The following very sensible remarks are from an editorial in the fearless and independent Hamilton Times, and "make their point":

The press has points of superiority over the pulpit. It addresses a wider circle, and it talks six days in the week, heard on the seventh day. The written words can be studied at leisure, and the exact shade of meaning ascertained, whereas the spoken word is heard and is gene; before a man can decide whether an argument is right or wrong, his at-tention is taken by the next sentence. Assuming that both the writer and the Assuming that both the writer and the preacher are anxious to tell the truth, the former is more likely to do so because he knows that people can talk back at him. The preacher steps into the pulpit and has it all his own way. It would be a breach of etiquette for any man in the congression. It would be a breach of etiquette for any man in the congregation to stand up and dispute the preacher's statements. And the sudience is predisposed by sympathy to accept what the preacher says as true. If he makes a little slip he is credited with good intentions. But the editors of the sudience is predisposed by the control of the sudience is predisposed by sympathy to accept what the preacher says as true. If he makes a little slip he is credited with good intentions. But the editor of a newspaper writes with the ever-present knowledge that, if there is any flaw in his argument or any mis-statement of fact, a hundred "esteemed contemporaries" stand ready to hold him up to ridicule, and thousands of readers may notice his blunder. There it will stand in black and white, perhaps to be dug from a musty file and called up in judgfashion, but nobody reads a newspaper "to be seen of men." While the preacher is making his best point, the gentleviline, nerve pain cure. rand in the middle pew, with the devout cast of countenance, may be figuring on the probability of an advance in stocks, or deciding how much those last year's carpets will have to be marked down to run them off. The same man's reading of the newspaper is a voluntary act, and his attention is given to the lines he is reading. If he wants to think of stocks and prices, he does so at a time when he is not reading the paper. And the ladies! The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other langerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who preactibed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored.—C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered 8tomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Coustipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—
