(From our own correspondent) Simcoe, Aug. 21.—It may, after such a warm day as we had yesterday, be refreshing for our townfolk to learn that up Port Arthur way people go to the little inland lakes to get warm, while we rush to the Great Lakes to get cooled off. This may seem queer, but we are assured by persons who spent a fortnight up Lake Superior way, that such is the case. That the kitchen range burns coal continuously all summer, in the residence is quite inviting evenings. The biggest excursion of the season, over the L. E. and N. to Dover, was that of the employees of the McFarlane shops at Paris. They brought a brass band and the coaches at least some of them, were run back to Simcoe for siding room.

Fire At Marr's Hollow
A small barn, drive shed and stable on the farm of Mrs. Lillian Darling, two miles south of town, was burned yesterday afternoon and at eleven o'clock last night, men were still watching the other outbuildings to the south-east. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fortunately threshing operations were in progress on the farms of R. Bowley, 1-2 mile south and on the Fleming farm, one mile north. The whole force from the former ran over and nine men came from the latter, by auto. Pails came from everywhere, and so well did the men work that the granary, only a few feet away, and connected by a fence, was saved, and though the wind carried the embers across the other buildings, they were watched and protected. The loss is about $1100. Two horses, the vehicles and part of the harness was saved. The fire was discovered by the little son of Bert Smith, of Delhi, who is visiting with Mrs. Darling. Hamiltonian Summoned for Drunkenness

A prominent citizen of Hamilton, visiting at Port Rowan, was before Police Magistrate Hutchins, at Port Rowan, last week, charged with being in a public place there, while in a state of intoxication. Several witnesses for the prosecution fell down headily, much to the discomfiture of S. Buck, who acted for the Crown. The accused too, had witnesses and his solicitor, W. E. Kelly, K.C., came down with a win recorded. The case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Jno. L. Buck is shaping away to revive the brick manufacturing end of the port's industrial life.

Old Ends of News
Mrs. Bridgewater has purchased the Watmouth property, south-west of the town.

Among the neatest local gardens we have seen this year, is that of Alfred Bates, at the foot of Metcalf Street.

The Good Roads Committee, of the county council, will meet here today for organizing purposes. All the receivers of the minor municipalities are members.

It has been suggested that this question of parking cars about business centres could be solved by allowing two rows to stand along the centres of the business, streets, provided the sides of the streets were kept clear.

Auto traffic became so congested down Port Ryerse way recently, that one car chopped off a telephone pole.

Press Photographs

Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Farney left last week-end to visit friends at Gorrie, a former charge. Miss Farney followed yesterday.

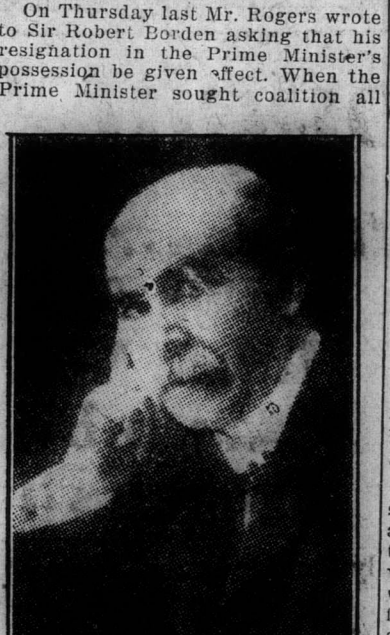

Mr. and Mrs. John Pettit and children, of Stratford, spent the week-end with the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Toombs, 107 College street.

Douglas Jackson is back to work after a week at Port Ryerse.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Whitehead and son returned yesterday from a prolonged cottage life at Turkey Point. Miss Lulu Wamsley, of Saskatchewan, visited her aunt, Mrs. Oliver Robertson, during the weekend, and is now in Waterford, with relatives.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Hon. Robert Rogers has retired from the Government, and to-morrow the Prime Minister will shake public in Parliament the correspondence disclosing the reasons which actuated the Minister of Public Works and his own reply thereto. For some time it has been rumored in the capital that the resignation of Hon. Robert Rogers was likely, but few persons expected his resignation before a National Government had been completed or reorganization of the Cabinet on party lines had been undertaken.

On Thursday last Mr. Rogers wrote to Sir Robert Borden asking that his resignation in the Prime Minister's possession be given effect. When the Prime Minister sought coalition all these distinguished revolutionaries of the past were confined till the time came for them to mount the scaffold.

THE HON. ROBERT ROGERS.

While still Minister of Justice Mr. Kerensky was asked at a meeting of the "workmen" and soldiers' deputies to satisfy themselves that the liberties of freedom were being treated with becoming severity, but, with characteristic bluntness, he refused point blank, declaring that he was not going to allow the "Trubetskoi to be turned into a menagerie."

The Russian papers have, however, obtained some details of the conditions under which the political prisoners of the new regime now live. Their cells measure 21 feet long by 11 feet broad and are comparatively high. Each is lighted by one heavily-barred, semi-circular window, built into the thick walls so near to the ceiling that it is impossible to see through it.

Sir Robert Borden, in accepting Mr. Rogers' resignation it is understood, referred to the character and importance of the legislation before Parliament this session as an answer to the charge of inactivity. He is understood to have alluded particularly to a half a dozen measures, each breaking new ground for Canada, including the Military Service bill, the Military Voters' bill, the railway legislation, the Income Tax and Soldiers' Land Settlement bills.

Account Sent in French to Waddell Co.
By Courier Lensed Wire
Montreal, Aug. 21.—L'Action Catholique, Quebec, reports that ex-Mayor Drouin, whose firm in Quebec was asked by the Waddell Preserving Company of Brantford, to send their accounts in English, replied as follows:

"In reply to your letter I must say that I admire your audacity in attempting to impose upon a French house in Quebec the obligation to send out accounts in English. This is what we have never asked you to do, for all of your correspondence has been in English, and as a matter of fact we have never asked you to write in French. Please do not forget that French is known and understood by all the civilized world, and that if you have the pretension to belong to that class of people, you should be able in Brantford to translate French into English when we write to you in that language. We notice, however, that you are fanatical as regards our tongue, and we will act likewise in future, so if you wish to continue business with us you must do all your correspondence in French. If you have no one in Brantford able to write or understand French as well as English, come to Quebec and you will find some one able to occupy this position."

L'Action Catholique adds: "Let us all act like this Quebec house, and finally our language will be respected."

"Hangman" Sobieschanski lay on his back on the bed, hardly visible through a cloud of tobacco smoke. Sturmer sat on his bed, with his bent back turned toward the door. Protopotoff passed the cell from corner to corner, looking neither to right nor left and paying no heed to the stranger who stared at him. Anna Vulturbova sat on the bed and crossed herself from time to time.

Three times a week the special Commission which is dealing with these cases visits the prison for the examination of its inmates. For this purpose they are temporarily removed to another room.—London Daily Telegraph.
