QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

VALUE OF COIN.

What is value of a gold coin with the enclosed inscriptions or stamp?

W. G.

Ans.—This is the ordinary British Sovereign; value, $4.86 2-3 in Canadian currency.

STANDARD-BRED REGISTRY.

Would you please give me some information as to where I should send to get my Standard-bred mare registered? What would it cost me?

J. D. L.

Ans.—Write W. H. Knight, Secretary American Trotting Register Co., Chicago, Ill., for forms and terms.

DELINQUENT PIG-DEALERS.

I shipped an imported sow to Bros., on the 10th of February last. I asked them to send money by check or post-office money order for sow, and they demanded the pedigree before paying. I sent them pedigree and transfer of pedigree, and still they will not pay, only putting it off, making out they are so busy. The sow will have pigs by this time. She was to farrow on the 19th of April. I sold the sow by correspondence. They wrote first, enquiring for sows. I sold them this one, and they paid the freight from to ——. How should I proceed? Could I go and take the sow, or would I have to sue them? I am informed everything they have is chattel-mortgaged. I do not expect the sow will be.

OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—You could not legally take the sow back without the purchasers' consent; but you are in a position to sue, and should do so without delay. Having obtained judgment (in the Division Court), you should have execution issued and placed in the bailiff's hands with special instructions to make levy on the debtors' unencumbered goods and chattels forthwith. In the event of the execution being returned: "no goods," it would be in order to have the debtors brought before the judge for examination upon judgment summons, and then, if not before, you would probably succeed in realizing the amount of your claim together with interest from the date of the judgment and court costs.

Another complaint was received by the same mail as the above against this same firm, stating that money was sent them for a pair of choice pigs, and after much delay, one scrubby pig was sent. These are only samples of complaints against this firm, which has repeatedly applied for advertising space in "The Farmer's Advocate" in the last year or two, and as often been refused on account of their business reputation.

Veterinary.

CHRONIC NASAL DISCHARGE.

Valuable mare, 11 years old, was always ready and willing to work. She had a foal a year ago. When I commenced to work her in the fall, she had lost life and ambition. About 5 months ago I noticed a slight noise when breathing, and a discharge from her nostrils. These symptoms have increased, especially the discharge, which is copious when drinking. She eats well, but her hair is dry and stiff. She is in foal again.

H. M. D.

Ans.—The symptoms indicate either heaves or chronic catarrh. If the former, she cannot be cured, but the symptoms will become somewhat relieved when she gets on grass. Moistening her food with lime water will relieve the symptoms to some extent. If the trouble be chronic catarrh, treatment will be tedious, and possibly unsatisfactory. Give her, three times daily: One dram sulphate of copper, and 25 grains sulphate of quinine. Keep her comfortable. The trouble was probably caused by exposure to wet and cold, or if she has heaves to feeding too heartily on food of poor quality. As you value her highly, I think it would be advisable to consult a veterinarian, as it is hard to diagnose without very definite symptoms in cases where different diseases cause symptoms so similar, especially the rattling breathing and nasal discharge.
