

THE Riddler

by David Gardner

VOLUME VII Questions:

Dare you decide to dissect and decipher the dimensions of these three geometric gems? Of course, they're completely coherent, but can this alone cause you to conquer confusion and confound the Relentless Riddler?

1. How many triangles are in this drawing?

2. These are two apparently contradictory drawings made to the same scale of a simple, symmetrical, three-dimensional object. One is the front view (on left), the other a side view. Can you sketch the object?

3. Joe Handyman, a man with a tool to fit any task, was hired by Lotta the Landlord to fix a hole in her attic.

The hole he had to cover was two feet wide and twelve feet long. But he only had his three-foot wide, eight-foot long piece of sturdy plywood with him at the time.

Ever so resourceful, Joe was able to cut his board into two pieces which covered the hole perfectly. How?

ANSWERS to Volume VI (November 6):

1. Neil won.
2. This is how the Riddler reset the jewels:

3. Of course, The Riddler was correct. He added -64 to both numbers and obtained the perfect squares 36 and 100.

IT IS MY BELIEF THAT FORCING ONE'S RELIGIOUS VIEWS ON THOSE WHO DO NOT SHARE THEM HAS NOTHING AT ALL TO DO WITH CHRISTIAN VALUES. MY CARTOON OF OCTOBER 10TH WAS NOT AN ATTACK. IT WAS AN OBSERVATION. -PINC-

PITCHING BARREL BUNGS is a favourite game in Jack Daniel's Hollow and our barrelmen have a lot of time to practice because of the way we make Jack Daniel's Whiskey.

Every drop of Jack Daniel's is seeped through room-high mellowing vats prior to aging. It's an old Tennessee process that simply can't be hurried. Then we wait while our whiskey gains more smoothness in new oak barrels. Admittedly, there are times when our barrelmen look like they're hardly working. But after your first sip, we think you'll agree that it's worth the wait.
