KEEPING IN LINE.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. Administration order to American ships to meet the work done in the direction of the battle of the Marne in December are Rodney.

BORAH CUTS LOOSE.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. The policy in the Ruhr is a violation of the Armistice terms, and the of Versailles, as an offense to humanity, in a statement issued by Senator Borah of Idaho, a Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, also criticized the State Department, whose policy he described as silence and inactivity, deploring the attitude of the United States should at least be protesting French operations.

OFFICER FIRED ON.
BRUSSELS, Jan. 23. Shots were fired to-day at a States Liaison officer, attached to the headquarters at Aix in Belgium. According to a despatch from Belgium the officer was

LONDON IS ANXIOUS.
LONDON, Jan. 23. The situation in the Ruhr is a dangerous situation in the Ruhr, as reports that French are engaged in activities in Cologne area, and that the French ordered the German finance officers from the Ruhr to the Times, the correspondence that the situation had reached a point where Britain must take the French plan or withdraw.

SITUATION IN RUHR.
BRUSSELS, Jan. 23. Fighting factions in the Ruhr at time to-day, while waiting from Mayence, where the court of Fritz Thyssen and six industrialists is proceeding before French authorities. They are refused with refusing to obey orders of the Control Commission, and it is meant a general strike in the Ruhr. The Thyssen plants and Mulheim are still on despite threats of strike unless employers are released. The are ready to meet a strike complete isolation of Ruhr and from the rest of Germany. Control Commission said it would not effort toward getting coal out of the Ruhr and into France, leaving to operate railroads and feed the population. Berlin wants the Ruhr to starve on business," one officer told reporters. "If any one starves in the Ruhr it will not be the French. The Germans have chosen their battlefield and we will fight them to a finish." General DeVignes expressed an opinion of the Ruhr Valley to be the scene of the last battle of a world war. "For fifty or a hundred years, if we lose, all our sacrifices of men and money made during the war have gone for naught," he said. "The majority of Ruhr coal miners were still at work at noon to-day, in spite of appeals from Union headquarters at Muenster and Elberfeld that they 'down tools'."

Sachem Due Thursday.

NOTHING FROM SHIP TO-DAY.
From the message received by the Furness Withy Co. yesterday from Capt. Furneaux, there is very little hope of S.S. Sachem reaching here before Thursday, as the ship has to keep further South than usual to avoid ice. Yesterday at 5 a.m. the hawseers to the Capto parted, and it was more than four hours before towing was resumed. Up to press hour to-day the Furness Withy Co. had no further news from the ship.

Concert at St. Joseph's.

On New Year's night the people of St. Joseph's were entertained to a concert, given by the school children in the Parish Hall. It was patronized by Rev. J. Enright, P.R., and many visitors from nearby settlements. The programme was with appropriate choruses, solos and dialogues, which were very amusing and interesting. The dialogues in particular, conveyed an instructive moral, to both the older and younger element of the audience. A few items worthy of a special remark, was a dance by eight or ten tots, which held the earnest attention of all, till the finish, and a solo, "The Holy City," rendered by Mrs. Bonia, merited due praise. After the singing of the final chorus, "Auld Lang Syne," Rev. J. Enright thanked the teachers and children for the rare treat offered, and thanked the audience for their attendance and attention, and indeed, special emphasis in praise to Miss Sullivan for the training of these children to such control, and confidence in taking their parts is due to her. After the concert the "Xmas Tree" was opened, with dancing and supper in order. The proceeds realized will help increase the parish fund, and thanks is due to all who were interested in the affair.

St. Joseph's, Jan. 18, 1923.
Portia Delayed by Weather.

SAILED AT DAYLIGHT THIS MORNING.
The Portia leaving here yesterday, found a heavy sea raking with dense fog, after getting outside the Heads, and fearing it might be dangerous rounding the Cape, Capt. Connors decided to return to port. After the ship returned, another effort was made at 5 p.m., but found no change in weather conditions, and having anchored in the stream all night, managed to get away at daylight this morning. The Portia passed Bay Bulls at 10.45 a.m.

G. F. S. Concert.

LARGE GATHERING ATTEND SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Girls' Friendly Society held a delightful concert in the Synod Hall last night before an audience that packed the spacious hall to its utmost capacity. The girl members of the Society had an excellent programme prepared for the occasion, and as each performer contributed a song, dance, or recitation, rounds of applause followed, and in each case encores were responded to. The feature item of the evening was the singing of Miss Nellie Buckley. This talented young lady was right at home and delighted her audience with three encores. Rev. Canon Jeeves occupied the chair during the evening, when the following programme was carried out without a hitch:—

Piano selection—Miss Rennie, with trap drum and effects.
Recitation—Mrs. Outerbridge.
Dance—Miss Fern Morris.
Song—Miss Nellie Buckley.
Dialogue—Messrs. N. Martin and M. Pearce.

Tambourine Dance—Miss Lilian Stephens.
Selection—Messrs. Allan and Harold Pittman.

Monologue—Miss B. Hookey.
Recitation—Miss B. Caldwell.
Piano Solo—Miss Violet Fitzpatrick.
Song and Dance—Miss Jean Hemmans.

Song—Mrs. D. Phelan.
Dance—Miss Stella Hemmans.
Gipsy Song and Dance—Chorus Girls.

Piano Solo—Miss Bessie Williams.
Song—Miss Mildred Caldwell.
Dance—Miss Stella Hemmans and Myrtle Butler.
Song—Misses Morris, Buckley, Fitzpatrick and M. Phelan.
Song—Miss Myrtle Butler.

Mr. Allan Pittman, who is an expert at the piano, acted as accompanist during the evening. A number of the Girl Guides were present in uniform and received a handsome sum for the sale of home made candy. The singing of the National Anthem terminated a successful evening's entertainment.

Quidi Vidi Sunday School

PRIZE DISTRIBUTION.
The annual Sunday School prize distribution at Quidi Vidi took place on Sunday, Jan. 21st, at 3.30 p.m., in Christ Church. The afternoon being a splendid one, the little church was well filled with the parents and friends of the children. (Of whom there were about 40 present) which was very gratifying and encouraging to the Superintendent and teachers. And, I am sure, it must have been a reward in itself to those who came, to see the delighted expression on the prize winners faces, as they received the prizes. No doubt, many travelled back in thought to their own school-days, when they, in their turn, received a prize for work well done. The service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Netten, who expressed his great delight to have the privilege of presenting the prizes to the children. In the course of his sermon (which was especially to the parents and teachers) he endeavoured to press home to them the great responsibility and privilege which was theirs and asked for the heartiest co-operation between them. The names of the prize winners are as follows:—

BOYS.
1st Class—1st, Miss Martin; 2nd, Mildred Fynn; 3rd, Irene Fynn.
2nd Class—1st, Ada Martin; 2nd, Mary G. Snow; 3rd, Mary H. Snow; 4th, Rita Horwood.
3rd Class—1st, Agnes Amminson; 2nd, Hannah Horwood; 3rd, Mary Morris; 4th, Mary French.

BOYS.
1st Class—1st, Philip Snow; 2nd, Weston Horwood; 3rd, Alexander Snow; 4th, Edgar Morris.
2nd Class—1st, Wm. Harris; 2nd, Bertram Harris; 3rd, John Morris.
3rd Class—1st, Gerald Morris; 2nd, Clifton Martin; 3rd, Arthur Amminson.

SPECIALS.
Miss Martin for attendance. Thos. Hennebury for good conduct. Mary Morris for good conduct and Muriel Fynn Consolation prize. Canon Netten, who is in his 76th year, is still hale and hearty and can be seen daily wending his way through the streets of our city, on his errand of love. He takes a very live interest in all matters pertaining to the spiritual welfare of Quidi Vidi.—R.G.B.

Rotary Luncheon.

DR. J. S. TAIT DELIVERS ADDRESS.

At the weekly meeting of Rotary Club held to-day at West End Restaurant, the speaker was Dr. J. S. Tait. Arrangements were first made that he should address the gathering on "Juvenile Offenders," but as the club has under consideration the recent survey of boy life it was thought best by the Committee to postpone this subject for a later date. Dr. Tait according chose "The Realm of Science," a subject which he has been a devotee for nearly a half century. Under the title "Architects of the Modern Scientific World," the speaker compressed into the 15 minutes allowed a very clear explanation of the Hertz or electrical waves used in wireless telegraphy and the ordinary light waves recorded by the optic sense. In opening his address Dr. Tait said that whilst the foundations were laid in the centuries past, modern science is relatively new, and many of the advances came within his own purview. It was only at the beginning of the nineteenth century that the great discoveries of the ages began to dawn on the consciousness of mankind, and then only through the work of a few patient men, who had caught the spirit which Galileo inspired, and passed on to Newton, Franklin, Faraday and Maxwell. These and other pioneers, the speaker mentioned, as the architects of the modern scientific world. Defining true science as the loving interpretation of the world we live in, he said, the minds of men capable of attaining to such heights of appreciation and the evidence around us of an all pervading personality are only so many additional reasons why we should obey the voice of nature and strive to comprehend, as far as we can, those unique problems in connection with that vast sublime—age enduring cosmos, which we call the universe. At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker, Mr. W. D. Rowland, of New York, and Mr. A. H. Salford were invited guests at the luncheon to-day. Mr. D. J. Davies was admitted a new member.

Obituary.

MRS. MATTHEW JOY OF PORT AU PORT.

On New Year's night, the messenger of death cast its shadow over the home of Matt. Joy, Port au Port, and claimed from its circle, his wife Marion. For the past few years she had been afflicted with a prostrated illness, and though she received the best medical treatment at St. John, N.B., and at home, she did not rally under its effects, but yielded up her frail life, and passed to the realms of the Great Beyond. She was in her third year, and before her marriage, was for several years a trusted employee of the Singer Sewing Machine Office, where she made a number of friends, who will deeply regret her passing. She possessed a very quiet, and gentle disposition, and her kindly smile will be missed by those who loved her. Left to mourn, beside a husband and two children, her mother, Mrs. Norris, two brothers, John and Gerald, and a sister, Mrs. Denis Daly at St. Joseph's, also Madeline at New York, and Mrs. Hennessey, St. John, N.B. To these, and to other friends, we offer our deepest sympathy, and for the dear departed a fervent requiescat in pace.

HE DIDN'T KNOW.
Nothing less than a public school education was considered fit for the son of the man who had luckily made a fortune. The boy returned home from his first term full of importance. "Well, Johnny, and what have you taught you?" asked father. "French, German, and Euclid," he stammered. Now, just tell me the Euclid for 'Good-morning'?"
