

GOODS
ap for Cash

HOUSE

ackets, er clothing,
Jackets,

itts & Scarfs,

obes,
ay Wraps,

ques,
sters,
Circulars,
Jackets,
uffs.

AVIES & CO.

HEAP.
STERN'S

assortment of the LAPSEST GOODS
UND.

Flannels, Winceys,
at Styles, and Very Cheap.

iveleens,
and Plain, in all the new shades to be found.

Gloves and Mitts, &c., &c., Kets, Ulsters and Shawls, Cotton Warp, &c.

KNIT WOOL GOODS,
DOM PAPER, &c., &c.

S & STERN'S.

CATIVE PILLS

WHEN'S LAY

& Mercantile LANCE COMPANY

Established in 1809.
... $9,733,332
... 1,216,666

SCRIPTION OF
ITY BUSINESS

Losses settled with liberality.

Life Branch belong to the ed among Policy Holders, 10.

the Dominion of Canada.
ctus, and every information, land Branch, No. 35 Water

W. DeBLOIS,
General Agent

The Charlottevill Jewell.

NEW SERIES.

CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1884.

VOL. XIII—NO. 18

THE HERALD.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

OFFICES:
Macdonald's Building, West Side
Queen Street, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

THE HERALD

HAS NOW THE Largest Circulation of any paper on this Island,
AND IS INCREASING AT THE RATE OF TWO HUNDRED COPIES A MONTH

Advertisements inserted at reasonable rates.
Advertisements without instructions to the contrary, will be continued until forbidden.
Items and general news of interest, in a condensed form, solicited.
Remittances can be made by registered letter.
Address all orders and correspondence to the HERALD OFFICE, Queen Street, Charlottetown.

RICHARD WALSH, Publisher.

JOHN MACPHEE & CO.

ARE CLEARING OUT THE BALANCE OF THEIR

WINTER GOODS

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

Remnants at Half Price, CLOTHING AT COST.

Call Early and Get Bargains.

JOHN MACPHEE & CO.,
ROBERT ORR'S OLD STAND.
January 23, 1884—7r

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!
BARGAINS!!

Upholstered Goods

DIRECT FROM THE BEST MARKETS, We CAN and WILL give the Best Value at the Lowest Prices

We are now manufacturing One Doz. Parlor Sets.

MARK WRIGHT & CO.
Charlottetown, January 2, 1884.

THEO. L. CHAPPELLE,
Sole Agent for B. Laurance's Spectacles, for Prince Edward Island, Diamond Bookstore, 89 Queen Street, Charlottetown.

READ TESTIMONIALS:

From Lieut. Governor Hamilton.
GOVERNMENT HOUSE, 1st June 1883.

From Rev. Mr. Macphie.
CHARLOTTETOWN, 1st June 1883.

From Mr. Laurance.
1st June 1883.

From Mr. Laurance.
1st June 1883.

From Mr. Laurance.
1st June 1883.

M. HENNESSY,

Furniture Dealer,
No. 36 Great George Street,
P. E. ISLAND.

Good Furniture made to order at Cheapest Rates. All orders filled promptly.
Undertaking attended to in all its branches, in town or country north by AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs.
The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unimportant ex-posure, is often followed by the beginning of a fatal illness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL will prove its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung disease, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.
In 1852 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs, and I had a terrible cough, and passed my nights almost without sleep. The doctors gave me up, and I was in a very bad way.
I procured a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of this medicine, my cough went away, and I was restored to my former health. I can never thank you enough for this medicine. Sincerely yours,
C. H. FETTER, 1872.

SULLIVAN & MACNEILL,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Solicitors in Chancery, NOTARIES PUBLIC, &c.

OFFICES: O'Halloran's Building, Great George Street, Charlottetown.
W. W. SULLIVAN, Q. C. CHESTER B. MACNEILL, junior

Group. — A Mother's Testimony.
"While in the country last winter, this boy, three years old, was taken ill with a cough.
I was in a very bad way, and I was in a very bad way, and I was in a very bad way.
I procured a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
for the recovery of my strength. By the
continued use of this medicine, my cough
went away, and I was restored to my former
health. I can never thank you enough for this medicine. Sincerely yours,
C. H. FETTER, 1872.

I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and I can not say enough for its efficacy. It is a very good medicine, and I can recommend it to all who are afflicted with a cough, throat, or lung disease. I can never thank you enough for this medicine. Sincerely yours, J. W. MOORE, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1871.

I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. I can recommend it to all who are afflicted with a cough, throat, or lung disease. I can never thank
you enough for this medicine. Sincerely
yours, J. W. MOORE, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1871.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all druggists.

GROCERY

Tea House,
MONAGHAN'S BRICK BUILDING,
West Side Queen Street.

THE Subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is prepared to supply FLOUR,
MEAL,
TEA,
COFFEE,
SUGAR,
MOLASSES,
and all other articles to be found in a first class Grocery Store, at lowest possible prices.
Also, 10,000 CIGARS, choice brands, which will be sold cheap.

P. MONAGHAN,
Charlottetown, June 6, 1883.

Indulgences and Excesses.
Whether over eating or drinking are made harmless by Hop Bitters? These elegant appetite and energy by using them before and after meals. They are a tonic and restorative, leaving the head clear, nerves steady, and the feelings buoyant, and we have every reason to believe, that the pleasing effects of a Christmas or sumptuous dinner containing days afterwards.

Eminent Testimony.
N. J. W. in address, Aug. 15, 1880.
"I find that in addition to the pure spirit contained in their composition, they contain the extracts of hops and other ingredients which are so beneficial to the system, and which are so highly approved by the medical profession, that I can not say enough for their efficacy. I can recommend them to all who are afflicted with indigestion, or any other ailment of the stomach or bowels. I can never thank you enough for this medicine. Sincerely yours, GREEN, B. RAU, U. S. Com. In Rev.

Hardened Liver.
Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about all day.
I became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water. All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me.
I procured a bottle of Hop Bitters, and in one month my liver and kidneys were cured, and I was able to go about as usual. I can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.
I can never thank you enough for this medicine. Sincerely yours,
J. W. MOORE, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1871.

Deaf and Suffering.
"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured a bottle of Hop Bitters, and in one month we were well, and none of us have suffered since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.
I can never thank you enough for this
medicine. Sincerely yours,
J. W. MOORE, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1871.

NEW LUMBER YARD.
THE undersigned has opened a Lumber Yard on Queen's Wharf, Charlottetown, where a full supply of all classes of Lumber, suitable for building purposes, will be kept constantly on hand. He respectfully solicits a share of the patronage of the citizens, and of country residents in general.

PATRICK HOGAN,
Charlottetown, May 1, 1883—1yr

C. P. FLETCHER
HAS just received a tremendous stock of ORGANS, PIANOS, and general MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, at Fletcher's Music Store.

SIGN OF THE BIG FIDDLE.
Charlottetown, Nov. 14, 1883.

Roman Intelligence.

Rome, Feb. 7, 1884.

The Marquis de Molins has been appointed Spanish Ambassador to the Vatican.

By Apostolic Brief, dated 18th January, the Holy Father has transferred Mgr. Dominique Manney, titular Bishop of Dulmo, to the Episcopal See of Mobile, in the Episcopal Province of New Orleans.

Amongst the questions which have occupied the Cardinal Commission of Historical Studies, is that of the development of paleographic studies. It has been a special object of labor and solicitude. For its advancement a chair of paleography, adjacent to the Vatican Archives, will be instituted.

The Polyglot publishing office of the Propaganda has recently begun the printing of a precious collection of fragments of the Holy Scriptures in the Hebrew language. These fragments, preserved in the Borgias Museum of the Propaganda, have been collected together and put in order by the Rev. Father Casca, of the Order of St. Augustine, who was charged with this task by the Sacred Congregation of Propaganda.

The judgment in the Propaganda law suit concerning the Propaganda has been finally decided. On the 29th of January the question was discussed before the Court of Cassation in Rome, the Propaganda being defended by the learned Giordani and Corsi—the latter having through ill-health, sent his plea in manuscript. These lawyers demonstrated, amongst other things, that the Propaganda was not a corporation, but a society of character, and that for these and other reasons, its property ought not to fall under the law of conversion. The pretensions of the Royal Commissariat of the Defence, for the liquidation of the ecclesiastical property, were supported by the advocate Mari. The sentence is to the effect that the property of Propaganda is subject to conversion into Italian lands, and the Congregation is interdicted from increasing the same.

The whole proceedings are of the most doubtful character, even according to Italian law. It was almost a necessity of the case that judgment should be given in favor of the Propaganda. For many years past, while this case was still pending, the Government authorities seized and sold the property in the most reckless manner. The cost would have been enormous had the judgment not been given in favor of the Propaganda. The Government has been guilty of a wrong which it might be decided in a contrary manner, for it was felt that the President of the Ancona Court had a habit of reversing the decisions of the President of the Court in Rome. This last sentence in favor of the Propaganda, passed on the January 29th, passed years after the Propaganda property was first seized, is that of the Presidents of all the Courts of Cassation in Italy.

Cardinal Luigi Bilio, conserved by the Last Sacraments and by the Benediction of the Holy Father, died in residence in Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday evening, January 30th. Born at Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in 1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As Consulator of several Roman congregations, especially of the Holy Office, he acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called philosophies which have prevailed in this century. Hence it was that he was selected by Pius IX. to draw up the matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Cardinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the Vatican Council he was President of the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal Bilio was one of those designated for the tiara. But he declined it, as he would not accept this dignity, as it was beyond his qualifications; and it is also reported that he begged his friends to vote for Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The Holy Father died in his residence in Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the
tiara. But he declined it, as he would
not accept this dignity, as it was beyond
his qualifications; and it is also reported
that he begged his friends to vote for
Cardinal Pecci, to-day Leo XIII. The
Holy Father died in his residence in
Rome at ten o'clock, on Wednesday
evening, January 30th. Born at
Alessandria della Paglia, in Piedmont, in
1826, Cardinal Bilio was in his 58th
year. At the age of 14 he was admitted
as a cleric in the Congregation of St.
Paul, in which he gained the esteem of
the religious by his devotion and his
intelligence. After having been Professor of literature and the Greek language, he became Lecturer of Philosophy
in the Ducal College of Parma, in Naples
and in Rome. He taught afterwards
logic, metaphysics, and natural law. As
Consulator of several Roman congrega-
tions, especially of the Holy Office, he
acquired great acquaintance with the
errors and difficulties of the so-called
philosophies which have prevailed in this
century. Hence it was that he was
selected by Pius IX. to draw up the
matter of the Syllabus. The learning
and acumen displayed by Father Bilio
in this labor were so striking that Pius IX.
raised him, at the early age of 40, to the
honorable office of Cardinal. Cardinal
Bilio, although so keen in detecting error,
was chiefly known for his kindness,
gentleness and charity. He was Car-
dinal-Bishop of Salina, Prefect of the
Congregation of the Propaganda, and
Secretary of the Inquisition. At the
Vatican Council he was President of
the Commission of Dogma. During
the Conclave, it is said that Cardinal
Bilio was one of those designated for the tiara. But