West Coast Cargoes in Local Bottoms

The pessimistic artist of the Advocate draws a most gloomy and depressing pen picture of the conditions that are likely to Rico. prevail in Portugal because a been shipped to that country from the West Coast during the past six weeks. A list of the names of the carriers and their cargo complements are given. Of course these are always availing that so many vessels have been dispatched from ports between Placentia and Channel to a market, which has never refused to accept West Coast fish. Whether or not these cargoes at all relevant to the point at issue. Doubtless the shippers knew what they were doing when they cleared their vessels at the Custom Houses. What the Advocate does not know is that from time immemorial Portugal graded for each of the three unloading ports, Oporto, Lisbon and Vianna. The shippers of months in the Portuguese clifish can be held out straight by the tail without bending, it is not considered fit to go on board, and it can be stated without fear of contradiction that the number of West Coast cargoes turning out bad, for the past twenty or more years, may be counted on the fingers of one hand. The Advocate should be silent regarding West Coast shipments, and would, if it had any idea of the fitness of things. greeted with enthusiastic applause and The notorious Fish Regulations, sustained their parts well-Miss Stel- resignation of Chief officer Hay, who of execrable memory, were re- la Meaney and the twenty-five "Fays" is now Assistant Superintendent of sponsible for reducing the West | who carried the silver letters reading | the Morse Dry Docks, New York, have Coast from a condition of prosperity to one almost verging on songs by Miss Mary Goodland, Miss and 3rd officer Delton has been apple are getting back to their or- phant were very pleasing-Miss Mary late mate on the ill-fated Madeline overflows with indignation because they are doing their own __the little Fairles played by Margarbusiness in their own way.
