District Divisions.

He stated he had given considerable thought to the matter, and as he was one of a special committee appointed by provincial executive to work out a solution of the matter, he was pleased to submit certain recommendations. His plan calls for the division of Ontario into twenty districts. Each district to elect its representative to the provincial executive and each district to contain county districts who would elect a representative to the district organization controlling them. He felt that the adoption of some such plan would establish the greatest possible co-ordination thruout the G.W.

BABY FARM CHILD WENT TO HAMILTON

Detective Archibald is still investigating the charges against Mrs. W. Gill. 111
Strathmore boulevard, who is being held in custody until May 20, on a charge of keepings a baby farm without a license. The baby, which Mrs. Gill is alleged to have abducted, is believed to be in Hamilton. It is the child of a young single woman living in London, Ont. who was paying Mrs. Gill $5 a week to take care of the child. The baby was handed over to a person in Hamilton, the name of whom Mrs. Gill has refused to give to the police. The mother of the child complained to the police when she was refused the privilege of seeing her baby when she cailed at Mrs. Gill's place.

Mrs. Gill had her license to conduct a baby farm canceled by the police sometime ago. Several charges have been made by the police since Mrs. Gill's arrest. The morality department have made one and Mr. Wilson of the medical health department has made four. Eight infants in the home were removed to other institutions for safe keeping.
