ANOTHER FALL DOWN.

Once more the system of city government by council has notably fallen down. In the rejection of the proposal to take the opinion of the people on the establishment of a commission to control the harbor and water front Mayor Geary elected to take sides with the reactionary forces of the council, and to him the defeat of the referendum is due.

During the year Mayor Geary has fallen in line with most of the proposals that have been made for the public benefit, but when a really important and progressive movement is projected Mayor Geary is found wanting. We do not wish to deny Mayor Geary any injustice, and freely admit that in matters that are obvious and indisputable and there are no political chances to be taken, he is quite willing to swim with the tide.

The only thing that can redeem the action of the mayor on this matter is the production of a better scheme for the management and development of Toronto's harbor resources. The man who will neither fish nor cut bait is not a man to conduct the growing business affairs of this great city to satisfactory issues. Mayor Geary has signally failed to rise to the opportunities of a great occasion, and we may expect a further period of pettifoggery and muddling.

It is well to note the continued alliance between Mayor Geary and The Evening Star, which defends his policy in this matter.

We trust that the similar action of the council in throwing out the proposal for a civic trust to acquire land likely to be benefited by civic improvements, for resale at the advances which always occur after improvements have been carried out, does not mean the abandonment of the principle of civic purchase of such areas. The city ought to have this power, and an end should be put to the absurd custom of paying damages to people for improvements that ultimately increase the value of the property alleged to be damaged.

MISS COUNTESS' ACTING.

When a play so much above the average as "The Awakening of Helena Richie," is presented by a company such as Miss Catharine Counties has gathered around her in the Grand this week, the public should show their appreciation of it. The clever and artistic work done by every member of the cast places the production on the level of the ideal drama. The play itself is an interesting one, with its studies of old problems in new lights. Its vacillation of George Bernard Shaw's "Candida" motive is much truer to life, and there is enough symbolism in it to please the Maeterlinckian school. Dr. Lavender, by Charles Stedman, represents the new theology, and his recognition that sin has its divine work lifts the play to very high ethical purpose. Miss Counties is marked by such a performance as this for a notable career. She reaches heights of pathos and tragedy without strain, and with a natural emotion which we do not need to go to France to see.

FADED AND JADED CRITICS.

It is a dreadful and a painful thing to grow old. This novel reflection is prompted by the indiscretions of various theatrical critics, whose sere and yellow leaden disabilities them from the enjoyment of much good merriment. They have seen everything and know everything, and behold it is all very bad. They exist everywhere, these superannuated wights, and they try to convince the public that because they heard a joke fifty years ago, nobody else should hear it again forever. That poor creature, Alan Dale of New York, thinks proper to tell the public every week how badly the best dramas and the best actors make him suffer. He took particular pains recently to tell us what a wretched affair "The Merry Wives of Windsor" is and how utterly unworthy of the stage "The Thunderbolt" appeared to him to be. We have local Alan Dales, and their performances are almost as entertaining as the good things they gnaw at.

KING'S COUNSEL.

Not a little sarcastic comment has been offered in connection with the recent long list of freshly promoted king's counsel. Ontario now possesses a formidable array of these dignified gentlemen, more indeed than England enjoys with a population at least twelve times that of the province. Wholesale creations after such fashion cannot but cheapen the dignity, and provoke unfavorable comment on account of the invidious distinctions that follow from the arbitrary customary manner of appointments. It invites the further questions whether under conditions in the profession of law so fundamentally varying from those prevailing in the United Kingdom it was wise to introduce any distinction of class in its members and whether it would not be judicious either to discontinue the practice or to introduce some more rational principle of appointment.

Britain still divides the legal profession into two distinct branches, barristers, in Scotland advocates, and attorneys, in Scotland solicitors. In the immediate connection the latter may be excluded from consideration since they can only plead in the imperial courts. Barristers, or advocates, confine their practice entirely to court pleading and chamber consultation on brief and such of them as have attained sufficient eminence may present their claims to be created king's counsel. In England these appointments are made on the recommendation of the lord chancellor, in Scotland of the lord justice general, the president of the supreme court, and in Ireland of the Irish lord chancellor. Appointment entails abandonment of junior practice, that is king's counsel restrict themselves entirely to cases where they act in a senior capacity. In Britain therefore the right to the appendage K.C. connotes a real difference in standing which is non-existent in Ontario. Provincial appointments, if they are to continue, should be reserved entirely from political considerations and restricted to counsel whose position at the bar justifies conference of such precedence and privilege as the advancement implies.

Branch Manager for Edmonton. The Canada Life Assurance Company have just appointed Mr. Ernest Reynolds of Toronto to the branch manager of their northern Alberta branch, with office at Edmonton, to act jointly with Mr. R. A. Robertson of the city.

Mr. Reynolds is a comparatively young man for such a responsible position, but he has been connected with the head office of the company for a number of years, passing through different departments, until he rose to be advertising manager. From that department he went to Alberta to assist Mr. Robertson in opening up and organizing the northern district of that province for the company. Later on he moved to the Vancouver office, where, during the past year, he has assisted in the production of business in British Columbia.

Yesterday afternoon all the members of the head office staff met together and gave him an enthusiastic send-off that clearly indicated his popularity in the office, and the confidence they have in him. With his wide experience in both office and field work, and his acquaintance with the west, there is no doubt that the Canada Life has chosen wisely in appointing him for such a promising territory as their northern Alberta branch.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 22.—At a special meeting of the school board to-night J. H. Mr. Cameron retires to accept a position on the staff of the London Collegiate Institute.

P. H. Patriarche Sued. The Sovereign Bank has begun action in the high court against P. H. Patriarche, who formerly conducted a brokerage business on Scott-street. The bank seeks to recover $11,785.64, with interest from Nov. 30, 1909. It is claimed that on Oct. 27, 1904, Patriarche, with P. B. Allan, Reinhold Cook and Peter Ryan, signed a document guaranteeing to the bank the indebtedness of City Laundry Co. to the amount of $15,700. The bank claims that $10,200, due on Oct. 31, 1907, has not been paid, and this amount with interest is sued for.

Patriarche declares that all claims have been satisfied, and that the bank released some or all of the alleged guarantors from all liability by agreement in writing. He also asserts that the plaintiff demanded and obtained the interest at a higher rate than allowed by the Bank Act, and that the alleged guarantee was an illegal transaction.

Do You Suffer from Piles?

If so, we would ask you to enquire amongst your friends the value of Zam-Buk for this ailment! You cannot but meet with some one who has proved how excellent it is.

Mr. H. E. Hill of Shelvin, Man., writes:—"I suffered a long time with piles and tried numerous remedies, but without effect. Having tried a sample of Zam-Buk and being encouraged by the result, I persevered, using two boxes. It worked like magic, and effected a complete cure in a very short time."

Mr. James Ruddy of Killaloe, Ont., says:—"I suffered greatly from piles. The pain from these—as anyone who suffers from them will know—was almost unbearable. I tried first one remedy and then another, but all without effect. Then I heard about Zam-Buk and determined to give this wonderful balm a trial. I obtained a supply and commenced with the treatment, and to my great joy, after perseverance with Zam-Buk, I obtained permanent relief from the agonizing pain of the piles. Having been cured by Zam-Buk I heartily recommend the balm to all sufferers."

Zam-Buk also cures inflamed sores, eczema, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, cuts, scabs, chapped hands, frost bite, cuts, burns and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at 50c per box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, free price. Refuse substitutes and imitations.
