

The Evening Times Star

PAGES 9 TO 16

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1916

SIXTEEN PAGES

Central United Baptist Church
SUNDAY SERVICES
11 a.m.—The pastor will preach, taking for his subject: "The Plots of the Mount and of the Valley."
12.15 to 1.15 — Sunday School
7 p.m.—A service of special interest to boys to be conducted by Mr. T. C. Hutchinson, General Secretary for Canada in boys' Y. M. C. A. work.
SEATS FREE—Everybody Most Cordially Welcomed.

From the Land of the Anazacs

COLONEL Mc MILLAN
(Late of Australia)

Will Conduct Services as Follows on Sunday, October 1st:

Salvation Army Citadel, Brindley Street 11 a.m.
Salvation Army Citadel, Charlotte Street 3 p.m.
Salvation Army Citadel, Charlotte Street 7.30 p.m.
All Are Cordially Invited to Attend These Gatherings.

CENTENARY METHODIST CHURCH

Corner Princess and Wentworth Streets

11 a.m.—Mr. T. H. Hutchinson, one of the National Secretaries of the Y.M.C.A., will speak.

THE EVENING:

7 p.m.—Rev. John W. Wadman, D.D., of Honolulu, Hawaii, General Secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of those islands. A public speaker of unusual ability, will preach. Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett will sing.

Strangers Will Enjoy Centenary

RALLY DAY TOMORROW

MAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Corner Queen and Gervais Streets. Rev. S. S. Poole, B.A., Pastor.
Strangers and Those Having No Church Home Will Be Welcome at This Church.
Morning Subject at 11 o'clock — "LAUNCHING OUT"
Evening Subject at 7 o'clock — "THE MINISTRY OF LITTLE THINGS"
The Lord's Supper will be commemorated at the close of the morning service.
Special Music Both Services. Soloists, Miss Fenton, soprano; Mr. A. J. Mason, tenor; Dr. P. L. Bonnell, baritone.
ALL SEATS FREE AT THE EVENING SERVICE

TABERNACLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Haymarket Square—Rev. F. Patrick Dennison, Pastor

11 a.m. — "THE SLAVE THAT BECAME THE LIBERATOR"
7 p.m. — "THE EMANCIPATION"
All are cordially welcomed at these services. Church members, remember your Covenant. The Lord's Supper at the close of the evening service.

"The Church of the Old-Time Gospel"

VICTORIA ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

Subjects and Services

Tomorrow

Visitors Welcome to All Services! Seats Free!

Waterloo St. United Baptist Church

REV. F. H. WENTWORTH, Pastor

11 a.m. — Rev. Robt. S. Crisp will preach
7 p.m. — Pastor's Subject
(Communion Service at Close). "BEWITCHED"
ALL SEATS FREE! Strangers Cordially Invited.

ST. JOHN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

STRANGERS WELCOME 11 a.m. 2.30 p.m. 7 p.m.
REV. J. H. A. ANDERSON, B. D., Minister SEATS FREE

TO AMERICANIZE

BOOK OF PRAYER

Effort Will be Made at Next Episcopal Convention—Revision Committee Has Several New Petitions

New York, Sept. 30.—It is announced here that an effort to Americanize the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church will be made at the triennial convention in St. Louis next month by the revision committee on that volume.

The committee, it is said, has prepared a separate prayer for the president of the United States and the government of the state and there will be presented for adoption a prayer for congress, a petition for the army and another for the navy, intercessions for the "courts of justice," a prayer for "our country" and for the state legislature. The committee also has written a special prayer to be said on the fourth of July.

In an open letter explaining the purpose of the committee, Rt. Rev. Cortland Whitehead, Bishop of Pittsburgh, who is its chairman, writes:

"In the circumstances of this church seeking to reach the cosmopolitan population of the United States, as also to attract American people by an American service, it must needs be that Anglican tradition and usage be in certain points set aside."

Ludlow St. Baptist Church

WEST END

Pastor, Rev. W. R. Robinson

Get-Together Week, Oct. 2-6

1916

Auspices Young People's Society of C. E. Sunday—Pastor will preach at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday School at 2.15.

Monday, Oct. 2nd — Rev. Gilbert Earle

Tuesday, 3rd — Rev. J. H. Jenner

Wednesday, 4th — Rev. P. R. Hayward

Thursday, 5th — Rev. R. P. McKim

Friday, 6th — Rev. R. P. McKim

At 7.45 o'clock (sharp) each evening a Song Service will be held.

Come each evening and be a worker with Christ in this endeavor.

Methodist Churches Tomorrow

QUEEN SQUARE

Rev. W. G. Lane. Rev. T. J. Deinstadt

Mr. F. H. Hutchinson

Rev. Dr. J. W. Wadman

Rev. T. J. Deinstadt. Rev. W. G. Lane

Rev. N. MacLaughlin

Rev. Dr. J. W. Wadman. Rev. J. C. Berrie

Rev. F. H. Wentworth. Rev. R. S. Crisp

Rev. Thos. Hicks. Rev. Thos. Hicks

First Presbyterian church, Rev. John Archibald Morrison, Pm. D., D.D., minister; 11 a.m., military service with address to the officers and men of No. 8 Field Ambulance by Dr. Morrison; everybody welcome. Evening worship at 7, text, "The Sword of Goliath—there is None Like It." Subject, "The Tropics of Youth, the Strength of Later Life." Sunday school at 2.30 p.m. Prayer meeting on Friday at 8 p.m.

St. David's Presbyterian church, Sydney street, Rev. J. A. McKelgan, B. A., minister—Public worship 11 and 7.30 p.m. in Sunday school at 2.30 p.m. McKelgan will preach in the morning and Rev. R. P. Mackay, D. D., former moderator of the General Assembly in the evening. All seats free. Strangers are cordially invited.

St. Stephen's Presbyterian church, Rev. Gordon Dickie, M. A., minister, public worship 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.; Rev. R. P. Mackay of Toronto will preach at morning service, pastor in the evening; the rainy day Sunday school service will be held at 2.30. Strangers welcome at all services.

Calvin Presbyterian church, minister, Rev. F. W. Thompson, B. A., services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.; Sunday school and Bible class 2.30 p.m.; midweek meeting Wednesday 8 p.m. Strangers cordially welcome.

St. Andrew's church, minister, Rev. F. S. Dowling, B. A., 11 a.m., sacrament of the Lord's Supper, 2.30 p.m., Sunday school and Bible class; 7 p.m., public worship. The minister will preach both services. Strangers made welcome.

Congregational church—Services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., conducted by Rev. W. S. Hall; Sunday school at 12 o'clock; prayer service Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. You are invited.

Queen Square Methodist church, Rev. Hammond Johnson, pastor—Rev. W. G. Lane will preach at 11 a.m. and Rev. T. J. Deinstadt, 7 p.m.; special rally of the Sunday school at 2.30 p.m.; strangers invited and welcome.

Main street Baptist church, pastor, Rev. D. Hutchinson, D. D.; 11 a.m., sermon by pastor; No. 9 Heavy Siege Battery will be in attendance; 2.30 p.m., Sunday school and Bible class; 7 p.m., subject, "The Confession Confessed." The Lord's Supper and reception of new members. A hearty welcome to all.

Rally Day tomorrow at German street Baptist church. Special music both services.

Reformed Baptist church, Carleton street, preaching 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Christian church, Coburg street, Corporal A. F. Hodges, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Douglas Avenue, J. Chas. B. Appel, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Preparatory Sunday for special services beginning October 8 with Singing Evangelist John Frantz. Everyone heartily welcome. All seats free.

There will be preaching services in Courtney Bay Hall on the Sabbath evening at 7 o'clock.

First church of Christ Scientist—Service at 11 a.m., at 98 Germain street. Subject, "Unreality." Wednesday evening service at 8. Reading room open daily from 8 to 5, legal holidays excepted.

Associated Bible Students' hall, 162 Union street. Service 8 p.m., Sunday. Speaker, A. N. Marchant. Subject, "Which is the True Church?" All are welcome.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service for the late Captain Frank R. Fairweather, Private Edward Mellor and Private Frank Finney will be held in St. Mary's church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

SIR WILLIAM H. DUNN, ROMAN CATHOLIC LORD MAYOR.

London, Sept. 29, 6.15 p.m.—Sir William Henry Dunn was today elected Lord Mayor of London.

The new lord mayor, who will take office in November, will be the third Roman Catholic lord mayor of London in recent years. He was closely associated with Sir William Treloar in the work of improving the condition of thousands of London's poor, and is treasurer of the Alton Cripples' Home.

Denver, Colo., has it is believed, the largest American flag in the world. It is 187 feet long and 98 feet wide. When it is necessary to wash the immense flag it is hung on the side of the municipal auditorium, one of the largest auditoriums in the United States, and a fire hose turned on it.

TORONTO AGITATED OVER

DOCTRINE OF HELL FIRE

Catholic Priest's Reply to Methodist Minister

Father Minehan Defines Teaching—Who Are Those That Go Into Eternal Fire?—Baptist Speaks of Fate of Soldier Who Dies on Battlefield

Special to The Toronto Star by Arthur Hawkes

In Huron county, Sept. 25—Beware of the patriotic pharisee—especially when his heart beats under your own coat. It is easy to mistake a general illustration for a horrible example. Tell of an unfortunate situation in some county and you may seem to hold that region up to reprobation. There are disparities in patriotic service, of course. Some of them are glaring. But we are members of the same race. They are everywhere. The city, which has drawn to itself the more adventurous, more out-looking people from the country, has no business, in common-sense, good taste, or patriotism, to criticize the reservant from which it has gotten its own virility, and without which it could not be so. So, if you hear of a soldier who dies on the battlefield of Huron county towards the war just now, pray don't raise your hands and think heaven that your town is not as others are.

What about the people who have toiled and spent, who have neglected their own businesses, and have surprised themselves by becoming preaching friars of the Cause? They are everywhere; they find voice so magnificently of the travail of their souls. Where the greatest discouragement is, there the most stirring "Sursum Corda" should be. "We failed to raise a full battalion," said a leader in the long recruiting campaign. "This country is pretty well dry. I don't think more than five hundred eligible men could be taken from it without injury to our economic usefulness to the allies. At an inspection of our battalion at Camp Borden only 170 men mustered. The rest, I was told, had come home to help in the harvest. If so many were required for this year's very poor crops, how will we be fixed if we take even more men, and next year have a good harvest? Our loss is far greater than three-quarters of a battalion, which we began to raise when the war was seventeen months old. Men went from here to each contingent. Huron men are in every Toronto regiment."

870 Men at Borden

"The time has gone by," said another worker, "when enthusiastic recruits were taken from the front row. No general effort has been made to obtain recruits. We have an authority to examine one medically if he offers. A certain reaction has come, and General Apperly seems to be superseding it with a mandate. Who could start up again and how he would go about it, I don't know."

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new system is inevitable, which will say to men, "Thou shalt," and will see that shall, being interpreted, must. The longer the government procrastinates the more difficult a task mobilization of our forces will be. There is a tide in the affairs of governments, and it easily comes ebb tide.

Everywhere you meet the conclusion that the voluntary system was certain to fail in such a war as this. The more experienced the recruiter the more ready certain he is that some new