GRAND RECEPTION AT CITY HALL

It Concluded a Day of Unusual Interest to Londoners-Lord and Lady Minto Greatly Pleased.

The visit of Lord and Lady Minto, Lady Eileen Elliott and their party, to London was a notable event, a very pleasant one for the citizens, and it can surely be said for the vice-regal guests as well. The weather in the afternoon and evening continued unusually fine, so that all the arrangements that had been made for their entertainmen could be carried out. Elaborate preparations for their reception and entertainment had been made, and during the court of the afternoon's programme, which included many visits to public institutions and places, noththe to mar in ing | occurred slightest degree the pleasure of the vis-From the station to the Collegiate Institute the procession was watched with much interest, and from institution to the residence of Beck, where the party were handsomely entertained, all went well, beautiful instrumental entre was while at each subsequent place visited played by four young ladies at two good-bye. not a single untoward circumstance , and, when the day's proceedings pianos.
