TWO DOUBLE SUICIDES

Young Husband and Wife; Aged Man and Life Partner

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 5.—The bodies of James F. Bly, a medical student, eighteen years old, and his bride, formerly Rose Herring, of this city, were discovered lying fifty feet from a path in Northfield woods, near here, by a man named Harry Pierce.

It was nearly two months since they disappeared and every possible search was made by the parents and relatives who, with private detectives, exhausted all their efforts in trying to locate them. When found the young couple were lying in the girl's arm and both bodies were almost covered with leaves, among which was found a revolver and a sheet of stained paper. The message on the paper was scarcely readable but the following was made out: "Death is the easiest way out. Rose will kill herself and I will follow." The young man was in very delicate health and feared removal to a sanitarium. This is said to be the only reason for the rash act.

Aged Couple Die By Gas

New York, Nov. 5.—Seated side by side in the dining-room of their home on the third floor of No. 181 Second avenue, Carl Rotman, aged 65, and his wife, Fredericka, aged 78, were found with tubes bound to their faces with handkerchiefs and the gas fully turned on. The wife, who was a cripple, was dead and her husband, who was unconscious, was removed to the reception hospital, but little hope is entertained for his recovery. They were penniless and in poor health, which had caused them to become despondent.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Natural History Society last evening, with W. F. Burditt, the new president in the chair, was largely attended. The new chairman outlined the work to be done this year and spoke encouragingly of the increased interest being taken in the society and its endeavors by the public. Several interesting papers were read during the evening. Rev. Archdeacon Raymond and F. B. Ellis were elected as additional members of the council. The following donations to the museum were then presented and received: Glass case for exhibition purposes, N. Louis Brennan; shed skin of garter snake, S. L. Day; Micmac basketwork, Mrs. D. Robertson; old iron gills, used in ancient times for roasting meat, Herbert Armstrong; fossils from Kings and St. John counties, A. Gordon Leavitt. The following members were elected: Regular members: S. M. Webb, Mrs. W. H. Fowles, Mrs. S. M. Wetmore, Miss Lillie White, Mrs. R. G. Zwicker, Junior association members: Miss Helen Bailey, Miss Muriel Ellison, Miss Gladys McLaughlin.

Hooray! For Me, I Can Eat!

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Joy to the Starving Dyspeptics Who Can Not Safely Eat.

To eat one's self at a festive board or a heavily laden table and not be able to eat is positive sorrow to most dyspeptics and stomach sufferers, and likewise pain.

"I Walk to My Meals and Eat All I Want. Then a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Makes Good For Me."

When your system is robbed of its natural digestive juices, in their correct proportion, a little candy-like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet gives to them the qualities they lack and you thereby rest the digestive apparatus and allay irritation, pain, gas and stomach trouble. The tablet is one of nature's greatest aids; and when this is combined with the other ingredients you simply bring happiness to every worn-out nerve of the stomach, liver, intestines, pancreas and other organs.

Prepared foods will not aid nature as she insists on manufacturing the wrong juices. Besides this the bowels need coarse and heavy foods in order to make bowel pack which is vitally essential to health.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mix with the food in the stomach, have a tendency to stop gas formation, sour stomach, decay, etc., then as the food passes into the lower digestive tract (the intestines) it takes the Stuart's digestive agents with it, and there is where the real work is done.

The nutritive value of food and tablet is separated from the waste matter and is assimilated and distributed into the proper parts of the body. The blood is enriched and the liver stored with the qualities the system needs.

Go to your druggist now and buy a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price 50c, and then eat what you will; but take a tablet afterwards. Then will come to you the beginning the end of all your stomach troubles and food fears.

STRANGE CASE OF BOY; BRAIN INVERTED, SEES THINGS UPSIDE DOWN

London, Nov. 5.—A boy with an inverted brain has recently been discovered in a Durham school. He sees everything upside down, writes from the right to the left; inverts letters and figures, and copies objects the wrong way.

The boy's teacher says that not only does he write upside down, but that he also sees upside down. For instance, if he has to write a small "n," the result is a "u," written backwards. That is to say, he commences to form letters at the tail end, and works backwards. The same operation takes place when he frames such letters as "d" and "m," the effect being that the letters written are "m" and "w" respectively. His mind acts in a similar topsy-turvy manner when he is set to copy and figure on outline drawing.

His reading, however, is not affected by the peculiarity of his brain. Though it is evident that he sees the letters upside down, they make apparently the same impression on his mind as upon the mind of an ordinary child. He can read words with as much facility as any other child of a similar age.

Every effort has been made to alter his abnormal method, but without success. Experts who examined an American boy recently found to be in the same condition, came to the conclusion that his mind and sight are as a camera lens, wherein everything is reflected upside down, and that is considered to be the explanation in the Durham case.

NEW MISTRESS OF ROBES

Queen Mary Has Appointed the Stately Duchess of Portland

London, Nov. 5.—Queen Mary has appointed the stately Duchess of Portland mistress of the robes, the only one of the queen's "ladies" who has to go out of office with a change of ministry. The mistress of robes, always a duchess, stands next to the queen on state occasions and controls the maids of honor. Her husband is naturally supposed to be of the same politics as the party in power. There was no Liberal duke left in the country, so the best thing to do was to choose the queen was to choose a duchess whose husband has not been an extreme partisan.

GIRLS' ASSOCIATION WORK

At the monthly meeting of the Girls' Association last evening reports of various activities were presented, and it was decided to put aside the proceeds of an entertainment held recently as the nucleus of a fund for a summer camp. Arrangements were made for a violet tag day to be held on Saturday, Nov. 16, to secure money for carrying on their work which costs about $1,000 a year.

The management of the York assembly rooms, Carleton street, has offered the use of those rooms free of charge for the violet day workers on Nov. 15. Mrs. John Bullock and Mrs. Corbett are to be in charge of the lunch, while Dr. Parks, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Gaetz and Mrs. Lawrence form the executive. The violet girls are in charge of Miss Lillian Delmsted, and Mrs. George Dishart is in charge of the violet.

Westmorland Circuit Court

At the sitting of the Westmorland circuit court at Dorchester yesterday, Judge Barry presiding, true bills were found by the grand jury in each criminal case except that against Frederick Legere, charged with breaking and entering the premises of John Morrison in Montreal. The other cases were against White, charged with breaking and entering and stealing from the post-office at Shediac; Martin Cosman, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences; Fred Armstrong, and Frank Legere charged with stealing; James Prell, of Dorchester, barrister, complained to the court that in the county of Westmorland it seemed most unfair to see but one Acadian upon the jury panel for the whole county, where there were so many of this race, and but four Liberals thought the complexion of the jury was somewhat off-color. His Honor said he would take his complaint to the attorney-general.
