

No Disguise

We don't consider it necessary for us to continually boast of virtues. The faultless goods we handle are a stamping virtue in themselves. In their merits we pride and congratulate ourselves on the success we have obtained—mainly due to them.

But we won't attempt to disguise our faults, which became known through the loud criticism of our competitors.

They are as such—

Never satisfied with our present enormous trade of our generous patrons we constantly greed to create new custom by offering and that we are

Price Cutters

We admit our guilt and deserve a heavy sentence, that is—to crowd us heavily with all your purchases.

His Last Hope Realized

[From the Sentinel, Gobo, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die.

One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders suggests this item. For sale by J. P. Lamb & Son.
