Saints and Tecs Furnish 69 Minute Game in First.

Two hits in the eighth, combined with a couple of sacrifices and a field-m's choice just when the Londoners rere beginning to wonder what real its sounded like, gave them two runs and a 2-0 in over the Port Huron-tarnia hyphen gang yesterday after-toon. The game was played in 69 ninutes, near the league record, which rould probably have been broken had not Malmquest and Getsie coilided at lirst base in this same eighth, both being knocked out and causing a few ninutes' delay.

ninutes' delay.
Carmen was nicked for eight hits, out the only times they came close together, he tightened up or his support lid, and staved off the visiting offensive while Tecs waited patiently for an opportunity to get in their small but botent punch.

It came in Eighth.

It came in the eighth. Will Coogan, the hero of the Wednesday mixes, trarted it with a single to right. Stimpson sacrificed him along. Butler aid down a grounder toward third, but its Brown waited to tag the oncoming Coogan, the Londoner ducked neatly ander the put-out without leaving the path and continued on to third, Butler recantime being perfectly safe and sane in first. A bunt didn't look very good baseball, but oftentimes bad baseball is anexpected and upsetting, and Malmquest's perfect tap toward first was lufficiently upsetting. Coogan scored, but Malmquest and Getsie, who took a minning catch, landed at first and into tach other at the same time, the colision knocking them both out. Getsie, towever, dazedly pegged to third before he keeled over. Blake's triple to right scored Butler with the second fun. Mackey fouling out to end the naing.

The eighth inning followed frame after frame of snappy baseball with ply one error to mar the faultless work.

The eighth inning followed frame after frame of snappy baseball with only one error to mar the faultless work of both teams. Both teams made several nan-sized bids for runs. London started all the threatening in their first when stimpson walked and Butler singled leanly to centre Malmquest's choice for Stimpson going into third. Blake grounded-out and Mackey was defiberately passed to get Carmen. This somewhat foolish proceeding worked out all right as Carmen sent one right at Brown, who made the out at third. With two gone in the second. Winters and Ashley both singled, but Carmen only threw three times at Glasier for right this situation.

In the third Butler got on through Brown's error, but was out stealing, and Malmquest, who singled, was nipped at second on Blake's choice.

The Saints selected the fifth as the proper functure to make a stand, and Ashley, singling, was sent on to second by Glasier's bunt. Workey's fielder's proper juncture to make a stand, and Ashley, singling, was sent on to second by Glasier's bunt. Worley's fielder's rhoice stopped Ashley at third, and the next two were easy groundouts. That was their last real bid, as they went out in threes up until their ninth when Goulait interjected a hit, but he made the second out on a choice, and Winter's long fly was nabbed by Coogan to and the game.

League bowling has caught on splen-lidly in both leagues, this being the second year of the inter-urban circuit, toffers a new form of competition and brings out the club against club spirit, not found in the usual tourney events.

PALMERSTON, Aug. 10 .- Pie Hawkes PALMERSTON, Aug. 10.—Secretary Horning of the North Wellington Baseball Association gave out the following bulletin tonight:

Goderich club has been officially advised that Player Young is under temporary suspension until such time as both the player and club produce statutory declaration evidence that will clear the player of the charges against him of playing Sunday baseball in the Border Cities. This also in the case of Player Roy Davis of the Strathroy club, who is charged of being a professional and also playing under an assumed name.

Kirkton's loss of membership to the N. W. B. A. makes the cancelling of the Goderich-Fullarton dates of first round of semi-final play-off necessary, as Granton has a chance to win the first section of Group No. 5 by playing a postponed game and a tie game. In the event of winning they would the with Fullarton, and be ordered to play a sudden-death game for group winner. Palmerston will go into the second round of semi-finals against towen the schedule officially ends.
