I would build a mayor. I'd look after the sewers and keep the pavements lovely, and the pavements lovely, and the pavements.

BY HELEN McMILLAN.

The children still have a variety of interesting suggestions to offer about making London the best, prettiest and cleanest city in Canada. And into their suggestions they put such a large amount of themselves that every one of them is interesting to read, apart from its value as a barometer of what the small citizens of London really think about the big city and its public

ECZEMA ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed. There is only one way to get relief

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes healthy healing.

Mr. J. Sage, 215 Princess avenue, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Having suffered with eczema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. B. too get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. I should have a lower gas and electric lighting system, so that the poor people could have more money to spend on could have more money to spend on clothes and amusements that would do them good. Also I would have the prices of meat, vegetables and fruit come down, so that many of the poor people could have enough to eat. A large playground should be built in the center of the city, and a public swimming pool and gymnasium built, where poor and rich may go without the repoor and rich may go without the re-striction of fees. The poor people should not have taxes so great to pay.

CLARENCE BOYCE.

London needs a public swimming pool which is paid for by all families in taxes. It would help clean some more people of London. It would keep the theatres less crowded, because the theatres are practically the only amuse-ment for children in London. All people than in the street car.

DOROTHY FULLER. I would have the streets and property

I would have the streets and property, owned by all people kept cleaner. I should have more public playgrounds and swimming pools, so everyone should learn to swim. I should have a larger public library, in which I should have more of an exhibition of moths, birds, insects, etc, which I think would be a great help to many people.

THELMA HEATHERLEY.

I think if the people of London would take more interest in their city, that it would become a betier and happier city. For instance, if people wouldn't throw dirty papers and rubbish around the streets, it would be cleaner. If I were mayor I would have the streets, roads and ranks kept cleaner than they are mayor I would have the streets, roads and yards kept cleaner than they are now. I would have more trees, flowers and animals in our public parks. I would have playgrounds for the children and different amusements for the smaller children. I should try to give every child a thorough education. every child a thorough education.

MYRTLE PEAREN.

MYRTLE PEAREN.

I would have all the city streets paved like some of them are. I would have the breakwaters cemented and have them tooking nicer than they are. The breakwater south of Blackfriars bridge could be improved greatly this way. The next thing I would do is to have some of the schools changed. For instance, I would have a place where the girls could play basketball and baseball.

MARJORIE LEWIS.

I would build public playgrounds for the city children to play in, and this would make less accidents on the streets. I would make several public libraries, so the children of the city might spend their time in reading inlibraries, so the children of the city might spend their time in reading in-stead of on the streets. I would have the streets of the city paved. I would keep all the streets cleaned and in good order. I would have a new hotel.

ED. KAVANAUGH.

I would try to get lower gas rates. I would want a new Grand Trunk Railway station built; also a new city hall. I would try to get busses adopted in the city instead of street cars.

ANNIE CAMERON.

If there were more people who would get together and keep their lawns and sidewalks clean, London would be a cleaner city throughout. I would say to build a new city hall, if I were mayor, and build other buildings of necessity. The street car service of London could be made better in some ways. The playgrounds of schools could be made better. ANNIE CAMERON. be made better.

EARL PERKIN.

If the people of London would vote for a good mayor because he knows his business, not because he may be a friend of theirs, then London would be friend of theirs, then London would be a far better place in which to live. Some people say that London is a slow place. It wouldn't be if people used their own judgment and not bothered with other people's affairs.

HELEN LEWIS.

HELEN LEWIS.

I would improve the schools, such as having larger playgrounds, and I would not have asphalt on the playgrounds, because so many children fall and get hurt, sometimes seriously. I would improve the streets by having them paved. On the avenues I would plant many flowers, so as to have them the paved. On the avenues I would pure them the best-looking streets in London. I would have more policemen on the police force so as they could rid London of some of the people who are thieves. I wouldn't have the taxes so high, because some the taxes are they can do to of the people have all they can do to feed and clothe their families.

ELEANOR READ. I'd live in a beautiful house, and I'd keep the sidewalk clean. I'd keep the

HUGH DOUGLASS. I would own houses and schools and

I would own houses and schools and hotels. I would own people. I would own Springbank Park, and I would own beautiful gardens. I would keep the sidewalks clean.

JOHN GEORGES.

If I was mayor I'd play. You're not a boy; you're a mayor. Are you a mayor? Yes, sure I'm a mayor! If I was a mayor I wouldn't play; I'd go to school. If I was a mayor I wouldn't play with

December 6th

HILE there are the very strongest grounds for believing that the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen will again be the Prime Minister of Canada after December 6th, every voter in the Dominion should appreciate the results that would follow any other possible decision at the polls.

In this election there are factors and conditions which have never appeared in any previous General Election in Canada. There are three parties contending for the reins of Government.

The National Liberal and Conservative Party, led by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, is appealing for return to power on a platform calling firmly for the continuation of a reasonable Protective Tariff.

The Liberal Party, under the leadership of Hon. William Mackenzio King, with a Tariff plank in its platform tending strongly toward Free

The Progressive Party, led by Hon. T. A. Crerar, seeks support on a platform which calls for Free Trade.

There should be little or no doubt that the majority of the people of Canada believe in a policy of reasonable Tariff Protection. The great danger is that past party affiliations may lead some to vote for King candidates not fully realizing what the consequences may be.

To these electors we now suggest they study the situation carefully before voting. If they do so they will learn that if the election results in a King-Crerar or a Crerar-King alliance, Canada's Protective Tariff is doomed.

Crerar as leader of the Progressive movement, is determined to pursue his Free Trade course, and his Western supporters will never let him depart from

King has so trimmed his sails that he can join any group. Par'y principles with him are secondary to his strong desire to attain office. His many speeches have indicated most clearly that this chief aim is to secure the reins of government and he stands prepared to sacrifice The Tariff or anything else to secure that end.

Do You Believe-That the maintenance of a Protective Tariff is essential to the future prosperity of Canada?

Do You Believe-that it makes no difference whether you vote for a Meighen candidate or a King candidate?

Do You Believe-that on December 6th you may vote as you please without endangering the entire industrial and commercial life of the country-including farming, mining, fishing, lumbering?

There is only one safe course for all Canada to

There is only one leader who stands firm for the maintenance of a reasonable Protective Tariff and who has consistently stood by his platform from one end of Canada to the other. If you want a reasonable Protective Tariff to be maintained in this country the only safe and sure course for you to follow is to vote for Arthur Meighen and his candidates.
