SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT.

Mr. Frank B. Gilbreth, whose eminence in the advocacy of scientific management has been universally recognized, is to speak on this subject at an open meeting of the University of Toronto Engineering Society in Convocation Hall on Friday afternoon, March 8th, at 4 o'clock. This address was to have been delivered on February 22nd, but an audience of over 1,000, consisting of members of the society and their friends interested in efficiency engineering, were doomed to disappointment because of Mr. Gilbreth's train meeting with an unfortunate blockade.

Mr. Gilbreth is one of the world's authorities on the scientific manipulation of labor. The problem is of such vital importance to all industrial organizations that the Engineering Society has extended an invitation to all interested, especially to foremen, superintendents and managers, to whom, in varied forms, the subject daily presents itself.
