

Looking strong after two weeks

Tigers hockey wins opener

by Gordie Sutherland

The Dalhousie Tigers improved their record to 2-2 with a pair of wins over the weekend. It was the second week of Atlantic Universities Hockey Conference action. The first 1989-90 Dalhousie home stand saw the Tigers defeat the Saint Mary's Huskies 6-2 on Friday night and the Acadia Axemen 6-5 on Sunday.

Over 1000 fans witnessed Friday's home opener. Player of the Game Derrick Pringle paced the Tigers with two goals, while Brian MacDonald, Kelly Bradley, Malcolm Cameron and Craig Morrison added one apiece. Rookie Mike Griffith set up two of the Tiger goals.

Wayne Morrow had both goals for the Saint Mary's Huskies. The Huskies' record dropped to 0-2-1.

Tiger captain Craig Morrison made a successful return to the lineup with a goal just 15 seconds into the contest. The first period was dominated by Dalhousie, but Saint Mary's goaltender Marc Leblanc made several quality saves.

The turning point in the game came midway through the second frame. With the score tied at 2-2, the Huskies took a pair of untimely penalties. At 8:17, Dalhousie blueliner Brian MacDonald scored the first of two Tiger power-play markers. Derrick Pringle scored the second less than a minute later to open up a 4-2 lead.

The Tigers led 5-2 after two periods and scored the only goal of a rather quiet third period. Rookie Kevin Stairs made 33 saves to help the Tiger cause.

Head coach Darrell Young attributed the win to the team's overall performance. "Any time you hold the opposition to three goals or less in college hockey, you have a great opportunity to win. Defensively, we played very well. Kevin Stairs came up with a big game in goal for us. Our power play really clicked. We were moving the puck around and shooting."

On Sunday, the Tigers pulled out a 6-5 win over the Acadia Axemen. The Tigers' status seemed in jeopardy when George Wilcox was sent to the penalty box with the score tied at 5-5 and just over three minutes left in the game.

But Alan Baldwin put an end to Acadia's hopes when he scored a shorthanded tally with only 1:46 remaining on the clock.

Mike Griffith collected a hat trick to complete a five-point weekend, while Scott Anderson chipped in a pair. Acadia scorers included Kevin Stover and Greg Austin with two each, and Darren Colbourne added a single.

The power play continued to click, accounting for three of the Tiger goals. Acadia outshot Dalhousie 40-35. Former Guelph Plater Pat McGarry turned in a stellar performance in the Tiger goal.

Ontario natives Kelly Bradley and Paul Kleinknecht highlighted the Tigers' impressive checking game. Both players dealt out several stiff body checks.

The win over the highly favoured Axemen should provide a lift for the Tigers. Dalhousie has two weeks off before they host the Cape Breton Capers (2-3-0) on November 18th.

10 REASONS WHY WE LOVE THE GRAWOOD.

BETTER THAN ANYWHERE ELSE!

1. Big Screen TV that even squinty Marty can see from the back of the room by the squiggly neat painting.
2. Regular live music and comedy that Ralphie can afford -- 'cause it's free!
3. It's free, no cover!
4. Fiona loves the food (loves it too much according to her roommate Alice) and
5. her pal Liz loves the ambience, especially when her favorite hunk from geology shows up or when
6. James plays great tunes on Thursdays to
7. frantic dancing that makes you go hippyhop -- a Grawood trademark. 8. Pat likes it because it's run by the Student Union, who know what kind of a place students like to hang out at, and

9. Lucas likes it 'cause its nice and close on-campus in the basement of the SUB where he normally hangs out slobbering all over the vending machines and 10. 'cause our friends are always there!

Debating at Dal

by Eric Perlinger

Teams representing universities from across Atlantic Canada and as far away as Ontario competed October 27 to 29 in the 1989 Dalhousie Invitational Debating Tournament.

In a close final debate, decided by only one vote, McGill University defeated Waterloo's proposition that society needs to become less inhibited in discussions about sex. The McGill team of Stephen Johnson and Alexandra Clark was awarded the Henry Hicks Trophy, previously held by Carleton University.

Johnson was judged the top debater and public speaker of the competition.

The tournament was coordinated by second year Law student Paul Drysdale. It began Friday with registration in the Weldon Atrium and a traditional pub round, held upstairs at J.J. Rossi's in the Historic Properties.

Saturday featured four rounds of debate and two rounds of public speaking, held in the Arts and Administration Building. This was followed by dinner at the Lord Nelson Hotel and the Halifax Mardi Gras.

Three more rounds were held Sunday morning with the tournament finals in the Provincial Legislature that afternoon.

The tournament was not as well attended as it has been in previous years, due largely to the fact that the Coast Guard College in Sydney held its own tournament the week before. Several Atlantic universities were unable to travel to both events.

Dalhousie as the host university, did not compete in the tournament.

SODALES plans to bid to host either the 1991 Canadian National Debating Championships or the 1990 Atlantic Championships.

SODALES would like to thank the many students and friends of the debating society who gave their time to judge during the weekend.

War history forgotten

The war was not completely overlooked as the headlines often spoke of drives for the Red Cross and blood donor clinics. The body of the Gazette frequently mentioned student-soldiers who would never return, photos of the No. 16 Squadron at Dalhousie, debates on the future of peace by the History department, and the ever-present Coca-Cola advertisement that pitched the concept of the war and servicemen and -women ("Have a Coke — Welcome Home, Boys"), or Players Navy Cut Cigarettes.

The articles about the war effort at home, unlike those in the 1914-18 issues, were not as sombre, as is seen in the following article in the Gazette, Feb. 23, 1945:

"The Navy's Here" was the cry that went echoing through Shirreff Hall Wednesday night, when Delta Gamma was "at home" to 88 sailors . . . The Delta Gamma Service Dance is given each year as part of the war effort, but the girls say it was no effort at all. . . .

As November 11 approaches, it is a sad thought that the Dalhousie veterans and veterans across Canada are remembered only by this generation during the two minutes of silence when the bugler has blown the Last Post and their comrades-in-arms stand around war monuments. Have we forgotten?
