

PRINCE CONFERS FOUR KNIGHTHOODS

TERCENTENARY HONORS FOR CANADIANS

Full Glory of Celebrations Dawns on Quebec—Yesterday's Impressive Scenes.

Quebec, July 24.—The full glory of the tercentenary carnival was yesterday unveiled to the citizens of Quebec and the fifty thousand visitors gathered here, and the effect was absolutely dazzling. From early morning until late at night the quaint old streets were a blaze of color, resounding with the march of troops and parade of the pageant performers in their medieval costumes which were perfectly natural in the centuries-old streets.

The Prince of Wales early yesterday afternoon bestowed a number of decorations at a special investiture held at the Citadel. The royal honors include four knighthoods and a number of lesser distinctions to those who took leading parts in the arrangements for the tercentenary. His Excellency Earl Grey is made a grand master of the Victorian Order, while Col. Hanbury Williams becomes Col. Sir John Hanbury Williams, K. C. V. O.

The premier of Quebec, Lomer Gouin, Premier Whitney, of Ontario, and Mayor Garneau, of Quebec, receive knighthoods. Sir George Drummond, Byron E. Walker and Hon. Adela Turgeon get the C. V. O., while Col. Percy Sherwood, Joseph Pope and Col. Alex. Roy are made members of the Victorian Order.

City Clerk Chouinard, of Quebec, who originated the tercentenary idea in a newspaper article, was made a Commander of St. Michael and St. George.

Not a single incident occurred to mar the series of remarkable spectacles which lasted from early morning till midnight. Throughout the day the weather was superb, there being just enough clouds to temper the sun without detracting from the kaleidoscopic movements of the troops, the officials and the crowds.

It was a busy day for everybody, but especially for the Prince of Wales. Early in the morning His Royal Highness left the citadel in an automobile to pay a series of calls to the vessels of the three fleets. Few expected to see the Prince out so early and he drew to the King's wharf almost unobserved, so that it was not until the guns of the battlements thundered their salute that the people knew the Prince was aboard.

Returning to the citadel, he held court to present honors from the King. The great event of the day, however, was the formal welcome of the Prince by Mayor Garneau, which was a gorgeous state ceremony. The reception took place at the foot of the magnificent statue of Champlain on Dufferin Terrace, which formed a natural scene for such a function as could not be surpassed. All the distinguished people who are visiting Quebec were given seats on two stands in V shape on either side of the dais, and the seats were crowded.

Representatives of the British army and navy, legislatures and every office of church and state, who were there in full uniform. The crowd fairly shone with gold lace and bright uniforms, while ladies and civilians in frock coats and silk hats to make a background.

The address of welcome was presented by Mayor Garneau, after which addresses were delivered by the Mayor of Brouage, the birthplace of Champlain, Vice-President Fairbanks, for the United States; Adm. Jauriguerby, on behalf of France, and by Hon. Adela Turgeon, for Canada. A message of thanks was also read from the King.

Hon. Adela Turgeon, who by special request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, spoke on behalf of the Dominion of Canada, delivered a brilliant oration. It was devoted to the French Canadians' love of their native land, to a review of their past and to optimistic forecast of the future, and closed with exordium dealing with the new era of peace and beauty of the Dominion.

The Prince of Wales made a charming speech in reply and formally declared the celebration officially open. Last night a state dinner was given by the Governor-General in honor of the Prince.

There was an illumination of the feet last night and the most wonderful fireworks display ever seen in Canada was given on the Heights of Le Cap. In welcoming the Prince on behalf of the Dominion of Canada Sir Wilfrid Laurier said in part, that Canadians were deeply sensible of the honor which His Royal Highness had done them in making a special visit for the purpose of gracing this glad occasion of the tercentenary celebration.

"We rejoice," he said, "to welcome Your Royal Highness, representative of our beloved sovereign, whose never failing interest in all that pertains to the welfare of this country, has had no small share in stimulating those feelings of devoted attachment towards His Majesty's Dominion and government which animate His Majesty's Canadian subjects from one end of the Dominion to the other."

"We much regret that circumstances did not permit us to have greeted Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, whose graceful and winning personality has endeared her to all Canadians."

Quebec, July 24.—A happy passage in Mayor Garneau's address to the Prince yesterday was this: "During the most festive of the time of Champlain few people of the colony assembled around their leader, were accustomed to crown their felicitous with the royal cry, 'Vive le Roi'."

"To-day three centuries later the citizens of Quebec, and the whole Canadian people, faithful to their new allegiance, as were our forefathers in the past, welcome your Royal Highness with heartfelt acclaim 'God

Save the King. God bless the Prince of Wales."

The Prince aroused great enthusiasm by replying in French, and by later thanking the representatives of France and the United States, saying: "Your attendance is not merely an indication of interest in the proceedings attending the celebration of tercentenary. It is an outward and visible sign of friendship, concord, and good will, between ourselves and the two great countries which you represent with so much distinction. We think today of the United States as having given an example of energy and courage in conquering and cultivating forests and mining which now yield harvests and limitless wealth. We think of France as the giver of the man whose greatest deed we are here to celebrate, one of the heroes who found his way from the old world to the new, and left an imperishable name."

"We recognize that the presence of representatives of France and of the States among us testifies to the growth of a spirit of friendship between nations. On that spirit the progress of humanity largely depends. I hope and believe, true progress will impress itself more and more during the years to come. High ideals of universal peace and brotherhood must be far from realization, but every act that promotes harmony among nations, points the way toward this attainment."

"This celebration, which is an act, it appeals to Canada, to the British Empire, and to the whole world. I therefore rejoice to be here to take my part with you during these memorable days in paying homage to Champlain and doing honor to Quebec."

Lord Strathcona's prize, as expected, went to Sergt. Morris, with the fine aggregate of 330. Lieut. Spittal being seven points behind him. Both of these scores are very good and would place Morris and Spittal high in the grand aggregate matches except the Daily Telegraph cup in which he finished just outside the money.

The Canadian garden party took place yesterday and was favored with fine weather. About three hundred were present. The pavilion was finely decorated. Col. Labell, was assisted by Mrs. Donald MacMaster in receiving guests.

AWFUL NIGHT AT GETTYSBURG

SOLDIERS STRUCK DEAD BY LIGHTNING.

Camp of National Guard Swept by Terrific Electrical and Wind Storm.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 24.—An all night search throughout Camp Hayes where the 10,000 men of the National Guard of Pennsylvania have been camped for a week and which was visited last night by a terrific electrical and wind storm shows that three soldiers were struck dead by lightning, and nearly a half hundred other persons were injured.

It was probably the wildest night the battleground has experienced since the memorable July days of 1863. Those killed were Corporal S. Milton Garver, Co. C, 10th regiment, Uniontown; Jas. A. Parr, Co. K, 10th regiment, Waynesburg; Private Clyde Morrison, Co. D, 16th regiment.

The dead were members of the second brigade composed of regiments from the western part of the state. Most of the storm occurred in the section of the field occupied by that brigade. The cots of the hospital are filled with the injured, some of whom are women and children, who had been visiting the camp.

The tent that Governor Stuart had been occupying during the week's encampment was blown down by the terrific wind, and the governor and those who were his guests at the time were hurried to the hospital. They were all thrown to the ground by the falling canvas but managed to crawl out into the open. The three guardsmen, who lost their lives, were killed in different places. They were well known to the governor, who was with him when he was enveloped in a blue flame, following a terrific crash, and fell dead. The other soldier, Paul Neil, was only stunned. In the case of each of those killed, the new army puttees, furnished just before the men went into camp, were torn from their legs, the steel ribbing being exposed. Some of the officers believe the steel attracted the lightning.

The storm which had been brewing all evening broke suddenly. The wind blew with almost cyclonic force, the rain came down in torrents, and the lightning was the severest seen here in years.

RACE WAR ON IN LOUISIANA

NATALBANY DIVIDED INTO RIVAL CAMPS

Trouble Is Outcome of Rough Spirit Among Lumber Mill Employees.

Natalbany, La., July 23.—Daylight found this town divided into two armed camps with race hatred strained to a dangerous pitch. During last night preparations had been made for a race war of large proportions, but the passage of the night without actual fighting seemed to have averted further danger.

One of the hostile camps, consisting of Italians and other foreigners are gathered beside blazing fires on the outskirts of the town and are said to number, including the men, their wives and children, about 500 persons. All day yesterday these foreigners gathered in the camp after moving out of their homes in the town and are said to be the fear of reprisals by Americans for the wounding of Walter Simmons on Tuesday, and the subsequent shooting of Americans and Italians yesterday. Some of the foreigners claim to have been warned to leave this section of the country. The opposing camp was made up of about seventy-five residents of Natalbany under the command of Sheriff Sam. The town and ordered every available man to be ready to fight. At intervals the scouts approached the foreigners' campfires and reported that excited men were holding continuous debates.

Early last night an Italian came into town and said that the men at his countrymen's camp intended to attack and wipe out the town before morning. The sheriff sent out scouts, picked the town and ordered every available man to be ready to fight. At intervals the scouts approached the foreigners' campfires and reported that excited men were holding continuous debates.

Natalbany is a lumber mill town and the race trouble is in part the outgrowth of the rough spirit among mill employees which has resulted in an exodus of foreigners from the lumber communities in other parts of the state during the year. The authorities here believe they have the situation under control and that any Americans who have threatened to harm the Italians will be forced to keep the peace, allowing the foreigners to return peacefully to their homes. Blind fear on the part of the foreigners is responsible for the situation.

Last night Jos. Anselone and Vincenzo Lueto, who claimed to be innocent of wrongdoing, fired upon a sheriff's posse and were wounded when they refused to allow their houses to be searched for Italians accused of attempting to murder Walter Simmons, who interfered in a fist fight between Americans and Italians some days ago.

He was shot by the sheriff's posse and taken to New Orleans to a hospital where he died yesterday. The wounded Italians, who are not dangerously hurt, are under treatment at New Orleans.

REALTY JUDGMENT.

Agent Who Introduces Buyer is Entitled to Commission.

Vancouver, July 23.—The agent who introduces the buyer is entitled to the commission, even though the buyer later goes to a rival agent, who puts through the deal.

The county court has so decided in the suit of A. B. Alty against Gillespie & Binnie, builders, awarding the plaintiff judgment for $225 commission on the sale of a house in Grandview to G. W. Urquhart, of Powell Lake, B. C. Mr. Urquhart had, according to the evidence, clipped Mr. Alty's advertisement in the Province and had sent it to a friend in Vancouver to get further information and inspect the house. Mr. Urquhart then visited the office, approved the house, but by mistake, got into the wrong real estate office where, strangely enough, the same house was listed.

This agent received a $25 deposit and got the owners to endorse the sale. Although Mr. Urquhart discovered his error, explained to the owners, the deal was allowed to go through with the rival agents. But the court holds that Mr. Alty is entitled to the commission.
