

ARTICLE VI.

Every one becoming an associate member of this Society, shall sign the following declaration :
“ I promise to observe the constitution and regulations of the Society, and to use all my efforts for the promotion of the interests of the said Society and of the objects which it has in view. In testimony whereof, I have signed.”

If an associate member does not sign this declaration within six months after the admission, his election shall be declared null and void.

ARTICLE VII.

Any associate member of the Society may resign, on acquainting the President, in writing, with his intention. But he shall be liable for the fulfilment of the obligations which he may have contracted towards the Society, and shall have paid, before resigning, his yearly subscription, and all arrears by him due.

ARTICLE VIII.

Those associate members who reside at Quebec, at Levis, or within a distance of ten miles therefrom, shall pay an annual subscription of four dollars. For other associate members the subscription shall be two dollars.

Members who shall pay a sum of forty dollars, in commutation of their annual subscription, shall be considered as life members, and shall be exempt from further payment.

ARTICLE IX.

The yearly subscription shall be paid during the first week of the month of January in each year. But every new associate member, elected at any other period of the year, shall be held to pay his subscription at the time of his admission, deduction being made for the number of months expired since the beginning of the year.
