BELLEVILLE BOYS HAVE HAD SEVEN DAYS OF CONTINUOUS FIGHTING

Important Cable Received by Mrs. Abell of Cobourg and Forwarded to Col. Ponton.

Col. Ponton at noon today received the following message from Mrs. Abell of Cobourg that had just come to her by cable under date of March 1, from Col. Rogers, second in command of the Second Battalion, First Brigade, now on active duty in France:

"After seven days of fighting in the trenches all the officers in the Second Battalion, First Brigade, still safe and sound."

This is the battalion in which the Belleville boys are serving and this is the first authentic news received in Canada that they had been in the actual fighting for so long a period as 7 days.

Mrs. Abell's husband, Capt. Abell, holds a commission in the same battalion, and that fact accounts for the cable having been received by her.

TWO SAUCY CUB BEARS BAGGED BY FOX HUNTERS

Aspley, March 1.—While engaged in a fox hunt on Friday last, Messrs. Hugh and Will Jones captured two fine cub bears. The latter had advanced into a swamp some 500 yards from where his brother was when suddenly he beheld a huge bear and her two offsprings enjoying a sun bath in front of their den.

Having no fire arms with him, the hunter thought it advisable to hold no discussion with Mistress Bruin and family, but go and summon his brother to the scene.

He had gone only a few paces, when to his surprise Mistress Bruin was close in pursuit. However he hurriedly climbed a nearby tree, while the cubs shrieked and the bear growled below. He called to his brother for help.

He was soon on the scene with his Winchester rifle, but not before the bear had disappeared in the thicket. After relieving his brother from his elevated perch, they entered the den, and succeeded in capturing two fine cubs, which are quite bold and they perform many peculiar antics.

VANDERVOORT FAMILY OF ANTWERP AMONG REFUGEES

Bay of Quinte Families of Same Name Hail From Same Stock—Story of Escape From Antwerp.

Mr. A. Vandervoort of this city, deputy registrar of the County of Hastings has received from Mr. J. W. Vandervoort, attorney-at-law, in Parkersburg, West Virginia, certain information regarding the plight of Belgian refugees now in England of the same name Vandervoort. The Belgian families, the Americans and many residents of this county and Bay of Quinte district in general who bear this name are all descended from the same stock. Mr. A. Vandervoort met Mr. J. W. Vandervoort some years ago in the States and later the latter while on a trip to Europe looked up the directory of the Vandervoort family in Antwerp, Belgium. Through the names thus secured he afterwards corresponded with Florant Vandervoort of Antwerp. J. W. Vandervoort states that his ancestor, Michael Paulus Vandervoort, came from the town of Termonde, of East Flanders and located in New Amsterdam, in 1640, now New York City.

Mr. J. W. Vandervoort of Parkersburg has received from Florant Vandervoort a card showing that he and his family are at York, England, as refugees from Belgium and recently he and his son Herman wrote him letters of great interest along the line of their sufferings. A brother, Michael Paulus Vandervoort, was also there on the rampart.

Finally the house cellar became untenable and it was decided to escape. Amidst a hail of bombs and shrapnel we crossed the town from one to the other side. Several persons were killed in the streets in our presence. The party escaped to the Ghent railway station. The Scheidt river was crossed on a military bridge. "How describe my dear sir, what a moment of terrible agony we lived when in the midst of the bridge then about 20 yards from shore, we heard the approach of a bomb or shrapnel and saw it fall in the Scheidt 50 yards from us." The party had to travel on foot with the wounded soldiers. "What we saw on the way was terrible; continually flames from houses and buildings set on fire by firing bombs filled with benzene." All day long the party struggled on until night, when a train was secured for Bruges. They had to sleep on the cold streets at Bruges, for there was no available accommodation for seven hours when a train was taken for Roulers. But the Germans followed and occupied Roulers. The party left Roulers and reached Poperinghe, after two days, lying the night in straw and eating bread with a little coffee.

The Vandervoort refugees stayed from Oct. 22 to Nov. 18 in Poperinghe, during which period bombs were flying around. After many trials and dangers England was reached Nov. 28th. "You may believe, sir, it is a very bad thing to have such adventures at the age we have reached of 65 years, es-

SUDDEN DEATH AT MADOC

W. W. Hudgins, a Well-Known Citizen, Took Carbolic Acid by Mistake, with Fatal Results.

MADOC, March 8.—Willis W. Hudgins a well known citizen of this village is dead as the result of a fatal mistake through which he took a large dose of carbolic acid. On Saturday morning he complained of not feeling well and went down street to the drug store where he made purchases of four ounces each of brandy and carbolic acid. He explained to the druggist that owing to the presence of smallpox in the district he wished to use the carbolic acid in the wash water as a preventive. Upon his arrival at home he retired to his room upstairs. Owing to his indisposition he was left undisturbed for a time, but when Mrs. Hudgins went to call him at noon she was horrified to discover that life was extinct. The partially emptied bottle of carbolic acid, and the unopened bottle of brandy of the same size and appearance, told the story of a terrible mistake. Medical aid was summoned, but could do no more than to confirm the cause of death.

The late Mr. Hudgins was about 52 years of age. He had for many years conducted a very successful mercantile business in Madoc, but retired about five years ago to a farm he purchased adjacent to the village. He entered with great enthusiasm in whatever he undertook and had a full measure of success. He was of an exceedingly genial disposition, and made friends wherever he went. In all business transactions he was rigidly upright and honest and in all his commercial enterprises he was governed by a high code of honor. In politics he was a prominent Liberal and in religion he was an adherent of the Methodist church.

Besides his wife and one daughter, Miss Helen, he is survived by one brother and several sisters.

The funeral service was held this afternoon, interment taking place in the cemetery at Madoc.

MAGIC "NERVILINE" CURES TOOTHACHE, EARACHE

IT RELIEVES EVERY EXTERNAL PAIN.

Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Tight Chest and Hoarseness.

It's when sickness comes at night, when you are far from a druggist or the doctor, that's when you need Nerviline most. Experienced mothers are never without it. One of the children may have toothache. Without Nerviline—a sleepless night for the entire household. With Nerviline the pain is relieved quickly. It may be earache, perhaps a stiff neck, or one of the kiddies coughing with a bad chest cold. Nothing can give quicker results than vigorous rubbing with this old-time family remedy.

Nerviline is too useful, too valuable to be without. For lumbago, lame back, sciatica or neuralgia there is no liniment with half of Nerviline's power to penetrate and ease the pain.

As a family safeguard, as something to ward off sickness and to cure the minor ills that will occur in every family, to cure pain anywhere, you can find nothing to compare with old-time Nerviline, which for forty years has been the most widely used family remedy in the Dominion. The most economical size is the large 50c. family size bottle, all trial size 25c. All dealers sell Nerviline.

THE ZIG-ZAG PREMIER.

SPECIAL TO THE ONTARIO.

TORONTO, March 8.—It will be the Hon. Mr. Hearst's own fault if he becomes known in this province as the "zig-zag" Premier. He surely must have been nodding a little when speaking to the monster temperance delegation, which asked for total prohibition of the sale of liquor in Ontario, if not for all time at the very least during the war, when he told them "the zig-zag path is often the best." What the deputation was asking for was direct action attacking the very heart of the question and disappointment, on all hands was heard when the Premier made his "zig-zag" statement, which promises to become famous.

Mr. Hanna also made a "break" What the deputation asked for, of course, was a distinct temperance advance, a frontal attack on the liquor traffic and something much more drastic than anything any previous Government had granted. What Mr. Hanna said, however, and he apparently thought it would please the deputation, was merely that they might be assured that this Government would not be behind other Ontario Governments in their treatment of the liquor question.

Altogether it was evident, by listening to the remarks of the rank and file of the deputation, that they were much disappointed.

WHAT INOCULATION HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

The inoculation of the soldiers at the Port Hope Drill Shed as a precautionary measure against typhoid fever has prompted the query: What success has attended this measure among the soldiers at the front?

Sir Frederick Treeves, in an address delivered in London last week, made known the extraordinary fact that not a single man in the British Expeditionary force who was inoculated against typhoid fever has died of that disease, the common scourge of armies. Sir Frederick said that when the history of the present war came to be written an astonishing feature of it would be the sanitary precautions successfully taken to secure the health of the soldiers. As to the success of inoculation against typhoid there is no kind of doubt. Sir Frederick said: "The results in the present Expeditionary Force have been positively astonishing. Since the war began there have been in the British Expeditionary Force only 212 cases of typhoid fever. Of these 201 cases were not inoculated at all, while 28 had received either one inoculation, or had not been inoculated for over a period of two years. Of the 212 only 11 men had been inoculated. These figures cannot be gainsaid. Moreover, amongst these 212 patients there were 22 deaths. All these deaths were in the cases of non-inoculated men. Not a single man had died of typhoid fever in the British Expeditionary Force who had been inoculated. (Applause.) I imagine that there is nothing more to be said on the matter, if facts are of any value, and those who attempt to persuade the playing into the hands of the enemy and giving him exactly the advice the Germans would be only too pleased to give him—Port Hope Guide.
