The Eastern War.
LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai says: A Tien Tsin dispatch from Chinese sources says that fourteen Japanese ships, with over 4,000 troops, are attacking Port Arthur. The Chinese garrison, numbering 5,000 men, and the Chinese fleet have been ordered to attack the Japanese.

Lunacy in London.
LONDON, Aug. 31.—London is fast losing its head, according to the recent report of the English commissioners in lunacy. According to the returns made to them there were, on Jan. 1, 92,067 lunatics, idiots and persons of unsound mind in England and Wales. London showed the most surprising increase. In its annual address to the county council several weeks ago, Sir John Hutton pointed out this fact. In 1889 the number of pauper lunatics in London was 16,041, and the last report shows there are 18,068. The big increase last year is attributed by one London paper to the blazing hot months of the summer. This year the London sun is making mends by keeping under cover.

War in Samoa.
APIA, Samoa, Aug. 15, via San Francisco, Aug. 31.—The ships of Great Britain and Germany have interfered in the troubles here. Skirmishes had taken place between the warring tribes, resulting in the killing of eight or ten persons.

The natives had become short of food, stealing from foreigners. Their mode of living had produced a great deal of illness and death, so that, in the interests of common humanity, interference by the powers became absolutely necessary, and the rebels were notified that they must disperse.

On Saturday morning the rebel fortifications were shelled by the war ships, and all but destroyed.

On Sunday morning the rebels and the king's warriors came together at Lufilufi. Several loyalists were killed.

Early Monday morning, Aug. 13, the war ships Cracoea and Buzzard again opened fire on the rebels, killing and injuring a large number. Simultaneously the king's warriors attacked them on shore.

On Monday evening the rebels made promises of complete submission to Mafetoga's rule, agreeing to pay their taxes, return to their homes and to deliver up 100,000 rifles.

Later on the Anna rebels joined the Atua party and these combined forces attacked the king's warriors.

Throughout the night the roar of the Buzzard's guns could be heard. This morning the Curacaoe left for the scene of the trouble.

Cable Flashes.
Lord Tweedmouth has forwarded to the Irish Parliamentary fund the sum of £100 from Mr. Gladstone, with an expression of the ex-Premier's wish for the success of the Irish cause.

The Dublin evening Herald (Parnellite), commenting on the contribution, says it is the price of Gladstone's treachery to Ireland.

The elections to the Landsting in Denmark have resulted in a large Conservative majority.

It is announced that by the last agreement between France and the Congo State all the parts on the right bank of Mboma River were ceded to France.

The Lombard natives are fortifying Mataram, and are also strengthening the force of men holding the place. Two Englishmen have been arrested at Ampam.

Russia will send to the East Asiatic waters the warship the Ensigner Nicholas I., armor clad, 8,000 tons, 24 guns, and the Pamiat Azova, armor clad, 6,000 tons, 33 guns. They are reckoned among the most powerful vessels of the Russian navy.

A dispatch from Hui Noi, capital of Tonquin, says that last Monday night Chinese attacked the house of M. Challet, collector of customs at Monkei, killed him and kidnapped his wife and daughter. Troops were sent out in pursuit of the Chinese, but failed to overtake them.

Justin Huntley McCarthy, son of Justin McCarthy, has been married to Marie Cecelia Loftus, better known as "Cissie" Loftus, the music hall singer. The ceremony was performed by the sheriff of Edinburgh.

A London cable in regard to the stock market says: There was a bullish feeling everywhere today, but actual dealings were chiefly confined to South American securities, which were very strong. American railways showed a further improvement, closing $\frac{1}{2}$ under the best. Mercantile difficulties in the jute trade are reported from Dundee, but nothing very serious.

The train was well filled with returning passengers from the Adirondacks, but only three were hurt at all, while none were injured seriously. The locomotive, tender and baggage car were wrecked.

A DECISIVE BATTLE.
Reported to Have Been Fought Between Japs and Chinese.

The Result Yet Unknown—Many Thousand Warriors on the Move.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Central News Shanghai advises this morning say the result of the attack upon Port Arthur is not positively known. It is reported that 4,500 Japanese were landed and they with fourteen vessels took part in the attack.

The Chinese Government has issued orders for 5,000 troops and a fleet to proceed to Port Arthur and attack the Japanese.

Eleven Japanese transports conveyed by five warships have landed 6,000 men, and 300 horses were landed at Chemulpo, whence the entire force marched to the northward. Thirty thousand Japanese troops in Korea are marching northward.

The Emperor of China has ordered four native banks to provide the Government with 10,000,000 taels, to be used in prosecuting the war. It was expected that a decisive battle would be fought yesterday, but no news of an engagement has yet been received.

At the Patrons' picnic at Kingston Grand President Mallory said that if the day ever came when the Patron party became the tool of Mowat or Meredith in the Local day would see a Mallory leave the Patron party. He had called the severe Patron members to meet at Toronto in a few weeks.

LON ON END ENVIRONS.

—Capt. Magee, city, will drill the St. Thomas Liberal Fleet on Monday night.

—Dr. Gardiner this morning handed to the city clerk his resignation from the Board of Health.

—A large steamer across the front of the Palace Dancing Academy announces the opening Monday evening, Sept. 10.

—G. H. Cowan, formerly of this city, is the secretary-treasurer of the new Conservative Association at Vancouver, B. C.

—School Trustee T. S. Ford, of Cleveland, Ohio, has been inspecting London's kindergarten system, which Cleveland will adopt.

—Mr. J. H. Griffiths was yesterday re-appointed principal of the Western Art School. It is intended to push things this season.

—Mr. S. B. Coon is going to erect a brick house on the east side of Waterloo street, between Central and Princess avenues. It will cost $3,000.

—The horse of J. A. Sutherland, referred to in yesterday's issue, died last evening. It was a very fine animal and valued at $200. Its death was caused by the man in charge changing its diet.

—There were registered at the city clerk's office during the month of August 61 births and 48 deaths, and for July and August 74 marriages. Old age was the cause of a number of deaths.

The Advertiser observes that at the Connecticut prohibition convention, held recently at Hartford, and presided over by Marvin Knowlton, held the position of temporary chairman and took a prominent part in the proceedings.

—Daniel Nicholls and George Johns, respectable-looking young men of 23 years, eyed the police magistrate through the bars of the court cage this morning. They had, like many other knights of the road, been caught in C. P. R. box cars. They said they had just arrived from Detroit, where they had looked in vain for work, and they thought they would try their luck in Canada. Both were allowed to go.

—A Warren, Ohio, exchange commends the pluck of Miss Mary McKinnon, housekeeper for Mr. Charles Wannamaker and family, of that place. She discovered a burglar trying to enter the house and, securing a revolver fired twice at him. The thief faced the door and fired at Miss McKinnon, without success. She kept on shooting and finally the noise scared the burglar away. Miss McKinnon is a London young lady and a sister of Mrs. R. H. Geldart, 116 Colborne street.

—At the regular meeting of the quarterly official board of the Askin Street Methodist Church, held last evening, the pastor, Mr. Cullen, made a proposition which was very highly appreciated and unanimously accepted by his brethren, viz., that his salary be the voluntary contributions of his people through the envelope weekly offering. Regarding the salary of the previous year as a fair stipend, he was willing to share their struggles in a lessened sum, or their prosperity in an increased amount, as God might lead him and them. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Cullen for his brotherly consideration and oneness with his people.

—An admirer writes: Could not the Marine Band be induced to repeat the magnificent programme presented at Victoria Park last night? I was particularly impressed with the quality of tone, bold and strong attack, and the really artistic phrasing. In fact the style in which each number was presented, the perfect control of the conductor's baton seemed to wind over the performers, was marvellous—considering the short time this organization has been in existence. Mr. Fred L. Evans certainly deserves a great deal of praise for the position his band already holds among the musical organizations of Ontario, and older and more pretentious ones must look to their laurels, or the Marines will sweep the deck, if white pants are but $12 per dozen.

The Ensign, the organ of Loan and Building Societies, says: "The Birkbeck Loan Company, of London, Ontario, is reported to be making substantial progress this year. At the date of making the last year's report, it had been in operation only three months in operation, only been two or three months in operation, so there was no statement worthy of being printed, it was necessarily small. Every company cannot pretend to be the largest in its first or any subsequent year, but we can see nothing in the personnel or plans of the New London Birkbeck that do not forecast success and ample growth in the future, especially if, by vigorous effort, extension in good fields be secured at an early day to allay that over-cautious prejudice against every new organization which is the particular task of every first board and management."

—In the matter of the Dominion Provident Benevolent and Endowment Association, which is being wound up under the Insurance Act by the master in chancery at Stratford, a judgment has just been given by C. J. Armour, disallowing all the master's reports but three clauses. It seems that the master, in proceeding with the winding up, held that the directors were bound to repay certain sums, amounting in all to nearly $20,000, which they had paid over by direction of the certificate-holders, but which the master held should not have been paid out. Some of the directors and certificate-holders who did not believe this was right and who were represented at the Stratford proceedings by Mr. T. H. Luscombe, of this city, protested against the findings of the master, but he nevertheless made his report to the court, holding the directors liable. A meeting of certificate-holders in this city was held and Mr. Luscombe, who has made a specialty of friendly society law, advised the directors to appeal. This was done and the appeal was argued on April 17 last. The chief justice reserved judgment, and has only just given his decision, allowing the appeal and finding that the master had no power to make the directors liable.

Conservatory Exams.
The following were the successful students in the competition for the scholarships offered by the Conservatory of Music and School of Elocution last June. The scholars are worth the following amounts in lessons:

Form A, Miss Bessie Moore, 1st, $40; Miss Edna Gartschore, 2nd, $30.

Form B, Miss Maud McLaren, 1st, $20; Miss Allie Marshall, 2nd, $10.

Form C, Miss Irene Love, 1st, $10; Miss Mamie Bowen, 2nd, $5.

G. T. R. Employees' Excursion.
The annual excursion of the G. T. R. employees in this city is being held today at Niagara Falls. A very cheap rate and a good place for a day's outing drew an enormous crowd, numbering nearly 3,000 people. Four trains were necessary to convey the excursionists, each comprising twelve of the Grand Trunk's best cars. The first train pulled out of the East End station at 5:40, the others following at 6:05, 6:25, and 7:15. The fare for employees was 50 cents, for the general public, $1.75, all tickets good for three days.

The Late Carrie Westland.
An estimable young lady passed away, and a bright and promising life terminated early yesterday morning, by the death of Miss Carrie Westland, youngest daughter of one of London's pioneer business men, Mr. Wm. Westland, South London. The deceased had been ailing for about a year and a half with a trouble which baffled the skill of the physicians to designate, but which finally assumed the nature of inflammation of the bowels. Miss Westland took a trip to California last fall, which at first seemed to be beneficial, but only temporarily, for she soon began to get worse again and returned home in May last, since which time she has lingered on in little hopes at any time of permanent recovery. During these weary months she has always been cheerful and patient. Deceased was a consistent member of Knox Church, and when in health was a valued member of the choir. A large circle of relatives will mourn their loss, and the many friends to whom she had endeared herself by her amiable disposition will tender their sincere sympathy. The funeral takes place from the family homestead, Commissioners' road and Ridout street south, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, to Woodland Cemetery.

Thousands Delighted.
It is impossible to exactly estimate the attendance at Victoria Park last night, but it was anywhere between 5,000 and 7,000. It was the first appearance of the Marine Band of the Young Liberal Fleet in this capacity, and the public hope it will not be the last. The band covered itself with glory. A better concert has not been given this season. The programme was a popular one, and tickled the ears of the huge audience, which broke into hearty applause after every selection. The park grounds round the band stand have been worn off, and the tramp, tramp of the crowd raised clouds of dust, but the people didn't seem to mind this, and few left before the strains of "God Save the Queen" announced the end. Encomiums were showered on the young performers, whose execution was marked by perfect time and rich strong melody. Mr. Fred L. Evans wielded the baton with his usual vigor and ability, and the success is largely due to his instruction. A handsome collection was taken at the park gates by officers in uniform, a great many crisp notes being handed in by admirers of the Fleet. Regular concerts will now be looked forward to by the Marine Band next season.

The Market.
There was no end to fruit offerings on the market this morning. It seemed as though sellers had attempted to flood the square and had nearly succeeded. Peaches ranged from 50 cents to $1.20 per basket, the latter being paid in only one or two instances for fine Crawford's. Lombard plums were in abundance and readily brought 90 cents, the common blue variety being somewhat of a drug at 55 to 65 cents. Pears were somewhat scarce at 15 to 30 cents by the peck or 35 cents per basket. Apples were plentiful and could hardly be disposed of at 40 cents per bag for good cookers. The supply of grapes has dwindled down considerably. They were not much in demand, bringing about 55 cents by the basket. Tomatoes sold at 40 to 50 cents per bushel, and potatoes at 75 to 90 cents per bag. Huckleberries were very scarce, and sold at 80 cents per basket; corn, 8 cents per dozen; and blueberries 80 cents per basket.

In grain, only one lead of peas was offered. The demand in both wheat and oats was fairly good, but values were about the same as last week. Oats went at 35 cents per 100 pounds; white fall wheat, 83 to 90 cents; red fall, 85 to 88 cents. The meat stands were filled, but no change in prices was experienced. Eggs were a little higher, 9 to 10 cents being readily given for basket lots. Eleven to 15 cents was paid for small lots.

Monday's Attraction.
Monday is the third day of September. It is Labor Day—a statutory holiday—and being especially so for the workingmen the labor organizations of London are going to take advantage of it. Unions have been working hard of late to make the demonstration what it should be—nothing short of an enjoyable affair for citizens of every class. The monster street parade will start from the Market Square at noon sharp, inspiring music being furnished by four excellent bands. The lead will be taken by a squad of butcher boys on horseback. The Patrons of Industry from lodges in the surrounding vicinity will come next, followed by the unions, and scattered through the ranks will be uniformed drill corps and fire companies. The programme at the park includes races and sports of varied description. The horse reel competition has already four entries, including the team from the G. T. R. shops in this city. The fancy drill competition will be a spirited contest, the prize—$50 and $20—drawing the Stratford Conclave, the Woodstock corps, and London's Robin Hood and Knights of Sherwood Forest.

The grand climax of the afternoon's sport will be a soul-stirring conflict between Chinese and Japanese warriors, who will struggle in Oriental costume for the conquest of Korea. The baroque features of this original and novel effort will be excuriatingly funny.

The evening's performance will be conducted in the Grand Opera House, where J. W. Beough, the world-famous cartoonist of Grip, will give recitals and crayon sketches in his inimitable and mirth-provoking style.

THE HOLIDAY ADVERTISER.
Monday being Labor Day, in which many ADVERTISER workers will be participants, the Evening ADVERTISER will be issued and delivered at an early hour in the morning. News agents and carriers should remember this.
