Recommendation
WILL TAKE OVER 'PHONES
City Will Lease Telephones on West Side Wharves—Council
Committee Discusses Bills For Legislation

At a meeting of the common council this morning a discussion took place regarding Main street paving. The proposal regarding the city taking over the telephones in the sheds in West St. John was finally disposed of and matters pertaining to legislation considered. Commissioner Fisher said that he had considered the paving of Main street and he strongly favored granite blocks for the entire section; he would bring in a recommendation at the meeting of the council tomorrow afternoon to call for tenders for permanent pavement if the members were in favor of a bond issue for the work. He said that the pavement would be granite blocks between the car track sections and asphalt on the sides. The estimated cost for this work with concrete foundation would be $84,000. If entire granite pavement was used the estimated cost would be $87,400. Commissioner McLellan asked him what the cost of penetration work on the sides of the street would come to and was informed that it would cost about $10,400. He said that if this was used the city some $9,000 and the work would practically be permanent. Commissioners Wigmore and Russell spoke in favor of the work going on without delay. Commissioner McLellan was strongly in favor of the work being proceeded with as soon as possible, but said he felt that the work should be left open to more than the Warren people. If contractors with other kind of pavement than the bitulite were allowed to tender he would favor the recommendation. Commissioner McLellan said he was anxious to have the question of the lease of property in Britain street to Mr. Lewis disposed of. Commissioner Russell said he thought the city should take over the telephones in the sheds in West St. John so as to obviate any trouble with the steamship companies. He said that the companies would pay for the telephones but that, by the city renting them, they would be open for use by all parties and thus no discussion would arise. Commissioner McLellan asked several questions regarding the matter and why the city should take the responsibility. Commissioner Russell explained the situation and said that the harbor master had also recommended the change. Commissioner Fisher said that if the city was fully protected and the steamship companies bear the whole cost he would favor it, and seconded the motion, which was passed.

Legislation.
Commissioner Fisher brought up legislation matters and said that the time is drawing to a close and something had better be done. He said that the removal of snow from the sidewalks whereby the city in placing the bottle on the top of his hat they did the work themselves. He said he had been quite a drop of whiskey, he favored it and the street superintendent approved of it.

Commissioner Wigmore asked if the snow was not being removed now. In the house, the case was put off until tomorrow morning. The four other prisoners all pleading guilty, they were sent below with the warning that they were liable to $208 or eight months each. "It's a pretty sight for a dry town," said the magistrate, as they went down stairs. "I tell you, there's no use in talking, we've got to wake up. We've simply got to wake up."

DIED IN ENGLAND.
Signaller Harry A. McLennan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McLennan, of Campbellton, has died in England. Signaller McLennan went overseas with the 50th Battalion. At a battle of the Somme he was killed by a shell, and was taken ill with pneumonia. About three months ago a letter stated that he was pronounced fit for service again and that he expected to be sent to France at any time, but he was again laid up with a heavy cold which developed into pneumonia and he died on Wednesday, Feb. 20th, at Moore Barracks, Shorncliffe. He was nineteen years of age.

the matter. By this means he said they could get the voice of the people. He asked the Common Clerk if it were possible at the present time to have two boxes in a polling booth so, if desired, a plebiscite could be taken at the same time as an election. The latter said he did not know of anything which would prevent it. Commissioner Fisher said he also favored the elimination of the double election. Commissioner McLellan warned him that he was losing sight of the real object of the double election, and gave many reasons why it was essential. Regarding a bill for legislation to govern the flow of water on sidewalks from alleys and yards, Commissioner Wigmore said that it was not practical. He said he considered it beyond all reason and it would cost a large amount of money. Five Days' Notice. Mayor Hayes pointed out that there should be some action to prevent soldiers from having their names entered on the last minute of election day and then voting. He said that a time should be set in which any bona fide voter should have his name entered. It was unanimously agreed that those entitled to vote should have their names placed on the list not later than five days prior to the election. In past elections it was contended that many not eligible had voted.

Last year the cottage was used for a considerable time for sleeping quarters by some unknown persons. The police have been notified of the recent break and an attempt is being made to ascertain who the guilty persons are.

A SAD SIGHT FOR DRY TOWN, SAYS MAGISTRATE

Five prisoners charged with drunkenness were before Magistrate Ritchie this morning in police court. A large crowd gathered, attracted by the statement in the morning papers that "Andy" Irvine had been arrested for his 162nd time. This was found to be not so, and no "Andy" was present. One of the prisoners pleaded guilty to an additional charge of having liquor in his house and the magistrate said that he owned the house himself and that it was therefore not a boarding house. A case of liquor had been found there and the magistrate asked what kind it was. "Majestic whiskey, your honor," replied one of the detectives. "Oh, that's a misnomer," said His Honor. "It ought never to be called 'Majestic'."

Commissioner McLellan said that the court was filled with delinquents and that he had many examples where it was difficult for women to have it removed when their husbands were absent from the city. He said, however, provision had to be made for its removal or else they were forced to appear in the police court and were subsequently fined. He strongly criticized the idea of the proposed change in the present system and spoke about the terrible condition of some of the city streets, and particularly King street east of a few days ago when the city was out of the fire apparatus could get out.

Commissioner Fisher said he had heard the commissioner complaining about that section and had visited the scene. He said he found that the work had been carried out satisfactorily, according to his judgment.

Not Parliamentary.
Commissioner McLellan said that his word was no good in the instance for he had no good judgment.

Mayor Hayes said that he thought the conversation was not parliamentary, so it was dropped.

Commissioner McLellan said that the trouble with the snow removal was that some places were discriminated against and that some people's sidewalks were being cleared off and others were not.

Mayor Hayes said that perhaps a larger appropriation for snow removal would meet requirements.

Commissioner Fisher explained how he had the plows worked and denied that there was any discrimination.

After considerable discussion the matter was dropped.

Commissioner Fisher then spoke about securing legislation with regard to having granite curbing and concrete sidewalks in any section of the city where seventy per cent of the taxpayers desired it, providing the property owners paid for a portion of the work.

Commissioner Wigmore suggested that it be framed the same as the paving act. Under those conditions, he said, it would be satisfactory as far as he was concerned.
