

bark and tumble, the famous seals—great bloated, ugly creatures, huge as a hog, that ceaselessly

One of the most striking features at Cypress Point was the twisted, writhing cypress trees, shown on LAKE TAHOE.

swarm over its rough surface, and continually fight and snort, drenched by the spray, or basking in the sun.

page 302, which seemed contorted by wrestling with the ocean winds on a bleak and gusty promontory. The oldest building in San Fran-