Thursday evening at eight o'clock, T. S. Stimmis will deliver an address on his tour around the world. The meeting will be held in the school room of the church. No admission fee will be charged, and all are welcome.

In county court chambers, yesterday, Judge Forbes gave decision in the case of Goggin vs. Whitaker for the value of $100. His honor decided in the defendant's favor and the case will be brought to the supreme court. W. H. Trueman represented the plaintiff and W. B. Wallace, K. C., and G. H. V. Belyea represented the defendant.

THE BENCH SHOW

Entries Closed Yesterday and All the Classes Will Be Well Fitted.

Entries for the approaching bench show to be given under the auspices of the New Brunswick Kennel Club closed yesterday, and to less than 150 local dogs have been entered. This number, which exceeds the most sanguine expectations of the committee, eclipses the Hamilton Ontario dog show which was regarded as an excellent one with 150 entries in all, and the club has been established some five years. A notable feature is the large number of ladies who have entered their dogs for the show.

This is the first annual show to be held here and will be conducted along precisely the same lines as those given at Madison Square Gardens, New York, in Toronto and other large cities. Exhibitors will find their names in the marked catalogues in the respective classes they have entered.

Relative to outside entries it is worthy of note that one upper Canadian exhibitor alone is bringing down no less than twenty-five dogs. This, however, will not affect any of the local classes.

Local dog fanciers are enthusiastic over their first annual bench show and are anxious to show upper Canadian dog fanciers that there is every possibility of the permanent establishment of a first class kennel club in St. John.

There will be every opportunity for local exhibitors to dispose of their canines, as there will be plenty of visitors on the look out for something good. Among the visitors will be a representative of the famous Sabine Kennels, Texas. This man is an expert judge of fox terriers and never misses a chance to pick up a good one. So keen is his judgment that he has been known to buy a dog for $10 and then, in the side of a month, sell it for $500. His eye is trained to the requirements of breeders, and his judgment relied upon by dog fanciers, who will cable any amount of money at his word.

IS A DETECTIVE NOW

Ex-Policeman Robert Crawford
Enters the C. P. R. Service at Sand Point.

Ex-Policeman Robert Crawford was yesterday afternoon sworn in as a detective for the C. P. R. He will do special work at Sand Point during the winter season. Crawford, it will be remembered, was always considered by the chief of police to be an efficient officer, and resigned while under contract for calling the magistrate an obnoxious name.

Yesterday Crawford went before Magistrate Ritchie with F. R. Taylor of Weld and McLean, solicitors for the C. P. R., and the magistrate was asked to appoint Crawford as special detective to the C. P. R. The magistrate, however, refused to do so on the ground that Crawford had been dismissed from the force. This Crawford denied, and went with Mr. Taylor before Chief Clark, who stated that Crawford had voluntarily resigned. Under the railway act, special railway police may be appointed either by a magistrate or by two justices of the peace, and the latter method was adopted in the case of Crawford, who went on duty last night.

PROPERTY TROUBLE WILL GO TO COURT

Litigation Expected Between
W. V. Hatfield and White
Candy Co. Ltd.

Evidences of friction between the White Candy Company and W. V. Hatfield have existed for some time, and there have been several police court cases in which Mr. Hatfield has charged the company with dumping coal on the sidewalk and now other litigation threatens.

Mr. Hatfield declares that his daughter and himself are the largest individual property owners in the block, and he fails to see any trouble or inconvenience that would result to them from the double tracking. He thinks the people of the district should apply for an injunction restraining the White Candy Company from keeping the sidewalk in a filthy condition reporting the company until he has enough fines registered against them to justify an injunction being granted and for which he will apply.

The company, through their lawyers, Burin & French, have notified Mr. Hatfield to move a gate post from their property and he in turn has had Homer D. Forbes write them a letter requiring them to straighten the wall of their factory under pain of an action for damages and trespass.

Both the intending litigants were seen last night. Each is firmly convinced that he is right and the result is likely to be an action in which some nice points will come up for settlement. Mr. Hatfield says that the wall of the factory overhangs his lot some six or eight inches. He did not specify just how this is an injury or a trespass but he says that he wishes the question settled now as if the wall was allowed to remain in that condition for twenty years without a complaint being entered he could not compel them to rectify it.

Thomas F. White, manager of the candy company, says he has received a letter from Mr. Forbes containing notice of the impending damages. He did not admit there was a bulge in the wall, but stated that if there is one it was there when the wall was first built, over thirty years ago. He charges that Mr. Hatfield is trying to force them out of the building. He adds that, should Mr. Hatfield succeed, the only thing to do with the premises would be to make them over into a cheap tenement for twenty or thirty families at $4 or $5 a month.

Six or seven years ago, Mr. White said, the condition of the wall was first brought to his notice by the building inspector, who claimed it was unsafe and ordered strengthening rods to be put in. At that time he protested and secured G. Ernest Fairweather to make an examination. The result of this was that Mr. Fairweather gave it his opinion that wall as in the state it was in was when built. In spite of this, Mr. White says, he put in the rods to the satisfaction of the inspector and employed, Mr. Hatfield to do the work.

"However," he concluded, "as I said, I am not worrying. I have already had one from two different towns to move my factory there and am only waiting to see what inducements they hold out. I don't in the least know why Mr. Hatfield is persecuting us so far as it can be seen for all the little bit of coal spilt on the sidewalk. I ordered him to take his gate post to the side of the road and to compel him to dump his coal on the sidewalk and let him know how it feels."

THE EVERY DAY CLUB

Singing Class Started Last Evening Under Most Favorable Conditions.

The Every Day Club received a strong infusion of new blood last evening, and the new singing class was started under most favorable conditions. There were about thirty in the class, and as the first lesson will be gone over again next Wednesday evening the number will no doubt be further increased. While some voices may fall out there will still be material for a fine male choir.

The singing lessons will be given from 7 to 8 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday evenings, and a business meeting of the club, which now has more than fifty active members, will be held each Monday evening at the close of the singing lesson.

As the weather grows colder the reading and game rooms are more largely patronized. It has been decided to open the reading room on Sunday afternoon from 1 o'clock, and keep them open until the temperance meeting is held at 4 o'clock. At its business meeting last evening the most optimistic spirit prevailed and the older members were greatly encouraged by the outlook. The rooms are open every night as usual to every man.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SHOP

A new enterprise has been entered upon by the Women's Art Association of this city—an Arts and Crafts Shop. This is to encourage home talent and industries in the shape of lace, embroideries, leather, bead, iron, brass and wood work; drawn rugs, home-spun, anything beautiful or useful made by hand. All work sent in must be the best of its kind, and a committee of strict though impartial judges decide about admitting work, the association realizing that they must keep faith with the public as to the quality of goods. Any one may send wares in, and a small percentage will be charged on sales.

The association hope to make the Arts and Crafts a permanent thing, but in any case it will be open until Christmas, at the studio, 140 Union street, every afternoon, Saturdays and Sundays excepted, where all information may be obtained.

THE HAMPTON SCHOOL

Dr. J. R. Inch, chief superintendent of education was in the city yesterday and returned to Fredericton this morning. He will attend the formal opening of the Hampton Consolidated school on Thursday. La-Sov, Tweedie and members of the local government will also attend.

Dr. Inch said everything was working harmoniously at the Hampton school. He is about ready to issue the assessment list and states that the taxes will not be over $1.35 on each $100 valuation.

The doctor is in accord with the teachers' pension scheme and thinks it should be administered by the government.

The overdue Leyland line freighter Caldonian, Capt. Carnon, from Manchester, Eng. and the Leyland line freighter "Caspian," Wood, from London, both came up the harbor yesterday with a couple of hours of each other—Boston Herald.
