London, Sept. 30—Preference for continuation of the volunteer system is said to have been ex-pressed by Earl Kitchener at a meeting of labor executives, which was addressed by the way which was addressed by the war secretary, He said, however, that the present rate of recruiting was not equal to the needs.

Earl Kitchener explained that his own plan, which had not yet been authorized by the government was to apply the system of the military ballot. Every dis-trict would be required to fur-nish its quota of men. In case this quota could not be obtained by voluntary enlistment the required number would be selected by ballot among the men of military age, and the enlistment of those chosen would be compulsory. The secretary added that there had been no slackening of the pressure to bring out recruits.
