Treasurer of the Canadian National Indian Famine Fund, is just about closing the fund, April 15 being the last day on which the subscription lists were to be out. Stray sums of small amounts have been coming in, however, from outside places during the past two weeks. When everything is in from all sources the total contribution from Canada to the relief of the Indian sufferers will be in the neighborhood of $200,000. Canada's contribution to the fund is a very creditable one.

BRITISH ARMY GOSSIP.

Sir Redvers Buller to Become Commander in-Chief and the Duke of Connaught to be Quartermaster-Seneral.

London, May 2.-The Devon and Exeter Gazette says that Adjt.-Gen. Sir Redvers Buller will succeed the Duke of Connaught/ in command at Aldershot camp; that Quar-ter Master Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood will suc-ceed Sir Redvers Buller as adjutant-gen-eral, and that the Duke of Connaught will become quarter master general of the British Army.

These appointments are likely to revive the criticism which raged at the time Gen. Lord Frederick Roberts was passed over in favor of the Duke of Connaught for the Aldershot command, as Buller belongs to the Wolseley set.

Brockton, Mass., May 1,-Last autumn Mrs. Ella Ireland, the wife of a well-known Mrs. Ella Ireland, the wife of a well-known Brockton man, died after a short illness of acute gastritis. Her body was buried in the family lot in a cemetery on the outskirts of the city. Near the lot a spring boils up, whose waters are strongly impregnated with mineral substances. A few days ago it became necessary to remove the coffins to another lot. While this was being done the cover of the coffin containing the corpse of Mrs. Ireland was accidentally dislodged by the pickaxe of a careless laborer.

dislodged by the pickaxe of a careless inborer.

The workmen who looked at the body were astonished to see that decay had apparently made no inroads. Mrs. Ireland looked as though she lay sleeping in the casket. Even the flowers upon her breast seemed as fresh as when they were placed there six months ago.

Investigation showed that the body had become petrified and was as hard as though it had been scuiptured from a marble block. There seemed to be nothing that would prevent its enduring for hundreds of years without suffering any change. The peculiar chemical constitution of the soil in the cemetery is supposed to be the cause of this phenomenon.

Toronto, May 3. The great Canadian Horse Show o 1897 is now a thing of yesterday, and as it fades into the past the memory of it will long linger in the minds of the thousands who participated in its delights. From artistic, social and sporting standpoints this year's show has proven a orilliant success, and there is no doubt that later, when the receipts of the exhibition are set over against the expenditures, there will be no cause to find fault with it for financial reasons either. To the lustre of the two previous days exhibitions Saturday's portion of the exhibitions Saturday's portion of the show added much. Despite the miserable weather the attendance both in the afternoon and the evening was surprisingly large. The feature of the day was of course the prescuce of the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and Mrs. Kirkpatrick in the gubernatorial box. His Honor, accompanied Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Captain Kirkpatrick and Commander Law, drew up in his carriage at the main entrance to the Armouries at about 3.30 o'clock. On alighting the Government House party were received by Messrs. Stewart Houston, Edmund Bristol and Robert Davies, representing the Horse Show Committee, and before proceeding to the interior of the building Mrs. Kirkpatrick was presented with a handsome bouquet of roses. a handsome bouquet of roses.

On entering their box His Honor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were greeted with tremendous applause, the Grenadiers band meantime playing the National Authem. The Lieutenant-Governor is looking much heartier than would have been expected after the serious operation and the extended illness he nas undergone, but he is probably not as strong as his ruddy appearance would seem to indi-cate. At any rate while in his box he occupied an easy chair brought up from Government House for his comfort, and the show seemed to tire him, for, after the show seemed to tire him, for, after about three-quarters of an hour, he retired, accompanied by his wife. The exertion of returning the greetings of the many who welcomed him helped to wear him out, for, from the time they came in until their departure. His Honor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were kept constantly engaged in shaking extended hands and acknowledging speeches of welcome.

Graced by the Governor's presence the show seemed to "go" better than ever, and everyone in attendance yesterday afternoon declared the function a brilliant one. The most applauded feature of the show was the gentleman's tandem driving contest.

The pacific utterances of the Czar, and of the Emperor Francis Joseph, during their recent interviews at St. Petersburg, have also had the effect of inspiring confidence; while a favorable British budget, showing the undiminished prosperity of Great Britain, justifies a renewal of investments. The result is that most of the markets show a distinct advance, the only gloemy spot being the Transvani, particularly African mining securities, which have shown a further decline. These despatches have often pointed out that Chamberlain in his anti-Transvasi policy was relying on proofs of Kruger's underhand dealings with Germany to justify it. What these proofs are it is justify it. What these proofs are it is impossible to get at, but I continually hear they are so convincing that the English will be all of one mind when the time comes for their disclosure.
