Chancellor to Visit Here Next Week

RT. HON. LORD BEAVERBROOK

the chancellor of the university will arrive in Fredericton for a visit to ment. the University campus and to his native province generally on Oct. 27 it was announced recently by the administration. A date for the open- for a small amount of cash on hand.) ing of the new wing of the university library will be set at some time after his arrival, the announcement said. It is expected that the chancellor will officiate at the opening ceremonies. The addition of the wing was made possible through the generosity of Lord Beaverbrook, and the wing is almost completed at the present time. Included in the new facilities will be additional stacks, and a new reading room. The Revenueolder section of the library has also undergone extensive alteration recently

FINAL FALL BUDGET SHOWS SURPLUS; OPINION OF MEMBERS IS THAT "WE'LL NEED IT FOR THE SPRING TERM"

FROM UP THE HILL

Meeting Moves Quickly Dr. A. W. Trueman Returning From As Money Dispensed

The fall budget as finally accepted by the Students' Representative Council this term shows a surplus of more than $1,000, the first such surplus and the largest for a number of years. The meeting at which the budget was given the final "okay" was also somewhat singular in the tradition of fund dispensing as it moved to completion with only a minimum of hitches in the discussion.

Chief items on the somewhat constricted list were Rugby, Canadian Football and the Brunswickan, with intramural hockey sticks and the Year Book notably absent, though for different reasons. Chief point of contention in the preamble to the budget's acceptance was the Ski Club Chalet, which item, although small, was rejected on point of principle by the Council.

Members greeted the announcement of the surplus with cries o. 'We'll need it come spring", and indications were that they were entirely correct. The hike in the levy effected at the preliminary meeting was only partially responsible for the large surplus, as members agreed on a system of bringing student activities in line with enrol-

Dr. Trueman, university president is expected to return to Fredericton on Friday from a trip and several engagements in Ontario. On last Friday evening Dr. True man addressed the Medical group of the alumni at the University of Western Ontario, in London, on the occasion of the annual homecoming week-end. Over the weekend, he was in Toronto, meeting members of the University of New Brunswick Society there. While in that city he was the guest of Ian MacLaren who received an honorary degree from the University at last May's Encaenia.

On Wednesday evening of this week, Dr. Trueman was in Ottawa to attend meetings of the National Film Board, to which body he was recently appointed. He is expected to return to Fredericton on Friday.

Enrolment Under 700 For This Year

Attendance for the first week of the fall term at the University of New Brunswick showed a total of 680 students now enrolled at the provincial university, according to the office of Registrar Edith G. McLeod. Continued arrival of late registrants is expected to swell the total toward the 700 mark.

The number of new registrations in the various faculties and schools of the University has reached 200, Miss McLeod revealed. Of this group, 144 are freshmen, 25 are freshie-sophomores, and the remainder are registered in other years of their courses. A further breakdown of enrolment figures indicates 170 students in all in the sophomore class, 148 in third year, 188 fourth-year students, eight proceeding toward a B.Ed. and 22 doing post-graduate study. Lectures began "up the hill" last Tuesday. Registration results thus far indicate a considerable drop in enrolment over that of the immediate postwar years. This is (Continued on Page Eight)
