Coal Dealers, Take Notice!

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find an item from the Montreal Herald of last week, giving in detail, the prices set by the Controller on all coal sold in Cape Breton. It will be seen that the Sydney Coal Co. have to sell for $4.75 per ton, f.o.b.

How is it that the same coal is sold here by our PATRIOTIC coal dealers for $16.00?

Isn't it time that this abuse was removed?

Whose business is it to stop this kind of extortion?

Wouldn't the local press be doing good work for the mothers, wives, children and widows of our brave soldiers if it started a drive on the profiteers in our midst, who are reaping a golden harvest out of the life-blood of our bravest and best?

Yours,

CONSUMER.

West Coast Notes.

The oil wells at Port au Port show an abundance of oil.

J. C. Batten has been appointed sub collector at Flower's Cove, in place of P. Cox, of Bonaville Bay, who has retired owing to ill health.

Hon. Justice Johnson will consider exemption applications under the M. S. A. along the coast from Bonne Bay to Placentia during the month of August.

Operations at the limestone quarries at Agathana are rushing. They are putting on a big blast there shortly by which they expect to throw out fifty thousand tons of limestone at one time.

A party of prospectors including Dr. J. W. Forbes, Prof. H. B. Hickey and Dr. Mook, have been engaged on this coast for some weeks investigating the timber, mineral, agricultural, and water-power possibilities of the various properties of the various properties of the Reid Nfld. Co.—Western Star.

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left wrist nearly severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand, and tried other liniments, also doctors, and was receiving no benefit. By a persuasion from a friend I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and used one bottle which completely cured me, and have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family ever since and I find it the same as when I first used it, and would never be without it.

On Thursday, July 25th, at the Orange Hall, Foster's Point, Smith's Sound, a concert and tea were given to raise funds for the W.P.A. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pittman, of Clarendville, kindly offered their services to entertain us. The sketches in costume given by them were greatly appreciated by the audience. The sum of $30.87 was realized:

By admission $ 6.25
By collection in room 6.46
By sale of teas and syrup 18.11

Total $30.87

The money has been forwarded to headquarters of the W.P.A. as follows:

For wool $16.73

For Red Cross Fund 14.14

Total $30.87

We wish to thank most heartily all who worked to make the evening so successful.

Hon. Secy. and Treas. W.P.A., White

Rock Branch.

White Rock, July 30, 1918.

Why Not.

"In any town or settlement in this Colony, the Governor in Council may appoint a Board of five members to be known as a Public Library Board. Every such Board when appointed shall be a body corporate and politic under the name of 'The Public Library Board for (the town or settlement for which it is appointed),' and shall have power to acquire and hold lands for the purposes for which it is appointed, and to receive bequests and donations of money and to invest such money, and generally to have all necessary powers for the management and control of Public Libraries in their respective towns and settlements."

We wish to draw the attention of some well meaning philanthropist to the above, and to remind him of the great need for a Public Library in this city. It is generally known that we have no such institution, but that we should have one is believed by all. There is only one way to do away with the evil of a certain class of literature now sold openly in the city, and of the obscene foreign post cards, and that is by establishing a Public Library. A law could be passed, compelling all importers of books, and other literature to deposit one copy of each in the Library, and contributions could be made by all lovers of books, so that it would not be long before we would have a nucleus. Another good plan would be to establish the Public Library and the National Art Gallery in the same building, having one on the up and one on the downstairs flats. What have the Social Service Council, and Hon. John Anderson to say to this proposition?

For All We Have And Are.

(Kipling.)
For all we have and are.
For all our children's fate.
Stand up and meet the war.
The Hun is at the gate!
Our world has passed away
In vanishing of earth and
There is nothing left to-day
But steel and fire and stone!
Though all we knew depart.
The old commandments stand:
"In courage keep your heart."
"In strength lift up your hand."

Comfort, content, delight.
The ages slow-bought gain.
They shrivelled in a night.
Only ourselves remain.
To face the naked days
In silent fortitude
Through perils and dismay
Renewed and renewed.
Though all we made depart.
The old commandments stand:
"In patience keep your heart."
"In strength lift up your hand."

No easy hopes or lies
Shall bring us to our goal.
But iron sacrifice
Of body, will, and soul.
There is one task for all—
For each one left to give.
Who stands it freedom fight?
Who dies if England live?

THE NEAREST THING to the "real thing" about that high priced substitute of Marsh's "Par Excellence" Port Wine, soon to be placed on the market, is the price. Ask anybody who tried it—$20.10, m.c.

ALL THIS SEASONS'
GOODS.*STEER Brothers.*Cleaning Up Bagdad.

Paved streets, electric street lights, municipal sprinkling carts, a modern fire department; these are all in old Bagdad now. Or, rather, they are in new Bagdad, for the lumbering city on the Tigris has assumed a new aspect since the British drove out the Turks sixteen months ago. Nothing now remains of the filth and squalor of the Turkish regime. The place is still Oriental, but the Oriental atmosphere is less odiferous. Dead cats are not left to decompose in the middle of the narrow streets.

England has a wonderful way of leaving Orientalism unspoiled while making it reasonably clean. The British soldier cannot abide filth. His sanitary squads penetrate the remotest mews and the most deeply hidden cesspools, and the mews and cesspools cease to offend. The natives soon discover that cleanliness is not a horror. The Arab is not naturally vile, but he has fallen into the ways of his Turkish masters.

Bagdad is an interesting as ever, and ever so much safer. After the war many British tourists will visit the ancient Abbasid capital where ruled the mighty Caliphs, and will note with interest the British benefits bestowed on the city that Wilhelm and Gott once picked as the goalpost of Mitteleuropas—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Death of Foundress of G. F. S.

Another link with the past is broken by the death on June 14th of Mrs. Elizabeth Townsend, foundress of the Girls' Friendly Society. It was in 1874 that a historic gathering took place at Lambeth Palace, when Mrs. Townsend, with Mrs. Tait, Mrs. Harold Browne, Mrs. Nassau Senior and the Rev. T. V. Foote (Vicar of St. Giles), Reading, outlined a scheme for the G. F. S., which was actually started on January 1st, 1875. The society quickly spread to Scotland, Ireland, America and the overseas dominions, and now comprises upwards of 300,000 women and girls. In all developments of the society Mrs. Townsend took the deepest interest to the end of her long life—Canadian Churchman.

Germans Tried To Deceive Allies.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—When the Americans crossed the Marne recently they discovered that the retreating Germans had conceived a trick to deceive the Allied air bombers who were seeking out bridges and boats along the river and otherwise were active in preventing the Germans from crossing the stream.

The Americans found some large boats and floats held down and submerged by rocks, so arranged that they could be made accessible for use by the Germans in short order for crossing from the south to the north bank of the river. In instances these boats spanned the river and were held by cables, and it only required a short time to float them. The Germans did not get a chance to use their impromptu bridges, having been kept away from them by the fire of the Allied guns. The French and Americans, however, made use of the floats when they came along in hot pursuit of the enemy.

The A. S. C's Work.

M. de Maratray, a French war correspondent well known on the British front, publishes some remarkable figures concerning the supply services of the British Armies in France. According to his statistics, a single division requires every day approximately 200 tons of material, representing 450 tons of shipping space. One goods train every two days is employed for its conveyance, apart from horse and motor transport. This is in "quiet" times. When intense fighting is in progress, every mile of front absorbs something like 2,000 tons of supplies a day, so that a big battle on a fifty-mile front necessitates the daily transport of 100,000 tons. The transportation of a division of troops calls for the employment of thirty-five trains; the rail traffic involved in the simultaneous moving of several divisions is therefore something to rouse the imagination.
