

French Canadians do not claim to have never been mistaken in their appreciation of the intentions and the actions of their fellow-countrymen of Anglo-Saxon origin, but they at least endeavor to treat them in accordance with the rules which we have outlined.

ERRATA.

READ between paragraphs 5 and 6, page 16, the following which is paragraph 6 of La Presse article and accidentally omitted in reprinting; subsequent paragraphs should read 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 consecutively.

6. That other races shall not seek a quarrel with us, apropos of everything and of nothing, that they shall cease to discredit us abroad, because in doing so they discredit the whole of Canada.
