DANIEL DERBYSHIRE, Esq.

The People's Candidate for the Representation of the Brockville District in the House of Commons.

Always taken a deep interest in farming, although not himself connected with that branch of industry, and we question if there is another man in the county better able to give advice on matters pertaining to the interests of agriculture than he. He has been closely connected with the Brockville Farmers' Institute since its formation, and much of his prosperity has been due to his efforts. Seven years ago he was elected chairman of the town of Brockville, a position he held continuously until two years ago, when he was elected Mayor by over 700 majority. Last year he was elected by acclamation to the same position with the rank and file of the Reform party but has gained him a host of converts from the ranks of the Conservative party. His last reputation of being the best converser and organizer in Eastern Ontario, qualities very essential in any candidate who has close constituency to work in. He is now on the war path, and if he is not elected it will not be because he has not worked early and late to attain the object of his ambition and the hope of his friends.

COUNTY NEWS.

LYNDHURST.
FRIDAY, Feb. 20.—The impending general election has roused our village from the usual state of quiet repose, and the good and bad qualities of the candidates for political honors in South Leeds are being rehearsed on all sides.

Revival services are being carried on in the Methodist church by Rev. G. S. Bayliss, pastor.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Townsend, who has been ill for a long time is recovering.

J. E. Roddick is absent visiting friends.

It is rumored that Dr. Croggan is about to return to Lyndhurst.

Congratulations, Asher, on the new arrival. R. W. Copland, proprietor of "Riverside House" is enlarging his cellar. No doubt, the fever of the election campaign has increased the demand for fire-water, and more room is needed for supplies.

Our tax-gatherer will soon be going his rounds; and it is to be hoped that the tax-happy levied on dogs, will have the effect of ridding the village of some troublesome curs.

You're for Taylor who secured the expenditure of $50,000.00 on bridges and public buildings in South Leeds.

FRONT OF TOWN.

MONDAY, Feb. 23.—Mr. William Kerr of Ballymore is about to take out a patent for a cross-cut saw, which he has invented during the year. Mr. Hillis of Chantown sold all his personal effects on last Wednesday by auction, and will go to Athens and lead a retired life. Many people in this quarter are becoming perfectly disgusted with farming and are selling out and moving out of the country.

A subscription paper is being circulated in this town for the view of the existing sawing factory at the Fortune Mills. It is a little out of the centre of business but Mr. Fortune has buildings, which would answer the purpose, and as a matter of course this would save a large amount of cord in its use as far as building is concerned.

We care not what party gets in power they must try all the power that within their law to make terms with the United States with regard to trade relations. There is no government that can stand two years under the present state of affairs in Canada. We are boycotted on all sides. The McKinley Bill, and the N. F. have already made this country a barren waste and the whangoodle howl.

The Good Old Candy Pull.

You know about the candy pull, you know and you know that it is a good old candy pull. You know that it is a good old candy pull. You know that it is a good old candy pull.

To the Editor of the Reporter.
Six—Will you please give the following a place in your paper? For a good many years I have been subject to a disease, and for some time past they have become more and more annoying. I have been advised to use various remedies, but none have done me any good. I have been advised to use various remedies, but none have done me any good.

After we had read the letter I said to my husband if the Lord could heal my husband's lungs why could he not cure me of sleepiness; his reply was that the Lord could if I had sufficient faith. I thought the subject over and got a great deal about it finally made it a subject of prayer. I told the Lord if he cured me of my malady (for such it often seemed to me) I would tell it for His honour and glory, if not I would not mention it. These words came to me "I am free." Not long after I was thinking how wonderful it was that I was kept awake and these words came to me "My faith hath made thee whole." I know they were the Lord's words and my faith was increased, but I did not launch out and claim the blessing just then. The next morning I felt prompted to write and tell some of my friends (who had been sympathizers in my affliction) the wonderful cure the Lord had wrought in me. But I was a little Thomas like I wanted a sign, but Christ said "blessed are they who have believed and have not seen." The Lord spoke to us again through His word "Awake thou that sleepest and arise from the dead and Christ shall give thee light." The condescending Saviour explained my case to me in this way: "I had had an ailment of body and felt relieved of it and an earthly physician was to tell me I was cured I would believe him. I arose and believed, and have been telling for the glory of God that He has cured me of my malady which has made me appear and feel so bad. Why I did not get an answer to prayer about my affliction long ago I cannot just tell, mysteries often belong to God. It might have been a miracle of faith on my part, or it might have been to humble me, if the latter I confess I was humbled in the very dust. Praise the Lord He has cured me of my malady, and I can say my Jesus hath done all things well."
