Factory Damaged Low Shoes For Men

In all the large factories a system of inspection prevails so that any shoe going through that is any way soiled or damaged is not shipped but put aside and then sold as factory damaged. We purchased the accumulation of Canada's best maker and on Wednesday Morning will place them on sale at our THREE STORES.

Men's High Grade $5.00 and $6.00 Oxfords in Tan, Calf, and Patent, this season's newest lasts and patterns at

C. P. R. KEEPS AN EYE ON EMPLOYEES

Rewards For The Faithful And Vigilant; Punishment For Negligent

RECORDS ARE KEPT

Some Samples of Acts Which Brought Merit Marks and Others Which Resulted in Dismissals or Lowering of the Standing

The extreme vigilance of the C. P. R. in safeguarding the lives of the passengers entrusted to their care, to say nothing of the valuable freight and merchandise which they carry is illustrated by their elaborate system of keeping check on every employee, rewarding those who show special vigilance in the performance of their duties and punishing any who are negligent. This is done by a system of merit and demerit marks which are recorded in a card filing system which shows the complete record of every man in the employ from the time he is employed to the time he leaves. Promotion and increases in salary are given according to this record and there is every inducement to a man to keep his record as clear as possible on the debit side and pile up as many credits as he can.

The marks against each man are published each month in an educational bulletin and their publication serves as a stimulus to others to secure meritorious and avoid demerits. The scope of the work and the variety of details which count in a man's record are shown in this list. In a recent number of the bulletin merits were granted different employees for: Discovering broken axle on car and notifying yard foreman, discovering broken beams dragging vigilance in discovering broken truss rod, discovering broken brake beams, discovering broken arch bar, repairing telegraph wire in case of emergency, discovering broken journal, vigilance in discovering two oil box bolts stripped so that nuts would not hold, rendering car made to move and for discovering broken rail and reporting same promptly to section foreman.

Eleven men were dismissed for failure to protect rear of train, resulting in rear end collision, violation Rule 90, previous record unsatisfactory, violation Rule G (against use of intoxicants), desertion, insubordination, negligence.

Demerit marks were placed against other men for the following causes:—Failing to recheck boxes on engine, error in reporting, failure to answer correspondence promptly, neglecting to stop car for renumbering, failing to register watch, neglecting to book variation of watch, running engine with defective airpump and not reporting same, neglecting to make running test of airbrake after leaving terminal, losing brake head off right front-brake beam, and using driving brake until flange of wheel destroyed, brake beam on engine, smoking in office of roundhouse, neglecting to report tires skidded on engine, allowing right hose lag on engine to freeze, failure to keep sharp lookout, resulting in collision, improper handling of engine resulting in tube leakage, backing into wall of roundhouse, faulty workmanship on engine, neglecting to carry out watch inspection regulations, untidiness in bunk room, neglecting to properly secure car set off train, resulting in same starting and running into forward portion of train, backing engine through split switch, responsibility in connection with train running through "Y" switch without same being turned, careless inspection, allowing push car to be struck by train, responsibility in connection with forty minutes detention to passenger train, neglecting to call operator in accordance with instructions, resulting in detention to fast freight, looking sick after being called for duty, removing clicker hook from engine after being told not to do so, passing defective wheel, neglecting to properly secure combination car in siding, resulting in same running out and cornering van, failing to repeat signals promptly while switching, resulting in damage to rolling stock, running too close on time of passenger train, resulting in rear end collision, responsibility in connection with one extra pitching into another, careless running resulting in derailment of car, allowing defective rail to remain in track, causing a derailment, failure to notify engineer of train of ice on track, resulting in derailment, responsibility in connection with allowing his engine to be struck by car of extra and for allowing water to accumulate over rail, which afterwards froze, causing a derailment.

ADMITTS LOSSES IN ST. JOHN

Fleming Sees the Way Things Are Going—Meetings Arranged for City and County

It is said that Premier Fleming, conversing with a friend in St. John, admitted that he expected government losses in this city. The opposition fight in St. John, as elsewhere throughout the province, is going with a fine swing, and the prospects are bright for victory. The advice from the North Shore are promising. The government party are making frantic efforts to elect Baxter and Carson in the county, even promising cash bribes for young men, giving them money supposedly for improving the roadways, but in reality to secure votes. A pretense as this road improvement was made on Saturday on the Black River road, but the stretch was placed in really a worse condition than before. The following Liberal meetings are arranged:
Tuesday evening, June 11—Little River school house, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Dr. T. H. Lunnery and the candidates.
Wednesday, June 12—Fairville Temperance hall, F. B. Carvell, M. P., the candidates and others. Chair taken at 8 o'clock, seats reserved for ladies.
Thursday, June 13—Smoker at Barker House, Ben Leonard. Candidates and

A GOOD HAY CROP.
Sussex Record.—The hay crop this year promises to be one of the largest in years. The recent rains have thickened up the grass in a way that should enable it to dry any future drought that may result. Farmers are delighted with the outlook so far as hay is concerned.
