MONTREAL, Nov. 24.
The death of Sir Edward Seaborn Clouston, Bart., one of the best known bankers and financiers in Canada, occurred to-day.

MADRID, Nov. 24.
The sensational discovery has been made that the assassin of Emperor William was but one instrument in an anarchistic plot which also embraced the killing of Emperor William of Germany. Following this discovery, Germany secret service police have been notified to keep close watch upon all foreigners in Berlin. Special guard has been kept over King Alfonso and General Weyler ever since the killing of Canalejas.

SOFIA, Nov. 24.
The besieged garrison at Adrianople attempted a general sortie yesterday afternoon. The Turkish troops, however, were thrown back into the fortress after a battle which lasted throughout the afternoon. They lost heavily. This was the first sortie of its kind by the whole garrison, and is supposed by the besiegers to be undertaken with a view to repositioning the town, the population of which is suffering from scarcity of food.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.
German official circles express themselves quite undisturbed by the sinister rumours regarding the international situation emanating from Vienna. It is declared the prospect of a peaceful settlement of the Austro-Serbian conflict is distinctly improved. The report that the Austro-Hungarian Government made representations to Russia is discredited here; but instead relations between Vienna and Petersburg are understood to have improved since Russia gave Serbia to understand that she cannot have her support for her demand for a port on the Adriatic Sea. The reported tension between Roumania and Austria-Hungary, is also discredited.

LONDON, Nov. 24.
A story of lawlessness and looting by Bulgarian and Greek troops at Saloniki, where the inhabitants are in terror lest the Allies should fall fighting with each other, has been sent by the Reuter correspondent. The correspondent is an Englishman of many years' residence in Saloniki, and thoroughly acquainted with the city and surrounding country. He writes that the Bulgarians on the march to Saloniki had already their share of blood and rapine, having ravaged, without mercy, Turkish villages en route. As soon as they entered Saloniki they instituted a system of pillage of the quarters occupied by them. Regardless of remonstrances of Greek officials, a continuous fusillade was kept up, November 10th and 11th, by soldiers of Bulgarian and Greek armies, and among the Christian population may casualties occurred. A stoker of the steamer Mado was killed by a hail of bullets, which according to reports of ship's officers also fell on the decks of foreign warships. For several nights soldiers, guarded by roughs, entered whatever house appeared to offer prospects of booty, and cleaned out everything worth taking. The terror-stricken owners offered no resistance, as it would be useless in view of fixed bayonets over their breasts and revolvers pointed at their temples. Hundreds of cases of this kind have been reported. The victims made complaints into the ears of foreign consuls, who made indignant protests to the Greek authorities, but with little effect. The arrival of a body of Greek gendarmes, Nov. 12th, improved the situation. In the meantime a violent anti-Jewish outbreak occurred, apparently because the Jews abstained from decorating their houses with Greek flags, and did not join in shouting welcome to the Greek soldiers. The difference between the Bulgarians and Greeks regarding the ultimate destiny of Saloniki has reached an acute stage. There is no fraternizing. King Ferdinand is expected to reach here soon for the purpose of reminding King George by his presence that he is not the only potentate in Saloniki. The Bulgarians have resolved that the occupation of Saloniki will be permanent, and there are many incidents to prove that the relation between the Bulgarians and Greeks at this moment is really pronounced enmity. The departure of all foreign warships was certainly limited.

LONDON, Nov. 24.
Troops suffered terrible hardships, says a Post correspondent with the Montenegrin forces, outside Scutari. A swollen lake has flooded the whole country, and the men practically live under water and under conditions no European army could endure. A good half of the Montenegrin army is without tents, a great majority of them with no change of clothing, and the brief intervals of fine weather are insufficient to dry their rain coats or other garments. The toughness of the mountain soldiers is amazing.

Almeriana Arrives.
The Furness Liner Almeriana, Capt. Fairclough, reached port yesterday morning, after a run of fifty-four hours from Halifax. Favorable weather was had until Cape Race was reached where fog was met and the ship had to reduce steam. While waiting to hear the sound of the horn from the Cape Allan boat Carthaginian, which was stopped in the fog, was spoken to from the Cape. The Almeriana made a good run to port. She brought a full freight, the largest she has ever brought here in one trip. Her cargo includes flour, pork, apples, oranges, canned goods and a quantity of kerosene oil and deals which she has on deck. The steamer is expected to get away for Liverpool on Wednesday morning taking an outward cargo of fish.

DON'T WAIT.

During changeable weather in Spring and Fall thousands of children contract Sore Throats as result of exposure, getting feet wet, etc. A neglected sore throat is likely to develop into Tonsillitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria, or a chronic state of Rheumatism that will impair bearing. Often operations on the Tonsils become necessary because a simple sore throat is neglected. Staffords Pectoral is the best preparation known for all sore throat troubles.

To Dr. Stafford & Son, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Dear Sirs,—I received the medicine you sent me for my child. I thank you very much for sending it so quick and believe it had just arrived in time to save my child as he was nearly gone. After giving the child a few doses, it completely cured him and now he is as well and hearty a child can be. It was genuine medicine for that complaint.

Wishing you prosperity.

Yours truly,

Signed,

Don't forget the name PHAROS prepared only by Dr. P. Stafford & Son, St. John's, Newfoundland. Price 25 cts. Postage 5 cts. extra.

C. B. Collections.

At all the Masses in the Cathedral and St. Patrick's yesterday it was announced that the annual collection for the Christian Brothers would be taken up on Sunday next. This is an event of more than ordinary importance to the people of St. John's for it affords them an opportunity of giving to the good Brothers a tangible expression of the appreciation they feel for the splendid educational work they (the Brothers) are doing here. This is well exemplified in the large number of pupils who are being trained at St. Patrick's and Holy Cross Schools, not alone to fit them for the practical issues of life but also to impress upon them the higher ideals of Christian virtue which tend to good citizenship. Another evidence of the value of the Brothers in our midst is afforded by the great number of former pupils who fill positions of trust and responsibility not alone in the land of their birth but on the neighbouring continent.

Missing Man Arrives Home

Had Free Health Trip.

There are various ways of taking a health trip but the cheapest and most economical to date is that adopted by the young man Bennett, for whose whereabouts gave concern was expressed. About ten days ago he was celebrating unwisely and went aboard the S. S. Almeriana at the Furber's Wharf Line pier, unconsciously. He happened to fall asleep and did not wake until the ship was in mid-ocean, consequently he was brought on to Halifax where the steamer was bound. Bennett returned yesterday and boasts of enjoying his trip, which was at the expense of the ship-owners, immensely, as well as having gained notoriety in the newspapers, because of his disappearance from home. Bennett, who is a practical joker, has assured his friends that his latest and cheap method recuperating certainly beats "the limit."

Buried in Trench

While at work in the cut which the Council is making for the laying of a water main on the South Side, Saturday afternoon, John Nearn, of Queen's Road, narrowly escaped being buried alive. While at work the bank on one side caved in and the earth buried the man to the shoulders. His fellow workmen hastened to his aid and after some time the man was released from his painful predicament. He was driven to his home where a doctor was called to see him. To-day the X-Rays will be used to determine what bones are broken, if any.

IN THE YEAR 1932

how much will you have accumulated at your present rate of saving? Most men will have little or nothing saved if conditions are at all similar to those of to-day.

Every prominent young man appreciates the wisdom of accumulating for his own benefit at least, and looks forward to an old age of comfort and enjoyment relieved from want and worry. And every thoughtful man endowed with manhood feels that a duty rests upon him to make some provision for others dependent upon him.

The safest, simplest and most profitable way to accomplish all this, and to be sure of a snug competency by the year 1932, is by investing in a Canada Life Endowment Policy for $5,000 or $10,000, according to your means and requirements. The policy can be bought on easy instalments and facilities are provided to assist in carrying and enjoying the insurance.

Send in your name and age and let us submit to you a good proposition.
