of the House of Refuge, was entered by burglars about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. They ransacked several of the rooms and got a few articles of not much value neluding 60 cents in money and a glazier's diamond." On their entering the room of Mrs. Barker, laundress, she awoke and saw a man in the room with a lamp, and three or four others in the doorway. Mrs Bas ker screamed out on which the whole party left the place. Subsequently, about our o'clock in the morning, the residence of Mrs. Hugh McInnes, furthur up the mountain, was entered by the burglars. They used the same diamond stolen from Wilson's to cut the window panes and an ontrance was thus effected. Several of improve the STANDARD, by paying prompthe rooms were well ransacked. On the ly. urglars entering the room in which Mrs Melnnes and her sister. Miss Carpenter, were sleeping they were awakened and prang out of bed. The burglars knocked with the ladies over some furniture in the oom and demanded what money they had a the house. One of the ladies rang the ell twice, when one of the burglars pre utsng a pistol, threatend to shoot her, she gave any further alarm, and still rgod them to give up whatever money they had in the house, and their gold watches. Mrs. McInnes handed horsgold watch to the burglars and $26 in money. The robbers then made their escape. The only male person in tho house was a young lad about fifteen years of age, who on hearing the second alarm, rose and lighting a lamp took his revolver and hastened to ascertain the cause of alarm. He arrived just in time to see the burglars leaving the house. Information of what had transpired was speedily communicated to the nerrest neighbors, who at once sent the information to the police office. Some of the constables proceeded to the spot, and reported the matter to Chief McMenemy, who put the detectives to work at once. They have strong hopes of securing the arrest of the burglars. Two parties were arrested on suspicion, one of whom, has been identified as having been a party to the burglary at Wilson's.
