Gloucester Has Most Members in the New Brunswick Exchange

IN the report of the New Brunswick Poultry Exchange for the months of January, February and March of this year, Kent county is shown to be well to the fore as regards shipments of eggs. The shipments to the exchange from Kent county, totalling 8,123 dozen, are greater than the totals of any two other counties combined. Westmorland county comes second with approximately 5,000 dozen. In the matter of quality, these two counties also stand high. Kent county had 69 per cent of all eggs grading as extras, and Westmorland, 61 per cent. Both of these averages show an improvement over 1925, indicating that the poultrymen are taking better care of their eggs.

bert, Carleton and Victoria, with a small quantity coming also from Sunbury, Charlotte and Quens. Last year Carleton county stood fifth in volume. So far this year, Carleton ranks only seventh, with Kings and Albert ahead.

Gloucester county boasts the most members in the exchange, and has the second largest number of egg circles. Reports from Gloucester indicate that big strides are being made in the poultry business; new hen houses are being built, high-grade breeding stock is in demand, and more chickens will be raised this year than last. It may not be long until Gloucester county leads New Brunswick in shipments of eggs. N. S. SHIPS TO N. B. EXCHANGE

An increasing number of poultry-men in Nova Scotia are now shipping eggs to the exchange at Saint John. Nova Scotia has more specialized poul-trymen than New Brunswick. There are some very large poultry farms which have anywhere from 500 to 5,000 or more laying hens. These poultry-men are realizing more and more the value of co-operative marketing. Some who are conveniently located for ship-ping to Saint John are taking advanby the New Brunswick Poultry Exchange. Others who are not able to sell co-operatively are advocating the establishment, in Nova Scotia, of a co-operative organization similar to the one in New Brunswick.

'Premier King announced his attitude in a statement. The premier in the statements points out that members of the civil service commission have been placed by act of parliament beyond the control of the government. Ship 'Marlborough,' Captain Thompson, Takes 'Trip'; Is Jolly 'Cruise'

The recently formed marine degree f the Sons of England held a meetng last evening in the Marlborough odge rooms and the good ship "Marlborough" sailed with Captain H. E. Thompson and a full complement of Thompson and a full complement of officers aboard. The voyage was much enjoyed. Three landlubbers were initiated and took the oath to become mariners. A sing song led by the boatswain and organist was indulged in and much appreciated and at "Eight Bells" refreshments were served under the direction of the purser and stewards, and consisted of cheese sandwiches and soft drinks. The ship docked at midnight when the singing of the National Anthem brought a jolly cruise to anchor.
