

ample opportunity to express themselves on matters of legislation through the introduction of amendments.

In respect of this particular case, far from depriving honourable Members of an opportunity to bring about a refund of the fees, it seems clear now that the Bill has been passed that the proper procedures are envisaged in Section 16 of the Financial Administration Act and outlined in Standing Order 99. Whether the House would give its approval pending or upon passage of Bill C-29, there can be no doubt that the procedures exist for the necessary motion either now or at that time.

Accordingly, I must hold that the recommendation of the Standing Committee on Transport and Communications, contained in its Second Report, is totally beyond the terms and provisions of Bill S-11 and, therefore, beyond the scope of its Order of Reference, and the motion for concurrence cannot be put.

By unanimous consent, it was ordered,—That the motion to be considered by the House on Tuesday, December 10, 1974 be a motion proposed by a Minister of the Crown in the following terms:

That the Green Paper entitled "Members of Parliament and Conflict of Interest" tabled on November 27, 1974, be referred to the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections; and

That, after the Committee has concluded its deliberations and submitted its report on the aforementioned matter, it be authorized to consider and make recommendations upon the subject-matter of Ministers and conflict of interest and Public Servants and conflict of interest.

That any question or questions necessary to dispose of the said motion and any amendments thereto be put at 9.45 p.m., December 10, 1974;

That, immediately following the disposal of the said motion, the House proceed to the consideration and disposal of any motion or motions and bill or bills based thereon with regard to the business of Supply in the same manner as if December 10, 1974 had been an ordinary Allotted Day pursuant to Standing Order 58;

That for the period ending March 26, 1975 there be eight Allotted Days pursuant to Standing Order 58;

And that the Order of the Day "Government Business, number 7" appearing on page 10 of the Order Paper today be discharged.
