REFORM NEEDED.

The advent of the opportunist in the arena of New Brunswick politics has had a most demoralizing effect. It has given rise to a widespread cynicism, not at all encouraging to the citizen who favors purity in elections and honor in public life. The frequency with which one hears the sneering comment, "He got his price," illustrates a feeling that is far too prevalent, and that would not exist had not frequent and flagrant provocation been given by the acts of politicians and newspapers.

Before reform can be effected there must be a clean sweep in the administration of provincial affairs. It will not for a moment be contended that any government or any party will give the country a perfect system of administration, for human nature is much the same in all parties; but it is obvious that no reform can or will come from the combination of opportunists now at the head of affairs. It is only necessary to consult the political record of the leaders, and of the newspapers supporting them to see that the interests of the public are held entirely subordinate to those of the leaders of the party in power.

It is worth while for the electors to give a little thoughtful attention to this phase of the subject. An aroused public opinion is far more powerful than an election fund. It is high time such an upheaval occurred in the politics of this province.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

The merchant who sets apart a certain percentage for purposes of advertising during the year has only taken the first step. Unless he considers carefully the mediums through which he will address the public, and makes up his mind that he is going to pay attention to his advertising just as he does to his buying of goods and other details of the business he will not get full value for his money. If he does these things, no investment that he makes will yield proportionately such good returns.

It is universally conceded that advertisements in daily newspapers are most widely read and produce the best results. Take the Star, for example. It has a large circulation in St. John, and it is read with care. Going into the homes of the people in the evening, it becomes in sense a part of their daily life. They read the news and they read the advertisements. The merchant who shows enterprise and individuality in his manner of advertising arouses their attention, excites their interest, and attracts them to his store. That kind of advertising is the kind that pays.

THE PHILIPPINE PROBLEM.

Dr. Felix Adler, the eminent writer on ethics, is now in favor of the proposition that coolie labor be introduced into the Philippines. Speaking in Carnegie Hall, New York, last Sunday, he said:

"My contention is that this proposition is to establish human slavery 40 years after we went through war and human bloodshed to banish this evil from our nation forever. The coolie contract is no contract. The essence of a contract is the fact that it can be broken. The coolie contract is named because it makes the man labor whether he will or not. I call this qualified slavery. When we have the example of the happenings which have occurred in the Philippines at the very moment when the eyes of the world have been turned in that direction, what may we expect when our coolie slaves when public attention has been diverted in another channel? Will the cries of these yellow slaves be heard across 8,000 miles of water then?"

The British lumber market appears to be in excellent condition. The Timber Trades Journal of Jan. 10th says: "The spruce market is evidently going to be a strong one. At Foy, Morgan & Co.'s sale this week several lots of Quebec fourth quality 3x9 12ft. fetched 29 per standard, which, we believe, is the highest price obtained under the hammer for fourths." The Liverpool correspondent of the Journal says: "The spruce market still keeps firm at the basis of 27 10s. c. i. f. for winter shipments."

The meeting of the provincial premiers at Ottawa is opportune for the New Brunswick opportunists. We may expect much space in the organs of the local government to be given up to the great benefits to be conferred on this province as a result of these deliberations. The well-paid faithful will have their appetites for more whetted by anticipation, and the following reasons may be considered as already in evidence in favor of the return of the present government to power:—

The people of the United States are getting a fine illustration of one effect of disputes between labor and capital. It is the effect upon the general public who are not parties to the dispute, but have to bear the consequences. The poorest of the people are the greatest sufferers. Thus far there is no evidence of a compensating advantage to them or to the strikers.

The Telegraph has become impressively silent on the subject of the Deaf and Dumb enquiry. Why not promote an enquiry relative to the inaction of the crown officials in this case?

It appears to be as good as settled, and rightly too, that Goodspeed will not be sent to the reformatory. The crown officers will have to make the next move.

W. C. T. UNION.

Annual Meeting in Orange Hall Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union met in Orange Hall, Tuesday afternoon, 20th, at 3 o'clock. After the devotional exercises the minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

The treasurer reported having sent two loads of coal during the last week.

The report for the year showed that the work of the society has been as usual. The departments of work are: Little Girls' Home, World's Missions, coffee room, literature, school of science, evangelistic, jail and prison, Seamen's Mission, lumbermen, legislation, Sunday school work. So far as the last mentioned is concerned, the most that can be said of the work this year is that the society has contributed to the support of a missionary to distribute good literature.

Contributions are made weekly to the World's Mission box, and a contribution of $2 was made in September. The sum of $9 is voted every year for literature, and the superintendent from time to time calls for what amounts to a full report of the repairs that were made on the Home for Little Girls on Brussels street, together with a description of the interior of the home and its inmates has so lately been given to the press that there seems little to add. The Christmas offerings were full and generous, and from time to time, as has been seen by press acknowledgments, contributions have been sent in. Yesterday Mrs. Scott handed the committee $2 which she had received from Mr. Wakeling of Manchester, Robertson & Allison's. This was received with thanks. The Union has contributed $167.54 in cash toward the home, besides some individual subscriptions towards the repairs.

The coffee room on Gorman street has had its full share of patronage during the last year, as the Union considers that the patrons have a share in this work of philanthropy, the following statement is made: From the receipts of the rooms there have been paid: Little Girls' Home, $167.54; World's Missions, $2; deep sea fisheries, $3; sailors' mission, $5; matresses for poor, $8.50; W. C. T. U. treasurer for coal, $35.70; work among lumbermen, $3; cooking school on Brussels street, $100; total, $324.74.

The school of domestic science, which was opened by the Union, has been a success. The number of pupils continues about the same and the utmost satisfaction is expressed by the students. If the city of St. John keeps pace with other cities of its size and importance, a permanent school of domestic science should be established in order to keep our High School graduates abreast with graduates of the other provinces. The St. John W. C. T. U. hopes that competent teachers for such a school will be found among the young ladies who are now receiving lessons in domestic science on exactly the same lines as are taught in Toronto, Halifax, Toronto and elsewhere. Cooking classes are held every day from 9 to 11, and a pupil can take from one to five lessons a week. The term will close in May.

In October the Union engaged the services of Mrs. Nellie Burger, a gifted speaker, and she spoke to a good audience at the German street church during the sessions of the Provincial Sunday School convention. Delegates from the society attended the provincial convention held in St. Martins, and brought back interesting reports. The annual convention of the St. John County W. C. T. U. met with this society in December.

Four new members have been added this year. At Christmas fifteen baskets were filled, each one containing either turkey and chickens, with all the other accessories necessary for a dinner, and these were sent to various families.

The report of Sunday school work was submitted by Mrs. Bullock, superintendent of that department. Miss Betts, superintendent of literature, reported that 1,800 newspapers and 150 leaflets were distributed in the jail.

The meeting adjourned until Feb. 3rd, when there will be election of officers.

ENTERTAINMENT IN ST. MARY'S.

St. Mary's school house was crowded last evening at the entertainment of the Boys' Brigade. Over sixty boys took part, both senior and junior companies being represented. The boys looked remarkably well in their new uniforms, and their drill and gymnastic exercises were much admired. Capt. Richmond Dooe certainly proved himself an admirable instructor, and to his zeal and energy is largely due the success that has attended this organization.

The literary and musical part of the programme was carried out in an acceptable manner. It consisted of readings and recitations by Misses Armstrong, Emily Edgerkin and Ethel Brown; songs were furnished by the United Job and J. J. English, and instrumental music by Messrs. Kelly and Carey, piano and harmonica, and Herbert Nash of London, England, piano solos. Mr. Nash is an organist of first class order.

At the close the Rev. Dr. Raymond spoke a few earnest words on the nature of the work that he and his co-workers desired to do for the boys. The enjoyable evening closed with a pyramid drill and the national anthem.

A FREDERICTON MAN.

Merchant Prince of Northwest and President of A. O. H.

(Butte, Montana, Inter-Mountain.)

Most prominent among those who are high in the order of the Ancient Order of Hibernians is Daniel J. Hennessy. At the last annual gathering of the organization Mr. Hennessy was honored with election to the national board of directors. At the time of his selection for this honor Mr. Hennessy was also state president of the order, which has county divisions all over the state. In connection with the order, there is a ladies' auxiliary, known as the Daughters of Erin, of which there are two divisions in Silver Bow country.

D. J. Hennessy, the state president, is one of the most successful merchants of the Northwest. He was elected as a democrat to the first senate of Montana, and in the distribution of terms drew the short one. The next year he was re-elected for a full term and gave his constituents good service, and being chairman of the committee of mines and mining and a member of the finance and other important committees.

After serving his part faithfully for one-half of the term for which he was elected he resigned his official position to devote his attention exclusively to his enormous business, which is enough to occupy the mind and reward the industry of any man.

As the head of the firm of D. J. Hennessy & Co. he has been eminently successful in building up a business of greater magnitude than any similar enterprise in the state. His pluck and enterprise brought down reward in a business triumph which is one of the notable mercantile achievements of the Northwest.

Mr. Hennessy was born in Fredericton, New Brunswick, in 1854, and began his education at a collegiate school in that province. At the age of 13 he left school and began the battle of life for himself, securing employment in a grocery store and later becoming identified with a dry goods house. Thus in his very first labors he equipped himself with the knowledge that in after years was to prove so beneficial to him.

In 1879, when most every young man had a touch of the Western fever, he came to Montana, and soon secured a position of responsibility and trust with E. L. Bonner & Co., of Helena. A few years later he began business for himself, establishing a business on North Main street above Broadway. In this enterprise he acquired rapid success, and in less than three years the business was enlarged almost to the scope of the present day. In 1889 a disastrous fire destroyed the Hennessy stores, incurring a loss to the stock of goods alone of more than $125,000.

But from out of the ruins sprang the new Hennessy building, which stands today as a monument to the pluck and courage of him who is not infrequently termed the "Merchant Prince" of the Northwest.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Natural History Society was held last evening, the president, Senator Ellis, in chair. The report of the council was read, showing a total enrolment of 170 members of all classes. The reports of committees were read, showing much activity in the work of the various departments of the society during the past year. The Ladies' Association is especially active and useful to the society. The treasurer's report shows that the society is in a healthy financial condition.

In his annual address President Ellis referred to the necessity of a better building and greater accommodation for the museum and library of the society, which should have better facilities for the educational work that it is seeking to accomplish. The passage of a bill by the local legislature was referred to, setting aside 300 square miles for a park and game preserve in the north of the province. The bounds of the proposed park should be outlined and measures be taken to give effect to the act. The address was listened to with marked attention, and the president called particular attention to the needs of the society.

The following officers were elected for the present year: President, Hon. J. V. Ellis; vice-presidents, G. U. Hay and G. F. Matthews; treasurer, A. Gordon Leavitt; secretary, John McKinnon; librarian, W. L. Ellis, M. D.; curators, W. McIntosh, J. W. Banks, G. G. Melvin, M. D.; additional members of council, J. Roy Campbell, Jas. A. Estey, W. F. Hatheway.
