

J. N. GOLDING'S DEAD AT AGE 84

Good Citizen, Who Leaves Record of Life Well Spent.

John Nelson Golding, aged eighty-four years, died at the home of his son, Walter H. Golding, 38 Sydney street, early last evening after confinement to his bed for three weeks, rounding out a fruitful life of kindly useful citizenship, enjoying the respect and friendship of all who knew him and leaving to those of his immediate family a legacy not of worldly wealth but of unflinching example in the better things of life.

The late Mr. Golding moved about in his accustomed circle of limited activity up to the first of the month. Gradual decline in strength then forced him to forego his daily walks and rides, this decline finally taking him to his chair and bed.

Mr. Golding was the only son of John Nelson Golding, grandson of a Loyalist, and was a native of this city. His whole life was devoted to the printing and publishing business, first with the late Roger Hunter and then for a full half century with J. & J. McMillan, having served faithfully under three generations of that firm, a service gratefully recognized in his ten years of retirement.

Through his long connection with the publishing and book manufacturing trade, Mr. Golding saw Canada go forward in this branch of enterprise from the primitive hand-made processes to the mechanical devices which have revolutionized the art.

A quiet-mannered gentleman of enterprising spirit coupled with domestic tastes, the late Mr. Golding lived as all good citizens do and was held in high esteem for it all. He was once active in Oddfellowship, a Conservative in politics, a Baptist in religious denomination. Mrs. Golding died in 1911. The family surviving are: John N. Golding, Jr., and Walter H., of the Imperial Theatre staff, and Mrs. Charles H. (Olive) Coburn, of United States. There are twelve grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Ruth Mookler, of Medford, Mass., is a sister and in Boston and vicinity there are numerous nieces and nephews with their families of young men and women.

The death of Mr. Golding removes a familiar figure in the busy places of St. John and further thins out the once one line of close-up Loyalist descendants. Fidelity to business associates and a deep love of home and country were the only barriers to Mr. Golding's merited success in his line of work in larger fields.

Mrs. Coburn has been in the city for a fortnight assisting in the care of her father.

CHIROPRACTIC is based on fundamental, natural laws. The organs of the body are the levers which carry vital energy or life to all parts of the body. Impingement or pinching of the nerves interferes with their life-carrying power and disease is the result. The chiropractor adjusts with his hands the misaligned vertebrae and the impinged nerves are freed. The flow of life enters the part diseased, normal functions are resumed and health restored. The Chiropactic way is Nature's way.

Business Conditions

Increase in British Foreign Trade—Less Activity in Belgium.

Washington, Sept. 26.—European cables to the Department of Commerce report a decided increase in British foreign trade; slightly less commercial and industrial activity in Belgium; considerable improvement in Norway; moderate activity in Denmark and Finland; dullness in Holland; and depression in Poland and Rumania. Unemployment is serious in Holland and Poland, but has decreased in Norway and Finland, and is negligible in Belgium. British exports increased £11,000,000 in August, exports declined £600,000 and re-exports £2,670,000. Exports from Finland and Norway increased and Poland's trade balance for the first six months of 1923 was reported favorable. Crop conditions generally are good except in Norway, where the Far East show some improvement in the Philippines, where increased prices for native products has caused a slight revival of commercial buying and heavily increased Australian imports, notably of motor vehicles. Basic conditions in Australia are reported sound. Depression due mainly to high prices and fluctuating exchange continues in Java and India.

Canadian Pavilion Attracts Attention

W. J. Egan, Trade Commissioner, Tells of Wembley Park.

(Ottawa Journal). An enthusiastic interest in Canadian foodstuffs on the part of the importers and dealers of Great Britain is reported by Mr. W. J. Egan, Canadian Trade Commissioner, who has just returned from England, after completing a tour of England in the interests of the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Egan also paid a visit of inspection to Wembley Park, where the British Empire Exhibition is to be held from April 18 to October 30, 1924.

General trade conditions in England, he said, were very good. The splendid sale of seats at the Opera House box office this morning clearly indicated intense interest in the exhibition as they entered the park. Mr. Egan paid tribute to the genius of Mr. T. Tomlin, the commissioner, and predicted an ultimate exhibition that would be a credit to Canada. While remarking that it was rather early to form a definite opinion as to the value of the exhibition, Mr. Egan thought that from observation and information gleaned everywhere, he was satisfied that the exhibition under the direction of Mr. Egan was particularly well planned with the location of the building which, he said, was most attractive, and easily accessible to visitors to the exhibition as they entered the park.

Defence In Ward Murder Trial Ends

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 26.—A sensational equal to that of yesterday when the state abruptly ended the prosecution came today at the trial of Walter S. Ward, charged with murdering Clarence Peters, of Haverhill, Mass., when the defense announced by the jury that it rested its case without submitting any testimony.

After announcing that the defense rested, L. N. Mills, attorney for the defense, renewed his motion that the indictment be dismissed and the jury be instructed to return a verdict of acquittal but Justice Wagner again denied all motions.

Arrangements were completed by telegraph yesterday with a syndicate of American and Canadian theatre-owners for the exhibition in this city, simultaneous with Montreal and Toronto, of the Firpo-Dempsey fight picture. There are 20,000 feet of film in the picture, portraying at close range more than could have been seen even at the ringside. Both boxers are also shown in training before the event and in repose afterwards.

A special print of the picture is being forwarded to the Imperial. The picture is being advertised and definite announcement of show dates will be made in the morning press.

This Suite "Stumps" The Ad Writer

To pick out any one of its fresh points of interest and put it in the headline would fail by far to do justice to the entirety of beauty and special construction. To report it in large type as one having two wing-backed Fireside Chairs means losing sight of the hand-blended Silk Plush Mohair, the colorings of which are so appealing.

To announce it simply as something wonderful means running to vague claims—contrary to Marcus policy. To refer to the thorough hair and moss packing is but to touch on one strong point among many. And likewise to say the Chesterfield proper is eight feet long is also reporting but one advantage.

The figuring of lily-like blooms in a riot of Purple and Rose and Taupe—all accomplished by hand blocking on expensive plush—occurs on front, sides and rear. The modified back wings, the enduring comfort and the various points of distinction can only be grasped by a glance at the real thing in our middle window.
