Engineer Wright Of London Quits

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 10,-George Wright, engineer of the City of London for the past three years, resigned teday, and in an eight-lage letter alleges interference with the affairs of his department. The letter criticizes Mayor Graham.

Mr. Wright came here from Toronto and has held important posts with the municipality there. His father is a resident of Toronto at the present stime. By the drowning of his uncle en the Titanic he inherited about $18,-000. At the present time the engineer is at Gravenhurst, suffering from a general breakdown as a result of working in the water when the city was threatened by flood. He is the only engineer the city ever had that made a personal inspection of the interiors of the sewers.
