stocks, and altho raising their premiums have succeeded in doing considerable business.

We view this as a temporary situation, we do not consider the domestic position alone sufficient force to warrant the raintenance of any sustained advance, but the sentiment among speculators of the professional variety, and among cash holders a further enhancement of the nearby options to the detriment of deferred is quitz possible.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close:

Wheat weak at the opening, reflecting the decline at Liverpool and for a time there was quite general selling, later, however, it became apparent that offerings had been taken by those particularly friendly to the cereal which, with the best demand for cash wheat that we have had for a long time, had the effect of causing early sellers to cover and resulted in a sharp advance of fully 2c from the low point, practically all of which being retained at the close. Aside from the weakness at Liverpool, the day's news was bullish. Cash demand was heavy. We look for higher prices.

Corn and oats were about unchanged early, but advanced in sympathy with wheat in the late trading, and final figures showed a fair gain. Cash prices were higher and news generally bullish.

Provisions were steady to firm all day. closing at higher prices. There was good demand from packers and commission houses.

Early in the day there was a fair trade for all good cattle, but in the afternoon about 30 loads of belated stock arrived too late for the day's market. A few sales were reported late in the day at prices 10c to 15c per cut, lower than were paid in the morning. The market, closed dull and draggy, and should there be heavy receipts again on Wednesday and Thursday, prices will certainly go lower.
