GATES-MOREHOUSE.

A very pretty romance had its culmination in Boston at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 19th, when Miss Edna R. Morehouse, of 544 Summer street, Lynn, became the wife of Stewart A. Gates, of Brighton, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Connell, of 72 Mount Vernon street, Boston. Miss Lilla L. Gates, of Plympton, Mass., sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, while Mr. Alton Howell, of Brighton, Mass., acted as best man. Miss Gates and Miss Morehouse had formerly attended Normal School at Truro, N. S., when Miss Morehouse accepted an invitation to visit Miss Gates at her old home in Melvern Square, N. S. It was then the young couple were introduced and friendship soon ripened into love. When Miss Morehouse returned to her home in Centerville, N. S., a correspondence was begun and continued until they went to Massachusetts. From time to time Mr. Gates visited his bride-to-be at her native home. They both went to Boston about three years ago. Miss Morehouse is a graduate of Miss Downe's school, and since then has been employed as stenographer and book-keeper in Blacker and Shepard Co., Boston. Mr. Gates has been employed on the Boston Elevated Railroad. Following the marriage they left Boston at 8 o'clock for an extended honeymoon journeying through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and paying a visit to their native homes. About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gates tendered an informal reception at the groom's home, Grove Cottage, Melvern Square, on Saturday evening, Sept. 26th. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, beautifully rendered by Mrs. H. B. Smith, the bride and groom entered the parlor, tastefully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves, ferns, and garden flowers. The bride was charmingly gowned in white batiste trimmed in Irish pink lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair fern. During the evening ice cream and cake, also cold drink, was served. The happy couple left Nova Scotia on October 12th for their future home in Brighton, Mass.

WHY DOES A MAN WEAR A CELLULOID COLLAR

In preference to one made of fine linen nicely laundered? Motives of economy? Yes, but it's poor economy because it's at the sacrifice of good style and appearance, -to the other fellow the celluloid collar always looks greasy. The particular man always wears good linen collars and if he has them laundered at

Ungar's Laundry and Dye Works

they will be shaped and finished the same as when originally purchased.
