Evangeline Beach.

The season opened very successfully at Evangeline Beach on Dominion Day. There was a large number of people present from different parts of the country and the best of order prevailed. Three entertainments of motion pictures were given, in the morning, afternoon and evening, and each was liberally patronized. The restaurant did a flourishing business in dispensing ice-cream and other refreshments and taken altogether the day passed off in a very satisfactory manner to the manager and his numerous patrons.

About all the cottages are now occupied and the season promises to be a lively one at the Beach.

At The Old Cross Roads.

What will truly mark one of the climaxes of interest in the local dramatic season will be the announcement of the appearance of Arthur C. Aiston's powerful Southern play, 'At The Old Cross Roads,' which will be presented at the Opera House, Wolfville, on Tuesday, Aug. 1st. This is really an event which the theatre goes will appreciate as they are familiar with the reputation of both the attraction and Manager Aiston, who has never given us anything but the best in the market. This is the tenth annual tour of the play and it bids fair to eclipse the enormous success done by the attraction any previous year. Mr. Aiston has been unusually careful this season in the selection of his company. It will include James L. Edwards, Kraft Walton, T. F. Mulligan, Wm. H. Healey, Sam B. Wilson, Leon Williams, Roland S. Rix, Mary Downs, Vera Walton, Florence O'Keefe, Madeline Clarke, Lella Bennett, and several others of equal note. Special sets of scenery have been entirely rebuilt and painted for the production this season. Out of town patrons are requested to make their reservations by phone or letter as quickly as possible, as a very large advance sale is expected when the seats are put on sale.

In Dread of Something

You can scarcely tell what it may be. Hysteria, insanity, Nervousness, Neuritis, Giddiness. You can throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your sensitive organism has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves, and you are suffering from the lack of aid from other sources.

It will take some patience and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, failure of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement tell of a failure of the nervous system and warn you of the approach of serious trouble from other sources.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
