U. N. B. HOLDS RICH
MEMORY FOR FALLEN

Jack Hipwell and Robert Shives, Examples of New Brunswick Manhood.

Reference was made yesterday in the U. N. B. war memorial dedication report, to the address of Captain C. McN. Steeves on individual memorials. He said in part:—

FISHER TABLET

"The Fisher Tablet is erected by the Senate, to commemorate the request of the late Miss Frances Fisher, in memory of her father, the late Hon. Charles Fisher, who graduated from this University in 1880, and was created a D. C. L. in 1886. For many years Judge Fisher was active in the public life of this Province. He represented the County of York in the Provincial Legislature almost continuously from the years 1887 to 1895, and part of this time he was the leader of the Government and Attorney General. He was a delegate to England, and was successful in his mission in connection with the building of the railway from Saint John to Shediac. He was a strong supporter of the Confederation idea, and was a delegate to the conferences both at Quebec and London. For his work in this connection, he was awarded two medals, a bronze and a silver. In 1898 he was appointed judge of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick; he declined the Chief Justiceship, and twice declined the Lieutenant Governorship of the Province.

FOR UNITED CANADA

To commemorate her father's activities in furthering the welfare of this province, and the part he took in effecting a united Canada, Miss Fisher bequeathed this legacy, which later became the nucleus of the fund, which has made this beautiful building a reality, and it is in grateful remembrance of this expression of filial love and respect that this tablet is erected by the Senate of the University.

"This reading desk placed here as a memorial to the supreme sacrifice made by Jack Hipwell, graduate in the University of the class of '14, is donated by his parents, sisters and a brother who also served overseas. Jack was a successful student throughout his school and college career, standing high in his studies, student activities and the esteem of his fellow students and other acquaintances.

AMONG THE FIRST

To those who were privileged to know of the home life of the family circle of which Jack was the pride, it was not surprising that he should enlist at the first alarm in '14. He joined the 23rd Battery, C. F. A. as a gunner, and as a civilian student, won rapid promotion to the rank of sergeant. He went with his unit to England early in '15. Finding his rank a deterrent to getting to France, he reverted and went to the front with a draft to the 8th Battery, C. F. A. Here his conscientious service was rewarded in a measure by a recommendation for commission as a lieutenant with the 8th Battery, C. F. A. Two weeks later, June 17, 1916, at Sanctuary Wood, he was killed.

His last words, "Tell the Major I was on the job," bear eloquent testimony to the spirit in which he approached any task he undertook.

ANOTHER GIFT.

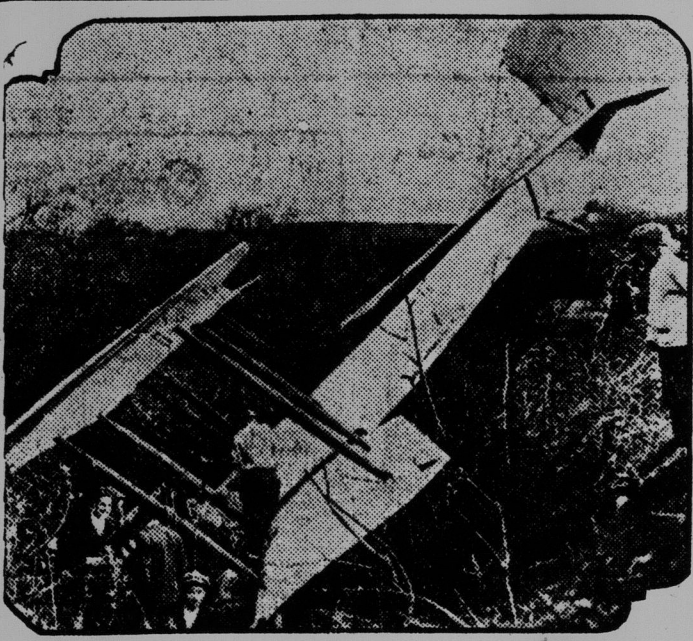

This platform table is the gift of his mother to commemorate the sacrifice made by Robert Kilgour Shives, a graduate in Forestry of the class of '18. "Bob," as he was known to his friends, was another example of that "on the job" kind. He volunteered in 1914, but was refused owing to a weak ankle. He immediately went to Toronto, qualified in flying, and proceeded to England, obtaining a commission in the Imperial Army. He was sent to France and by ability and energy won promotion to lieutenant and later to captain in charge of six machines. He was an expert aerial photographer, and on one occasion his plate exposed, on the eve of a British attack, the position of the German line, which had not been discovered and then destroyed by our fire, would have seriously jeopardized the success of our attack the following morning. For this work he was highly commended. On April 30, 1918, while flying 10 miles behind the German lines, on the Ypres Front, he was wounded, but brought his plane to safety with our lines. He was invalided to England, and when convalescent was placed on Zepplin duty. While thus engaged he was killed at Thelford, near Euston, on September 29, 1918.

RICH IN MEMORY.

The loss the university has sustained in the sacrifice made by these two, as well as those other 31, all of which names are recorded on the tablet unveiled this afternoon, is, we feel, to a certain extent compensated for in the enrichment of the memory of the gallant service they rendered to King and Country.

On this occasion we take the opportunity to announce that within a few weeks the centre window on the eastern side of this hall will be replaced by a memorial donated by Lady Ashburnham in memory of the late Earl of Ashburnham. Though he came amongst us late in life, we soon appreciated his worth as a public-spirited citizen. A retired officer of the British Army and a thorough Briton, he did not fail in Canada's crisis to encourage and aid as far as was possible for him to do so every effort advanced in this community to bring the contest to a successful issue. He was a patron of the Boy Scouts and Cadet Corps, and the G. W. V. A. has had no better friend than he. By reason of this, if for none other, we appreciate the gift of this

Bunyan's Anvil Is Found Near London

LONDON, May 20.—An interesting Bunyan relic has come to light and is in the possession of John Beugerie of Mitchin. This is the immortal Dreamer's anvil, bearing the inscription: "John Bunyan, Helston, 1647." It was discovered lying in a marine store dealer's yard by a man who makes it his profession to hunt out specimens that may be useful for museums. Upon renovation the inscription became perfectly clear, and comparison with Bunyan's signature—also in capitals—in his copy of "Fox's Book of Martyrs" at the Bedford Library removes any doubt as to the authenticity of the relic.

MANY LIQUOR SHIPS IN HALIFAX HARBOR

Rum Carriers Admit They Are
Dodging U. S. Prohibition Fleet.

HALIFAX, May 19.—Halifax harbor has been rapidly filling with liquor-carrying steamers and schooners, many of them reporting that their run to port was occasioned by the intensified activity of the United States "dry" fleet, which set up what was hoped to be a complete blockade of the American coast a week ago. Several steamers discharged their cargoes here and arranged for re-entry into the more peaceful occupation of freighting while others agreed to put to sea again with their liquor still aboard. One skipper was reported to have said that an average of two seizures out of five run-running attempts would leave the operator with a fair margin of profit; but that the fresh efforts of the blockade fleet had raised the percentage of seizures to such an extent that the business was demoralized. He believed the vigilance of the naval units would flag shortly and that business would be resumed.

memorial to him, to be placed in this shrine, made sacred today to the memory of those of our alumni, who on account of their youth, were able to make the greatest sacrifice of all.

R. B. McCREADY IS NAMED PRESIDENT

Organization of Maritime Marketing Association Completed—Canning is Included.

Organization of the Maritime Marketing Association was completed in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon. Officers for the Maritime Marketing Association were elected as follows: President, R. B. McCready, Shannon, Queens county; vice-president, H. S. Gamblin, Cady's, Queens county; secretary-treasurer, J. W. Eastwood, Mill Cove, Queens county; auditor, J. A. Fowler, Welsford, Queens county; additional members of executive council, F. H. Ducey, Carleton Place, Queens county; R. A. Howe, Polylhurst, Kings county; John R. Simpson, Enniskillen, Queens county; Harry Orchard, Cambridge, Queens county; and J. W. Clark, Margerville, Sunbury county.

It is planned to have local collective agencies in each part and to ship the produce through them to a joint stock company, the Farmers' Marketing and Canning Company, with headquarters in Saint John, which will handle all the products of the members of the association.

TO CAN SURPLUS.

The marketing company will operate on the idea of selling fresh all the goods that the local market will absorb without causing a slump in prices and canning or preserving the remainder. It is hoped that, by this means, the glutting of the market will be prevented.

The meeting decided to work in conjunction with the proposed canning and packing plant and with the New Brunswick Poultry Exchange in order to prevent clashing with their efforts. It was the consensus of opinion of the meeting that some such effort as this was the only way to reach a real canning production in the Maritime Provinces.

George H. McCormack, of Saint John, was appointed managing director of the canning company.

ARE CONCERNED OVER COTTON TRADE

Lancashire Section Using American Cotton Holds Conference—Suggestions Made.

MANCHESTER, England, May 19.—That section of the Lancashire cotton trade which uses American cotton is this month making a desperate effort to formulate a programme that will lead them out of the Slough of Despond.

They are holding a conference under the auspices of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce. Owing to internal dissension, this is the first time anybody has been able to get them together since 1922-23. Most of the big spinners are peculiarly individualistic Englishmen with a profound dislike for Rotary ideas of "teamwork" and so forth.

Expensive Cotton.

This section of the trade uses American cotton, but intensely dislikes American cotton. Its main trouble is that American cotton is now so expensive that the trade can no longer sell its goods to its former customers, the great masses of people in India, the Far East and the Far West. The Japanese are capturing the bulk of this business with a very cheap cotton cloth.

British Products.

Looking elsewhere than to America for cotton, especially securing government help for the encouragement of cotton in the British dependencies and dominions.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Todd motored from St. Stephen to Fredericton on Monday afternoon. His Honor says the Fredericton mail came in his new car which is a handsome vehicle. The coat of arms of the province are emblazoned on the doors.

THEY DECAMPED

Police Constable Bettie was called to St. Patrick street yesterday afternoon on complaint from a resident that boys were acting disorderly. On arrival of the policeman the youngsters had departed from the scene.
