MUST NOT RESIST.

Magistrate Fines and Warns a Prisoner Against Resisting the Police.

Herbert W. Ferris, who was arrested by Officer Perry last night on a charge of drunkenness and assault, and also for violently resisting the police, was brought into court this morning to answer the charges laid against him.

Ferris said that he belonged to Fairville, and admitted having been intoxicated. He did not seem to have a very clear recollection of having committed assault.

Officer Perry testified that Ferris had assaulted a man on Main street, and then tried to get out of the way. Officer Perry started in pursuit of him, and after catching him, experienced considerable difficulty in getting him under control.

Ferris fought hard and made a desperate effort to escape. While on the way to the station Perry tripped and fell over a box, and before he could regain his feet Ferris had kicked him on the nose.

When asked by the magistrate what he had to say for himself, Ferris stated that he was not in the habit of getting drunk and into trouble, and that this was his first offense.

"Well," said His Honor, "it's a pretty serious matter. If I chose to do so, I could send you in for one year. I cannot send you to the penitentiary, but I can place you in the common jail, which was never meant for long term prisoners. It is not properly equipped for them. If you will get drunk and assault people, you must expect to be punished."

Ferris was sentenced to a fine of $10, or thirty days for the first charge, and $10 or two months for the second.

The Sad Plight of an Ex-Member of the Royal Canadian Regiment at Fredericton, Who has Been Visiting St. John.

John Edward Barnay applied for admission to the Seaman's Mission, last night. He says he was pushed away from the door and fell, fracturing his leg above the ankle. He was taken in the ambulance to the hospital.

Deputy chief Jenkins states that Barnay had been drinking, but knew what he was doing. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Regiment at Fredericton, and a few days ago, received his discharge. He came to St. John on the steamer Victoria and took up quarters at the Ferris Hotel, where he remained until his money gave out. He then sought assistance, and was given a permit for bed and breakfast at the Seaman's Mission.

About eight o'clock last night he called on the attendant and made his case known; when the attendant he says, shoved him from the door and he fell, fracturing his leg. The injured man begged them "for God's sake to go and get help." The lady hurried in the direction of Prince William street, and were not long in finding Deputy Chief Jenkins and Detective Killen, who hurried to Barnay's assistance.

The officers found that the man was suffering intense agony, and was unable to stand. Presently, a barlow looking sailor came along and taking Barnay on his back carried him to Dr. Broderick's office on Colburn street, where, upon examination, it was found that not only was the ankle fractured but the leg was badly swollen.

The ambulance was summoned and the patient, accompanied by Deputy Chief Jenkins, was taken to the General Public Hospital.
